TRICK ON HOSIERY PLAN OF ALDRICH?

Belief Grows in Washington That Conference Committee Will Restore High Tariff Rates.

WOMEN MUST FIGHT ON.

Quiet of Manufacturers Gives Cause to Fear They Have Been Pledged Aid in Extortion.

BY RAYMOND.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—[Special.]—There is a growing belief in the senate, which unfortunately is shared in generally by the Aldrich senators, the Republican insurgent senators, and the supposedly Democratic senators, that the women of the country, after having won a splendid victory, are to be tricked by a familiar device which has been worn so threadbare that none but shameless politicians would resort to it.

In other words, cotton hosiery, particularly for women and children, probably will be taxed more than it is today and the same thing is quite likely to be done with gloves.

When the house of representatives undertook to defy the women and impose unexpectedly high rates far beyond the present law on these articles there was an immediate outcry all over the country. The house leaders refused to recognize it and went so far as to inflict a needlessly brutal snub upon the women who were petitioning for protection of their household expenditures.

The house committee on ways and means listened only to the manufacturers and increased these rates because of the mistaken idea that the women had no political influence and could not make themselves felt in dismissing the unworthy representatives of the people.

Senate Action Under Suspicion.

This was the status of the hosiery and glove schedules when the bill reached the senate committee on finance. That committee, to the delight of the women, threw down the house figures and restored the Dingley rates, so as to leave the law as it now stands. The people who were intimately acquainted with the devious devices of Mr. Aldrich and the manufacturers he looks after so carefully were at first astonished and then became suspicious.

Mr. Aldrich started in by telling the president and everybody else that it never would do to interfere with the textile schedules. That was one of the reasons he gave for cutting out the increase made by the house so unwisely. In the face of that declaration he recast the silk schedule entirely and changed any number of items in the cotton paragraph.

At first he was believed when he said this was done merely to prevent undervaluation. Senator Dolliver and others showed there was a general increase in the basic rates of duty in the cotton schedule. Why other things should be advanced and not hosiery was a mystery the solution of which was known only to Mr. Aldrich. Last night the hosiery schedule was adopted by the senate without the necessity of a formal vote.

Trick Seen by Knowing.

On the surface this looks like business. The average man or woman would say the senate was disgusted with the house and had refused to accept Mr. Payne's extraordinary advance in the rate on the commonest articles of wear by women and children, because these advances were all related to the cheap grades such as are worn only by the poorer or middle class in this country.

The same verdict was not reached by those who were familiar with the congressional tactics as they are taught in Mr. Aldrich's school of finance. He knows a thing or two, does Mr. Aldrich. He learned long ago the statesman's trick of stilling opposition until it is too late, when the criticism of some particular action is swallowed up in the success of the whole.

Ask any well informed senator in Washington today as to what is to be done about hosiery and he will tell you that a hard and fast arrangement has been made by which, when the bill goes before the conference committee, the senate will make a pretense of a fight on hosiery and gloves and then yield on one or both of them, probably both, to the statesmen from the other end of the capitol.

Last Hope Lies with Taft.

If they resort to this trick, which has been played so often that it is to be suspected, the only person who can prevent an increase in the price of low grade stockings and possibly gloves will be William Howard Taft, president of the United States. Even he will be powerless to prevent it except by vetoing the whole tariff bill, and he might not be willing to do that for the sake of one paragraph.

There is a danger and it is real and present. If the women of the country are in earnest in protesting against the increase in the cost of their stockings and gloves they will get busy, because there is every reason to believe that the surrender of the senate to their demands in the first place was entirely fictitious.

There is a suspicious absence of clamor on the part of the manufacturers of stockings and gloves. They are sending no more arguments here to be printed, and their representatives no longer haunt the corridors of the capitol. Those who are versed in legislative ways know what that means. It means nothing more or less than that the hosiery and glove manufacturers have been advised to keep out of the fight for the present so as to lull their victims to sleep and keep them quiet while they are being tricked.

Women Must Keep Up Fight.

It may be that Mr. Aldrich has voluntarily increased the rates on other important paragraphs of the cotton schedule and that he is going to let the rates on hosiery alone, but it will be better to wait until the conference adjourns before the people adhere firmly to any such belief.

As I have said, it is time for the women to get busy once more. As individuals and as clubs they should bombard systematically every senator and representative and warn them that they will be held responsible if the Payne figures are allowed to creep into the finished tariff bill.

Both senators and representatives will attempt to evade the responsibility. They can if they choose force a separate vote on this paragraph, and this particularly is true of the senate. Mr. Cullom and Mr. Lorimer, from Illinois, either or both of them, can block the adoption of any conference report

AFFINITY JILTED; MURDER, SUICIDE

Boy Abandoned by Woman He Had Taken from Husband Finds Her and a Double Tragedy Follows.

KILLS VICTIM ON SIGHT.

Young Man Pauses in His Flight from Englewood Apartment House and Shoots Himself.

Mrs. Sarah Eisner was shot to death in the doorway of her flat at 453 West Sixtieth street last night by Jacob Grofshopf, 19 years old, who is said to have been her "affinity" until recently. After shooting Mrs. Eisner Grofshopf killed himself.

The woman, who was 28 years old, left her husband early in the year, going to the Southern hotel, 417 West Sixtieth street, and engaging a room next to one which was taken by Grofshopf. They represented themselves there as brother and sister.

About a month ago Mrs. Eisner met another man, and for him the police are now looking. It is said she dismissed Grofshopf and left the hotel to take the flat, which had been fitted up in West Sixtieth street by the stranger.

This stranger called at the apartment in the afternoon, but Mrs. Eisner was not in. About 8 o'clock in the evening Grofshopf appeared.

Murderer Fires on Sight.

Mrs. E. G. Smith, who lives in the flat above, had gone to the Eisner apartments and was standing in the doorway with Mrs. Eisner and the latter's 10 year old daughter, Clarice, discussing the advisability of complaining to the landlord about the poor lights in the hall.

Grofshopf ascended the stairs and asked if a Mrs. Carpenter lived in the building. Mrs. Eisner formerly had been married to a man named Carpenter and she answered the question, telling the youth she had been known by that name. He stepped forward into the dim light and she recognized him.

"Now, I don't walk to talk to you," she said.

"O, don't you?" replied Grofshopf.

With that he drew a revolver and fired twice. One bullet struck Mrs. Eisner in the left side near the heart. Mrs. Smith caught her as she fell and carried her into a bedroom. She heard two more pistol shots and ran into the hall.

Flees, Pauses, Shoots Himself.

Grofshopf had fled to the front entrance of the building and there had fired two bullets into his head. One entered in front of the right ear and the other penetrated to the brain, causing instant death.

Mrs. Smith summoned the police of the Englewood station, who turned in a call for an ambulance. Still alive, Mrs. Eisner was hurried to the St. Bernard hospital, where she died about 9:30 o'clock.

Grofshopf's body was taken to Lahyon's undertaking rooms at 517 West Sixty-third street.

The police immediately began an investigation. First, they questioned Mrs. Smith. Having heard her story and that of the girl, Clarice, they went to the Southern hotel. The management knew little about either Mrs. Eisner or Grofshopf, beyond that they had said they were brother and sister, taking rooms temporarily. They said Mrs. Eisner had left the hotel a month ago.

Husband Tells of Quarrel.

Then John Eisner, who lives at Sixty-second street and Wentworth avenue, was found and informed of his wife's death.

"Grofshopf lived with his parents at 6436 Yale avenue," said Eisner. "My wife and I had rooms there and I suppose that is when she and Grofshopf became acquainted.

"My wife became noticeably attached to Grofshopf and we quarreled about it. She left me and I understand went to work in a department store downtown as a dressmaker. After that I heard she had gone to the Southern hotel. I don't know much about what happened then. My efforts to bring about a reconciliation had failed."

It seems that while Mrs. Eisner and Grofshopf were living at the hotel, she became acquainted with another man. No one apparently knows his identity.

Vengeful Affinity Begins Hunt.

Shortly afterward, it is said, Mrs. Eisner sent Grofshopf away and left the hotel. The police were unable to learn where she spent the next three weeks, but a week ago she took the flat at 453 West Sixtieth street. It is believed the young man had been hunting for Mrs. Eisner ever since she left the hotel and had learned her new address in some manner not yet apparent.

It further is thought he went to the flat determined either to persuade the woman to return to him, or to kill her. Indications are that he did not intend to kill himself, but that the decision to take his own life was made suddenly and in the stress of fright.

The police had a theory that Grofshopf learned Eisner was seeking a reconciliation, and that it partly had been accomplished, and sought to prevent it by desperate measures. Eisner, however, promptly disposed of this idea, denying that an arrangement had been effected whereby he and his wife were to have been reunited.

Member of "Culture Club."

Among her papers was a membership card and a slip bearing the name, "New Century Culture Club." This was found in a dresser drawer and indicated that Mrs. Eisner was a member of the organization and had paid her dues to the end of this month.

Her daughter, Clarice, was taken by neighbors to the residence of her grandmother, Mrs. Carpenter, 405 West Forty-sixth street. She is suffering from shock and cannot throw much light on the affair.

ETHICS IGNORED BY TWAIN?

Use of Article Without Writer's Name Cause of Trouble.

HOT LETTERS ARE RESULT.

Publication of Book Probably Will Be Stopped in England.

New York, June 8.—[Special.]—Mark Twain went to the office of his publishers, Harper & Bros., in Pearl street, one day last spring and left some manuscript, asking that it be put into book form and published right away.

"It's a part of my autobiography," explained the author, "but I thought I'd like to have it put in covers and printed now."

The publishers hurried matters and it was not long before the manuscript assumed the form of Twain's latest book, "Is Shakspeare Dead?" The book, in a green cover, was put on the market in April.

The author admits he incorporated in the book a larger part of a chapter from a volume called "The Shakspeare Problem Restated," written by George M. Greenwood, M. P., of London. It takes up twenty-two of the 150 pages in Mark Twain's book.

The humorist mentioned Mr. Greenwood's book in his own work, but neglected to mention Mr. Greenwood's name. Because of this oversight there has arisen a bristling little controversy.

Mr. Greenwood's publishers, The John Lane Co. of London, with offices in West Thirty-second street, this city, have sent word to Harper & Bros. that they will not permit Mark Twain's book to be circulated in England until the plates are altered, giving Mr. Greenwood the credit that they maintain should go to him. They have no power to prevent the sale here.

Cause of the Difference.

In his Shakspeare book Mark Twain puts forth the argument that Shakspeare could not have written the plays ascribed to him because the author must have been a lawyer. He arrives at this conclusion because, as he says, of the "peculiar freedom and exactness of legal phraseology" that, he finds, occurs frequently in Shakspeare's plays. There is nothing, he holds, to show that Shakspeare knew anything of law.

Mark Twain reprints the chapter from Mr. Greenwood's book to bear out this theory, and it is this appropriation without using Mr. Greenwood's name that has caused the member of parliament, through his publishers, to protest.

In Mr. Greenwood's book the chapter in question, entitled "Shakspeare as a Lawyer," is the thirteenth, while Twain uses it without change in his own book, with the same caption, as the eighth chapter. At the bottom of the page on which the chapter starts there is the simple announcement: "From chapter 13 of "The Shakspeare Problem Restated."

Action Is Called Unethical.

Mr. Greenwood's publishers have written several letters to Harper & Bros., in one of which they insist that for Mark Twain to ignore Mr. Greenwood was "a violation of all codes"—in other words, unethical.

What John Lane, head of the English publishing house, thinks of the situation, is explained in this letter, sent from his office in London, over which he placed the caption, "Literary Larceny." In this letter he says:

"Mr. Clemens is a humorist with a world-wide reputation. He can view a burglary at his own house with a Socratic detachment of unconcern sufficient in itself to discourage the American Bill Sykes; he can pin on his door or gate (I forget which) a notice giving directions to the cracksman as to the whereabouts of the plate basket. I can do none of these things; they are foreign to my nature. I am not a humorist. I confess it frankly and I fail to see the point of this—Mark Twain's latest joke. Good taste sometimes limits the boundaries of humorous perception in this country.

Remarks Made by Greenwood.

"Mr. Greenwood dryly remarked, when he heard the compliment paid him: 'Mr. Clemens may urge that he would not be one that "flicks from me my good name."'

"But why not show a like consideration for my feelings as the publisher? That there should be a class of American publishers addicted to the admirable pursuits of one of their national heroes we have become accustomed if not reconciled to; but that a distinguished man of letters should follow the lead fills me with pained surprise. Had Mr. Greenwood or I been applied to we should have been proud to accord our permission."

When inquiry was made at the offices of Harper & Bros. today one of those in authority made this explanation:

"Mr. Twain was in a great hurry to have the book printed. There is a rule in this office that none of Mark Twain's copy shall be changed—not even a comma. He always is particular about that and his wishes are respected. So the manuscript exactly as he gave it to us, with the title 'Is Shakspeare Dead?' was put into book form as quickly as we could do it. No one thought of looking particularly to see if Mr. Twain had given credit to Mr. Greenwood. It was noticed that the book itself was credited, and that seemed sufficient.

Find Oversight Too Late.

"Later on, when the John Lane company called our attention to it, we learned that Mark Twain had failed to speak of Mr. Greenwood. We felt sorry about it then, but it was too late to recall the edition. We don't put the blame on Mark Twain exactly. Of course, if we had noticed the omission, we would have called his atention to it. It is possible it escaped his notice, as it did ours. He didn't mean to be unethical."

The correspondence between Harper & Bros. and John Lane company shows that the Harpers asked permission to use extracts from Greenwood's book, and said it would be a good "ad" for him. The John Lane company, through its manager, Rutger Bleecker Jewett, replied to this letter giving permission to Mark Twain to quote from Mr. Greenwood's book as much as he pleased, but it was in Mr. Jewett's mind, he said today, that Mark Twain would not neglect to mention Mr. Greenwood's name.

GEORGE ADE CHOSEN TRUSTEE OF HIS ALMA MATER, PURDUE.

Will Be Member of Board as Soon as a Vacancy Occurs—Honor Not Sought, but Is Thrust Upon Him.

Lafayette, Ind., June 8.—[Special.]—George Ade was honored today by election as a trustee of Purdue university, which office he will fill as soon as a vacancy occurs on the present board. The Alumni association made the selection and under a law passed by the last Indiana legislature Gov. Marshall will appoint Mr. Ade as the next trustee.

Mr. Ade was present when the choice was made and was dragged from the crowd of several hundred old graduates, back for the annual alumni reunion, and was forced to acknowledge the honor. He responded, saying he had not asked for the election, and that he did not want it. He said:

"I laid back my ears last night when told I was a candidate, and said I would not do it, but some of the larger and more powerful alumni choked me into submission."

Mr. Ade promised to advance Purdue's interests at all times. He has been loyal to his alma mater, subscribing liberally to the memorial gymnasium fund, writing "The Fair Coed," for the Purdue Harlequin club, and coming back each year to attend alumni reunions. He graduated from Purdue in '87.

John T. McCutcheon, Purdue, '89, the famous cartoonist, received a warm greeting at the class reunion today.

FRAUD IN DIVORCE OF GUGGENHEIMS?

Charges Filed in Chicago Years After Separation of "Seventh Brother" and First Wife.

HONORE STARTS INQUIRY.

Former Judge Dunne Shows Affidavits Alleging Collusion and Suit Without Legal Residence.

Sensational affidavits made by former Judge Edward E. F. Dunne and others charging that a fraud was perpetrated on the court when Grace B. Guggenheim obtained a divorce from William Guggenheim, youngest of the seven rich Guggenheim brothers of smelter fame, have caused Judge Honoré to issue a rule to show cause on both Mr. and Mrs. Guggenheim, who are at present residing in New York.

The names of two prominent Chicago attorneys, Eli B. Felsenthal of Felsenthal & Foreman, and Jacob Newman are brought into the case through these affidavits, as having represented the complainant and defendant in the proceedings here, and ex-Judge Dunne affirms that when he granted the decree of divorce, allowing Mrs. Guggenheim $150,000 alimony, he did so because it was represented to him that she was a legal resident of Chicago.

Fraud and Conspiracy.

"This decree was obtained through fraud and conspiracy," declares former Judge Dunne in his affidavit, "as at the time both were residents of New York, but the complainant was induced to come to Chicago to begin suit for divorce."

"I have refused to have anything to do with the case further than to file the affidavits," said Mr. Dunne last night. "I accepted a commission to file these affidavits and have suggested to Judge Honoré that he appoint some well known and reputable Chicago attorney to represent the 'conscience of the court,' and to see whether any one ought to be punished for the fraud that was perpetrated."

Complications in Remarriages.

The alleged divorce was granted eight years ago, and since then William Guggenheim has married and has become the father of several children, while Mrs. Guggenheim married shortly afterwards Jules Roger Wahl, who soon after their marriage obtained an annulment in Paris on the ground that the Chicago divorce was illegal. Mrs. Guggenheim is now seeking an absolute divorce from Guggenheim, having recently filed a suit in New York for that purpose, and naming his present wife, Aimee Steinberg Guggenheim, as co-respondent.

The story of how the alleged fraud was perpetrated is told in an affidavit signed by Mrs. Guggenheim in which she states that she "quietly" married William Guggenheim at Hoboken in November, 1900. She also declares she was married once before that to William C. Herbert, a naval officer, who obtained a divorce on the ground of desertion, and once afterwards to Wahl. She says that Guggenheim was anxious to keep the marriage a secret from his family, on account of the difference in their religions, she being Christian and Guggenheim's family being orthodox Jews. Therefore she lived at the Manhattan hotel in New York.

Charges Husband Fled.

"On New Year's eve (1901) the defendant left me, saying he had decided never to return," she avers. "The defendant left me as he said he would and went to Europe with his brother and his brother's wife instead of with me as his wife as he had planned to do.

"Finally after I had made every effort to effect a reconciliation, and these efforts had failed, I began to feel my pride would not permit me to run after him. It was suggested that our difficulties be placed in the hands of our respective attorneys to arrange matters to my satisfaction. Mr. Samuel Untermyer was attorney for the defendant, while Mr. Louis Werner represented me. I did not know then that Mr. Werner was a friend of the defendant and on terms of close friendship with his attorney."

Continuing with her affidavit she states that when she refused to go to South Dakota and take up residence there she was told she would have to come to Chicago, but only on one or two occasions, and that "a valid decree of divorce could be secured." She says she arrived here on Feb. 14, 1901, accompanied by a friend and that Attorney Werner took her to the offices of Felsenthal & Foreman and told her that this firm would represent her.

Calls It Divorce by Collusion.

Her affidavit then goes on to state that unbeknown to her Guggenheim was brought here, and she was told it was for the purpose of compromising himself in order to lend additional weight to the decree. She declares that she returned to New York the latter part of February, but returned to Chicago about a month later when the case was heard, and a decree for absolute divorce was given her by Judge Dunne.

"I respectfully submit," she says, "that one who has been guilty of the offenses herein described against the public policy of the state of Illinois and one who has trifled with the dignity of this court in participating in such a collusive divorce is entitled to no consideration at the hands of the court nor can he successfully seek shelter behind the said Aimee Lillian Steinberger (the present Mrs. Guggenheim) and behind the issue of his marriage to her in his effort to avoid the consequences of his improper conduct."

Dunne Sees Fraud on Courts.

Former Judge Dunne states in his affidavit that: "Ignorant of the statutes of Illinois she (Mrs. Grace B. Guggenheim) came here in 1901 and registered at one of the hotels where she remained for a few days. She then returned to New York and later again visited Chicago. In the meantime the defendant had been notified to come here and give grounds for a divorce. A bill for divorce then was filed, and the court, believing he had jurisdiction of the parties, heard the testimony and granted the decree."

"It was a pure case of fraud upon the courts," said former Judge Dunne in the evening. "After this woman was brought here Guggenheim, who was in Europe, was cabled for and came here and compromised himself with witnesses present so as to give her grounds. Neither of them had any residence here, and were only in the city a few days."

When asked to give his version of the case in the evening Attorney Newman, who represented Mr. Guggenheim, said:

"This woman wrote to Untermyer, the

PLAY ST. LOUIS? COUNCIL VETO

Blackball Vote Greets "Baseball for Charity" Challenge.

ALDERMANIC SCORN RISES.

Burns Says 1908 Benefit Was a "Steal" by Rival Assembly.

All of the resentment and indignation harbored in the breasts of Chicago aldermen since their baseball games with the aldermen of St. Louis last year was released at the council meeting last evening when the other city challenged the local aldermanic body to two contests for charity this summer.

Ald. John Burns of the Thirtieth ward was the first to give voice to the general sentiment.

"I have information that at the last game played for charity by Chicago aldermen with the St. Louis aldermen," he said, "the aldermen from St. Louis put the proceeds in their own pockets. I move the communication be placed on file."

Silent satisfaction was evident, but Ald. Bernard W. Snow did not hesitate to appear in the rôle of a diplomat.

Courteously Sent to Death.

"I believe," said Ald. Snow, "that we can handle this matter in a more courteous manner, as is due a sister city. As a substitute for Ald. Burns' motion I move that the invitation be referred to a committee of three."

By a viva voce vote amid laughter the substitute motion was carried, and Mayor Busse appointed Ald. Zimmer, Egan, and Bowler, who suffered at the hands of St. Louis last year.

There was another provision that aroused bitter comment after adjournment. It read: "It is expressly stated and agreed that no one take part in said games on the behalf of the city of St. Louis except the members of the house of delegates and the entire nine shall be recruited from the list of twenty-eight members of the house as now constituted, to the end that no ringers be employed."

Tells of Last Year's Trick.

Ald. Fred A. Britten laughed at the provision.

"They thought they'd better put that in because of what they put over on us last year. They brought a bunch of college players up here and when we went down there they hired a professional pitcher."

Ald. Bowler's story of the game at St. Louis was still more bitter.

"We reached there in the morning," he said, "and a reception committee met us and took us out into the country for an automobile ride. In some unaccountable manner the machines broke down one after another and after we delayed an hour or so we were compelled to walk about two miles to catch a trolley. We reached the ball grounds fagged out."

Here Is St. Louis' Version.

In the meantime, dispatches from St. Louis give the Missouri city's version of the baseball games. Delegate Fred W. Priesmeyer, who had charge of the St. Louis house of delegates proceeds of the last baseball game, reported a surplus of $463.29 on the floor of the house, a few weeks after the game. On a vote of the members, the money was turned into the pure milk fund of a St. Louis newspaper.

"Them guys are nutty," said Fred W. Priesmeyer, former member of the house of delegates and manager of the ball team for the St. Louis aldermen. "When we played in Chicago, they told us the money would be turned over to the Boys' home. We never bothered our noodles about who got their charity money. When Chicago was here for the first game, we turned the money over to charity, and the bunch that says we got away with any of it are apt to get hit."

New York attorney for Guggenheim, a short time ago and said that if she was not paid $100,000 she would make these affidavits.

"Now, I'll tell you exactly my connection with the case. William Guggenheim came to me with a letter of introduction from Mr. Untermyer of the law firm of Guggenheim, Untermyer & Marshall, a reputable New York firm, and he asked me to represent him in the divorce proceedings for the sole purpose of seeing that his wife did not get more than a certain sum of money as alimony. I appeared in court for that purpose only and did not question the witnesses at all.

"Guggenheim did not contest the case, he simply wanted to protect his interests, and Mr. Felsenthal was representing the defendant. Guggenheim was sitting in my office when the divorce proceedings were in progress. Since that time Guggenheim has married again and is living with his wife and their children in New York. Six months ago this woman brought suit in New York to annul the proceedings and to obtain an absolute divorce, but the case was thrown out of court. She wants money and demanded $100,000."

Ald. Foreman was asked if he remembered the case and his reply was:

"I don't know anything about it. She was not a personal client of mine, and I don't remember the case at all. If any one says that I had anything to do with it they are mistaken."

Efforts to locate Mr. Felsenthal were fruitless, for the reply to telephone calls during the evening was invariably, "Mr. Felsenthal will not be home this evening."

Friends Also Sign Affidavits.

Other affidavits in the case were made by Mary Treloar, the friend who accompanied Mrs. Guggenheim to Chicago on the occasion of her visit here when she came to make arrangements to bring the suit for divorce, and also by Dr. John Burke of New York and Jacob Miller, one of Mrs. Guggenheim's servants, and India Miller, a domestic.

Judge Honoré, in issuing the rule to show cause, directed it to Mrs. Guggenheim at 253 West Seventy-fifth street, New York, and William Guggenheim, 833 Fifth avenue, New York.

According to Samuel Untermyer, Mrs. Guggenheim was formerly a Chicago girl named Grace Brown, but that she moved to New York and lived in luxurious style at the Waldorf-Astoria at the expense of a wealthy man. According to him William Guggenheim met her there and was induced to marry her, and it is said that after she came to Chicago he followed her here, and that she created a scene at the Wellington hotel by chasing him through the dining room and lobby.

GOLDMAN, "VICTIM OF POLICE," MAKES ADDRESS IN STABLE.

East Orange Refuses Public Hearing to Her, but Remarks Turn Out to Be Mild.

New York, June 8.—[Special.]—A pleasant time again has been had by Emma Goldman. It was at East Orange, the time being this evening. Miss Goldman never is so happy as when she gets a chance to pose as the victim of police oppression. She got this chance at East Orange and in consequence thereof returned to New York in a highly contented state of mind.

The police would not let her talk in English's hall, so she went over to Alden Freeman's barn and told about Sudermann and Hauptmann, and Ibsen, and Brandes, and how their plays had disseminated radical thought. It was a talk that for the most part would have been delivered in a church.

It had been arranged that Miss Goldman should deliver a talk in English hall before the Open Forum, an organization largely composed of socialists. As soon as the announcement was made Mayor Cardwell and members of the city council became interested and orders went out to the cops that there should "be no show." There was none in the hall, but all went to the stable, where the speeches were given.

Miss Goldman said that the only real drama an American had ever produced was Eugene's Walter's "The Easiest Way." As a whole, her remarks were mild enough. Those who had come hoping for sepsation were lamentably disappointed and it wasn't long before many auditors departed, their places being taken by late comers.

LIMB GRAFTING IN SURGERY?

French Expert Tells of Experiments Made at the Rockefeller Institute.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, June 8.—Prof. Pozzi, the eminent French gynecologist, today described to the Academy of Medicine Dr. Carrel's experiments at the Rockefeller institute in transplanting organs and grafting limbs. He told of his success in grafting to a fox terrier the hind leg amputated from another fox terrier, and also of the grafting of dogs' paws.

He quoted Dr. Carrel as being unhesitatingly of the opinion that a man could be grafted with a limb amputated from another man, or from a corpse, or a person just killed by violence.

Dr. Carrel, however, was unwilling to draw hasty conclusions regarding the transfer of the organs of dumb animals to man. He had refused the requests of two patients to replace an arm and a kidney.

When a young man Soliston Beaubien became a horse dealer, dealing chiefly with the Ojibway and Blackhawk Indian tribes in Illinois and Wisconsin. Later he married Rose Dreissie of Aurora. After his father's death in 1881 he moved to De Kalb. He was a cousin of Alex Beaubien, the first white child born in Chicago, who died March 25, 1907.

BLACK HAND GANG RUN DOWN IN OHIO

Postoffice Inspectors Unearth Band Whose Operations Extend Over State.

NOTE PINNED TO A BOMB.

One Family Threatened with Death Unless $15,000 Is Paid; Explosion Wrecks Saloon.

Cincinnati, O., June 8.—In several arrests made in Columbus, Marion, and Dennison, O., today, local federal inspectors and detectives who worked with them in the case believe they have unearthed the biggest and best organized branch of the Blackhand in this country, Marion, O., being probably the head of the organization.

Chief Postoffice Inspector Charles Holmes of this city, who is in charge of the work resulting in the arrests so far made, says evidence has been secured showing that the gang operating from Marion and with lines reaching into a number of big cities of the country has fleeced different persons in this and other states out of thousands of dollars in the last few months by the application of Blackhand methods.

The arrests made today were those of Sam Lima and Joe Rizzo, at Marion; Antonio Vicario and A. Marfis, at Dennison.

Note Written on Paper Bag.

Detectives Crim and Kuhfers have been quietly working with the postoffice inspectors in tracing down the suspected men. The last Black Hand letter turned over to the police was received May 28 and was addressed to the "Fifteen Cent Lunchhouse, 510 Elm Street, City."

It was written on the back of a paper bag and the words were crudely formed in print. The proprietor of the lunch stand turned the letter over to the police. It read:

"You have got to mucha money. If you don't give us $500 in ten days, your life will be in danger, so beware. Black Hand. Put this money all in $100 bills and address to Z. M. Y., General Delivery, Cincinnati, O. Don't you say anything to the police or you'll be sorry. BLACK HAND."

Send $1,900 Fund to Italy.

Inspector Holmes says that the gang which conducted its operations from Marion was composed of Italians and worked exclusively upon their countrymen. He has obtained evidence that as late as two weeks ago they sent from the Marion, O., postoffice money orders aggregating $1,900 to confederates in Italy.

It was on Jan. 1 last that the Amicons found at the door of their home in Columbus, O., a box containing dynamite and fuses, and tacked on the outside a "Black Hand" note demanding $15,000 and threatening death if money payment was not made. The money was to be paid at the "Black Hand" rendezvous in Pittsburg.

Acting in harmony with the government officers, the Pittsburg police recently raided the "Black Hand" headquarters there and made twenty-one arrests.

The "Black Hand" gang recently ordered Fred Cianciolo, a Cincinnati fruit dealer, to give up $10,000 on penalty of death for himself and family if he refused.

Family Unhurt; Bar Wrecked.

Cianciolo gave no thought to the letters, and a few nights later a dynamite bomb was exploded in the doorway of his home. No one was injured, but an adjoining saloon was wrecked.

Joseph Annarino, also a local fruit dealer, was warned to give the Black Hand $10,000 or his child would be kidnaped.

The handwriting in the letter to John Amicon, demanding $15,000, is identical with that in the letters received by Antonio Rizzo, also a fruit dealer of Cincinnati, who died suddenly several weeks ago after refusing to obey the demand of a "Black Hand" letter to give up $1,000 or forfeit his life. He died soon after eating a banana given him by a stranger.

Marion Jail Closely Guarded.

Marion, O., June 8.—[Special.]—Several hundred Italians collected in the streets late tonight and authorities fear an attempt will be made to release the men under arrest.

The jail is closely guarded and the militia ready for immediate action. Detectives captured Joe Batella late tonight after an exciting chase. Later Sam Rizzo was also arrested.

It has been disclosed that Sam Rizzo and Batella were Lima's agents. They were attempting to leave town when captured. Interpreters interviewed the prisoners, but they refused to make statements.

Hundreds of Italians are employed here by the Erie railroad company, a large colony living in tents and shacks west of the city.

The victims of the society have not only been well-to-do Italian merchants in small cities but those employed on many of the railroads of the country are also said to have been made to pay heavy tribute.

Mere Boy Forced to Join.

Fairmont, W. Va., June 8.—With the council table piled with knives, revolvers, and other paraphernalia of an alleged Black Hand society, nineteen Italians, arrested two months ago in a raid, were placed on trial today before Judge Mason in the Circuit court.

Orazio Paraballi, 19 years old, whose initiation into the society caused the arrests, claims he was forced to join the organization under penalty of death and compelled to pay $25.

The boy identified nine of the nineteen prisoners as those who initiated him into the Black Hand organization, and said he knew the others as members of the society.

I. C. ROAD PAYS $563,000 MORE.

Total of $1,100,000 Turned Into the State Treasury During the Last Year.

Springfield, Ill., June 8.—The Illinois Central railroad company today paid into the state treasury $563,000, being 7 per cent of the gross proceeds, earnings, and receipts of the company on the 706 miles of its chartered road in Illinois for the six months ended on April 30, 1909. This makes more than $1,100,000 that the state has received from this road during the last year.

BISHOP HITS WOMAN'S VOTES

Dr. Doane Claims Sex Gains Nothing by Demanded Right.

BITTER SATIRE IS USED.

In Graduation Address Speaker Likens Appeal to "Dervish" Show.

Albany, N. Y., June 8.—[Special.]—Addressing the graduating class of St. Agnes' school today on the subject of "Womanhood," Bishop Doane had the following to say on the woman suffrage question:

"I cannot count it necessary, and perhaps it is not wise, for me to caution you against the loudly shrieked call to give women the right to vote and to be voted for.

"I am disposed to think that the quiet and decent appeal of a few of the so-called suffragists will be drowned in the sort of 'howling dervish' performance of the so-called suffragettes and they will fail of any effect.

"At any rate, the argument should be addressed rather to legislators than to you, except so far as one is justified in saying here to you that your womanhood will gain nothing by suffrage, and is losing every day in its dignity and its true influence by the hysterical clamor which is employed in the pursuit of this chimera.

Says "Protect Your Womanhood."

"Your womanhood is your especial gift of grace and honor and is equal to, but different from, the glory of manhood. Nothing but mischief and misery and confusion and worse than the confounded can come from an attempt to make the two the same. The masculine woman, the effeminate man, like a bearded woman or a long haired man, is a lusus naturae, a monstrum horrendum in form.

"So first you are to keep guard as a sacred trust of your womanhood, your femininess. In the stress, strain, crush, and pressure of our modern life, woman has elbowed herself into certain kinds of work in which she resembles and rivals man.

"How much humanity, how much society has gained by it, if employed women are to make unemployed men, it is difficult, if not impossible, to say. And yet I believe things will right themselves in time.

"Choose as Calling Befits You."

"Only whatever the point and place the meeting may be, in mental or manual labor, in professional or in any other, bear yourselves always with the decency and the dignity of true womanhood and choose, where the choice is left to you, the occupation and position that most fitly belongs to you as women, realizing and remembering that equal dignity must be attached to every duty done or every service rendered.

"I think the place for those women now pleading is with Mrs. Batlington Booth in the cells and corridors of jails rather than in a courtroom before a jury and judge. And I am absolutely sure the admission or intrusion of women into the ministry is not only against the teaching of scripture and tradition of centuries but is spoiling their great power for teaching and wielding an influence.

"Deep in the roots of nature the character of the cleavage in this difference lies. Guard it and honor it as a choice special gift to you of power, as an intimation of the indication to you of the lines by which you shape your lives."

TEXT BOOK PRICE FOR CHICAGO CUT

Ginn & Co.'s Bid for Current Year Reduced from 5 to 10 Cents on Each Copy.

SEQUEL OF BOARD FIGHT.

Manual Work of Students of Foster School to Be Placed on Exhibition Today.

Some results of the board of education's fight on the book trust were noticeable last night at a meeting of the text book committee, which received bids from publishers on school books for next year. A general reduction of from 5 to 10 cents a book to the pupil was registered in the bids. The bid of Ginn & Co. on four classes of books follows.

	New Pr.	Old Pr.
Collar & Daniels' First Year Latin Reader	$ .90	$0.95
Myer's Ancient History	1.40	1.50
Greenough & Kittredge's Virgil.	1.40	1.50
Goodwin's Greek Grammar	1.40	1.50

A similar reduction was made previously by the D. C. Heath company and it is expected other publishers will follow suit. Ginn & Co. were accused of selling Jones readers to the Chicago board of education at about twice what they asked Indiana schools for similar books.

Proof of Charges Too Weak.

The evidence to support this charge, however, lacked definiteness and the inquiry was abandoned for the time being. The matter came up in consequence of Trustee Wiley W. Mills' resolution to suspend use of the Jones readers pending the investigation.

Chairman Sonsteby said the readers were sold to the Chicago board in 1906 at prices ranging from 22 to 36 cents each, whereas Jones readers were offered to Indiana in 1904 at prices ranging from 10 to 40 cents. President Schneider said the books were different and that the books sold to Chicago were better. Trustee Urion brought out the admission that the Ginn contract was entered into by the Dunne board and that the present board is not responsible.

Chairman Sonsteby and Trustee Mills contended that the contract required Ginn & Co. to give a $100,000 bond to guarantee that it would reduce the price of the books if it should be established that the books had been offered elsewhere at lower rates.

Bond Will Be Examined.

President Schneider thought the bond was given merely for prompt delivery of the books. The bond will be produced and examined at the meeting of the committee next Tuesday night.

Further discussion of text book purchases was postponed until it is ascertained whether the governor signs the Ettelson-Hope bill fixing the maximum prices of school books.

One of the largest exhibitions of manual training work made in one Chicago public school in a single year will be held today at the Foster school, Union and O'Brien streets. It consists of handwork of pupils in the manual training courses. Robert M. Smith, supervisor of manual training, has obtained permission for the seventy manual training teachers employed in the schools to attend the exhibition.

The Audubon school, Cornelia and North Hoyne avenues, will have its annual "parents' day" tomorrow. Exhibits will be made on the walls and in the corridors to represent typical regular work in the classes.

DR. SIMMONS IS DEFENDED AT MEDICAL CONVENTION.

Members of Board of Trustees Say Attacks on Chicagoan Were "Malicious and Vindictive."

Atlantic City, N. J., June 8.—Efforts to show that Dr. George H. Simmons of Chicago had broken ethical rules of the American Medical association by advertising and other proscribed actions during his early career today were characterized as "malicious and vindictive attacks" by members of the board of trustees of the association before the house of delegates in secret session.

Dr. Simmons is the present secretary of the association and editor of the journal of the organization. The chief evidence in the case was contained in a pamphlet bearing the name of G. Frank Lydston of Chicago as author. Friends of Dr. Simmons claim the attacks are being made because of his crusade against patent nostrums which he refused permission to advertise in the official association organ. The final report on the matter, to be made tomorrow, is awaited with interest.

URGE VETO OF BOOK BILL.

Publishers' Representatives in Appeal to Gov. Deneen.

ETTELSON DEFENDS ACT.

Consideration of Chicago Revenue Measures Assured.

BY C. S. R.

Springfield, Ill., June 8.—[Special.]—School superintendents and representatives of book publishing companies united today in asking Gov. Deneen to veto the Ettelson school book bill, which fixes maximum prices for the sale of text books in this state.

The superintendents argued that the act would result in giving the schools nothing but antiquated and worthless school books and the publishers said the provisions of the measure were almost prohibitive.

Senator Ettelson, who introduced the bill, appeared for the bill and said it was too late for the publishers now to raise the objections which they make to the measure.

"They had plenty of opportunity when the bill was in the senate committee," he said, "and that was the time for them to present their arguments. Any reasonable demands which they might have made would have been considered. Nothing was heard from them then. They have waited until the bill is before the governor for his signature, and now they ask that it be vetoed because of certain of its provisions."

Bill Still with Attorney General.

The governor's answer to the arguments was that the measure still is in the hands of Attorney General Stead and that it cannot be given any consideration by him until the attorney general has made his report on it.

The county superintendents' association was represented in protest against the bill by C. U. Stone of Peoria, Charles A. Watts of Champaign, Charles McIntosh of Piatt, Fred Doden of Woodford, and J. H. Utzel of Madison county. City superintendents were represented by H. B. Wilson of Decatur, J. H. Miller of East St. Louis, L. H. Griffiths of Danville, W. W. Earnest of Champaign, and C. M. Bardwell of Aurora.

The other side of the opposition was composed of representatives of various firms, including Scott, Forsman & Co., Ginn & Co., Macmillan's, Rand, McNally & Co., and Charles Scribner's Sons.

It was the publishers' argument that not taking in account the prices established by the act, it practically prohibited the sale of satisfactory text books in Illinois by the provisions requiring the publishers to give cash bond in all the districts of the state, to enter into competitive bidding in each district, and to redeem the books in use in a district when successful in securing a contract.

Governor Signs Measures.

With this hearing out of the way the governor signed a number of bills, the most important being the house bill amending the law in regard to misrepresentation of assets and liabilities—a bill introduced as the result of the Booth failure.

It provides a penalty for the person who, as officer or agent of a corporation, misrepresents the assets of his firm and thereby obtains credit and defrauds any person of money. The old law provided a punishment—a fine of $2,000 or one year's imprisonment in the jail or both—for the person who obtained credit for himself by misrepresentation of assets or liabilities. The new act extends the provisions of the old law to reach the man who obtains credit for a firm or corporation.

Among other bills signed by the governor were the following:

Fixing the pay of court reporters at $8 a day.

Increasing the amount which may be allowed for the burial of indigent soldiers to $50.

Appropriating $15,000 for additional improvements at the Seventh regiment armory.

Appropriating $5,000 per annum to procure documents relating to the northwest and the state of Illinois.

The governor has been requested by representatives of the Chicago city administration to give a hearing on the bond and revenue bills, which are in Attorney General Stead's hands.

ACTION FOR CITY PLEASURE PIERS.

Mayor, at Council's Direction, Appoints Committee to Devise Ways and Means.

AFTER MORE DAYLIGHT.

Resolution Offered to Have Summer Work Begin at 8 A. M. and Close at 4 P. M.

Mayor Busse last evening, at the request of the city council, appointed a special committee of five aldermen to devise ways and means of building and financing a system of municipal recreation piers, bathing beaches, and pleasure boat landings.

Ald. Winfield P. Dunn, author of the resolutions the passage of which preceded the appointments, was named as chairman of the new committee. His associates will be Ald. Dever, Long, Foreman, and Egan. The five men have had under consideration for several days a plan they believe will result in the establishment of a system of municipal lake shore recreation places within the next year.

The subject of the lake front was brought up on two other occasions at the council meeting. One of them was a communication from Corporation Counsel Edward J. Brundage of the desire of Secretary of War Dickinson to observe the wishes of the city in all lake front matters; and the other resulted in what amounted to a vote of approval for the action of the legislature in granting the Illinois Steel company and the American Smelting company extensive riparian rights and submerged lands at South Chicago.

Ald. Herman J. Bauler presented to the council his "daylight" plan in the form of an ordinance establishing the working hours for the city employés as a period beginning at 8 a. m. and ending at 4 p. m. It was referred to the judiciary committee.

Automobile Deal Passed Over.

The question of the sale of the city automobiles, which had aroused much comment, as it had been found that the machines had been delivered to a bidder although the council had not approved the transaction, was not called up. It had been predicted that a severe attack would be made on the officials who had a hand in the deal, but lack of an opportunity kept all possible belligerents silent.

Ald. John J. Coughlin had passed an order directing the commissioner of public works to issue no permit to the Chicago Railways company for a third track in State street, between Madison and Polk street.

The resolutions for recreation spots on the lake shore introduced by Ald Dunn follow:

Resolved by the city council of the city of Chicago, That the mayor be and he is hereby requested to appoint a committee of five aldermen, representing each section of the city, who shall constitute a committee with full power to investigate the feasibility of establishing municipal pleasure piers, bathing beaches, and boat landings, and shall have the further power to cooperate with the various park boards having jurisdiction over a portion of the waters of Lake Michigan, to the end that a scheme may be developed for the establishment of such piers, beaches, and boat landings, with or without the coöperation of the park authorities; and, further, to devise ways and means of financing such proposition, and said committee shall report back to this council its findings and conclusions.

Plans for Bathing Beaches.

The aldermen by whose agreement it was said the resolutions were prepared—Dunn, Long, and Dever—were said to have under consideration a definite plan for financing the scheme outlined. They declined to discuss its details, but it was said it contemplates coöperation with the special park commission in obtaining from the legislature the power to issue a series of small park bonds, the proceeds of which will be used entirely for this lake front scheme.

The rough idea of the form of the pleasure spots is that they will be bathing beaches sheltered by short but broad piers that will serve for recreation piers and for landing places for small pleasure craft. Bathhouses may be built at their shore terminals, and the entire structure may be roofed.

Corporation Counsel Brundage's report of his consultation with Secretary Dickinson announced that the permit to Edward P. Farley for a yacht anchorage off Hubbard court would be revoked at the request of the city, and that hereafter no other permits will be issued without giving the city a chance for a hearing.

Wants Car Track Extension.

Ald. Snow had passed an order directing the local transportation committee to prepare an ordinance for the extension of the City railway system to permit the operation of a Lake avenue line between Forty-seventh and Fifty-fifth street. This is the first link of a line that is to relieve the eastern part of the Seventh ward, which has no north and south transportation facilities. The final line will run as far south as Sixty-third street, the route not having been determined below Forty-seventh.

Ald. Bauler's ordinance setting the starting hour for the work of city employés at 8 instead of 9 o'clock was introduced for the Chicago Daylight association, which the alderman recently incorporated, with himself as president and Victor J. Schaeffer as secretary. The plan has been adopted in Washington and Cincinnati, and the author of it here hopes to have it adopted by the city as an example to be followed by private employers. Pamphlets giving arguments for the idea were placed on each alderman's desk.

Resolution for Veto Defeated.

The vote of approval for the submerged land bills came about in a peculiar manner. Ald. Stanley H. Kunz—at the request, it was said, of Edward T. Cahill, an attorney—introduced a resolution directing the committee on state legislation to request Gov. Deneen to veto the bills. In spite of the pleas of Ald. John R. Emerson, the new representative of South Chicago in the council, who protested earnestly against the action, and the request of Ald. Charles M. Foell, chairman of the committee on harbors, wharves, and bridges, that it go to that committee, Ald. Kunz insisted on a motion to suspend the rules and adopt the resolution. It was defeated, 42 to 20. The roll call was:

JURY URGES BETTER CROSSINGS

More Protection Urged Upon Northwestern Elevated at Inquest Over Rogers Park Boy.

Recommendation that the Northwestern Elevated railroad afford better protection at grade crossings was made yesterday by a coroner's jury at an inquest over the body of Michael Conroy, 7 years old, son of a Rogers Park physician, who was killed on his way to school yesterday at Sherwin avenue. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, exonerating William R. McCune, the motorman. Witnesses testified that the boy ran through closed gates and tried to cross the tracks.

Boy Enriched by Grandfather's Will Returns with Mother to Lake Forest.

Mrs. Albert Sprague II and Son

By the terms of the will of his grandfather, the late Otho S. A. Sprague, just admitted to probate, little A. A. Sprague III. becomes practically a millionaire. The estate is valued at about $3,500,000, and except for $75,000, which goes for charity, almost all of the remainder is divided among the lineal heirs. The little boy's father, A. A. Sprague II., is to have the earnings on $500,000, and something like $500,000 besides. Subsequently all of this will go to his son if he remains the only child. The mother of the little boy is just back at her home in Lake Forest, after a visit of two weeks in New York.

CLEMINSON TO STRIKE BACK

Physician Becomes Defiant and Courts Fullest Inquiry.

HEARING THIS AFTERNOON.

Attorneys Declare Police Are Holding Client Unjustly.

Dr. Haldane Cleminson, the Rogers Park physician who is accused of having murdered his wife, Mrs. Nora Jane Cleminson, has assumed a defiant air and courts the fullest investigation of his career. His attorneys declare he is being held unjustly and that he is preparing to strike back.

From information received yesterday the police make the deduction that the defense will be that Mrs. Cleminson either committed suicide or died from natural causes, depending entirely upon whether or not the chemists find poison.

Capt. Kane admitted he virtually was through with his investigation and would present his case before the grand jury on June 21, three days after the coroner's inquest. He repeated that he had a strong circumstantial case, but others believe there is a strong link missing.

Preliminary Hearing Today.

The prisoner is to have a preliminary hearing before Judge Bruggemeyer this afternoon, and the police program is to ask for a continuance. The plan may be opposed, but nothing definite regarding it will be known until after a conference this morning between Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Cleminson, the prisoner's parents, and Attorneys S. P. Douthart and Edward J. Green.

Capt. Kane is still seeking Miss Anna Kolb, 12 Crilly court, but is not certain that she will prove of assistance to the prosecution. Nothing more than a warm friendship has been established between the two.

"We will have something to say about the case in the near future," said Attorney Green. "We are not attempting to oppose any action the authorities might take. We are afraid of nothing and want the fullest investigation. If they are not satisfied with matters as they are, let them exhume the body. They will find nothing against Dr. Cleminson."

Defense Tired of Tactics.

"Dr. Cleminson is being held unlawfully and we are tired of the tactics employed against him," said Attorney Douthart, after an hour's consultation with the prisoner. "The statute is that a prisoner shall be admitted to bail unless the evidence is clear or the presumption of guilt is great, and neither of these appears in this case. The police are delaying and holding Dr. Cleminson day after day in the hope that they will find something against him.

"They may go where they please and dig up anything they can and they cannot convict him of murder. I defy them to show that anything other than the pleasantest of relations existed between the accused doctor and his wife.

"Their case against the accused is a joke. There is no insanity about him, let me make that plain."

TWENTY-SIX AUTO SPEEDERS ARE FINED BY JUDGE HIMES.

Arrests Made Following the Recent Killing of a Little Girl Who Was Playing in a Park.

Judge Himes in Desplaines street court yesterday imposed a fine of $5 and costs on each of twenty-six automobile speeders who were arrested Sunday in the crusade begun by Capt. Frank Tyrrell of the west park police. George Greenberg, president of the Greenduck company, 200 Clinton street, the twenty-seventh man accused, obtained a continuance until June 15.

Action against speeders was decided on after Sophia Balzynski, 11 years old, had been killed by an automobile while playing in Humboldt park.

John F. Clark, a chauffeur employed by John Prendergast, son of the late Judge Richard Prendergast, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Bruggemeyer at the Sheffield avenue court for violating the speed ordinance. His machine struck and injured Joseph Weise, 7 years old, on April 22.

Negro Poses as Woman; Fined $85.

John Robinson, 26 years old, a negro who, according to the Desplaines street police, has been masquerading as a woman, was fined $85 and costs yesterday by Municipal Judge Himes. He had been employed as a domestic by T. A. Masyna, 965 West Monroe street, and was known as "Jeanette Robinson."

TRACE REVOLVER TO BINKLEY

Physician's Son Quoted as Scouting Latest Police Clew.

Circumstances attending the death of Dr. John T. Binkley Sr., who was found shot in the Wellington hotel last Wednesday, were made to appear more puzzling last night by reports from Evansville, Ind., concerning the revolver which was found in the hotel after the tragedy.

Detectives Scrivner and O'Mara of Chicago made inquiries of the pawnbroking firm of Fisher & Raphael, 425 Main street, Evansville, and were told that a revolver exactly like the one found in the Wellington was sold by them in February to "an elderly man who looked a great deal like Dr. Binkley."

The pawnbrokers said they had not been acquainted with Dr. Binkley, but had seen his picture. They further stated that they had had the revolver in their store for more than two years and that it was of a sort seldom asked for.

Account Denied by Bankers.

Officials of the Old State National bank at Evansville contradicted the story that Mrs. Binkley had $500 or more on deposit there. They said Dr. Binkley carried no account at the bank. The detectives learned that Dr. Binkley did all his business with the City National bank and borrowed money there on different occasions.

It was found that a letter in a blue envelope, and in all probability the same letter an elevator boy at the Wellington saw the aged physician mail, was received by the Rev. H. S. Morrison of Evansville and was postmarked at 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Dr. Binkley's death.

Back for Inquest Tomorrow.

The detectives are expected to reach Chicago today, preparatory to the inquest, which is to be held tomorrow at 370 Wabash avenue.

Dr. John T. Binkley Jr., the son, was quoted as follows in Waukesha, Wis.:

"My father could never have bought this revolver in Evansville. It would be the last place in the world where he would buy such a weapon if he wished to commit suicide."

TRUSTEES PLAN DRAINAGE TEST.

Engineering Committee Recommends Experimental Station to Separate Solids.

CANAL NEAR ITS LIMIT.

Board Prepares to Forestall Crisis When Doubled Population Might Menace.

The drainage canal is approaching the limit of its capacity to carry off the sewage of Chicago and the sanitary trustees are making preparations for an auxiliary disposal or waste matter by other means. The engineering committee yesterday recommended the construction of an experimental station to work out an adequate solution of the problem. The board probably will spend about $15,000 in the first series of experiments, which will deal with the separation of solids from liquids by the process of sedimentation adopted in foreign countries. If this separation can be accomplished on a large scale it is believed the drainage canal will do the rest even when the city has doubled in population.

On the basis of expert estimates, President R. R. McCormick stated that the drainage channel would reach the limit of its capacity to carry sewage adequately in 1922. When that time comes the city may be face to face with the grave problem of getting rid of its waste matter without endangering the health of possibly 3,000,000 persons.

At the same time, the city would face other municipalities along the drainage channel, the Desplaines and Illinois rivers, and finally St. Louis.

Grave Cause for Alarm.

Sanitary trustees virtually admit there will be grave cause for alarm if the canal ceases to perform its function adequately, and they realize that the fight put up by St. Louis and other municipalities in the last five years would be inconsequential in comparison with their menace if they ever have a real complaint to make.

The question of authorizing the construction of the experimental station will come before the board of trustees today and undoubtedly will receive unanimous approval.

Investigation has been furthered by a corps of experts in the sewage disposal department, and Prof. Jordan, the University of Chicago bacteriologist, has been commissioned to continue the inquiry into foreign methods during a trip abroad this summer.

The experimental station will be in the Thirty-ninth street pumping works, where the flow of the south side intercepting sewer is regulated. A four inch pipe will be attached to the intercepting sewer at a point before it reaches its outlet in the Thirty-ninth street tunnel.

Branch Into Test Station.

By this means part of the sewage will be deflected into the experimental station. There it will be run through a series of tanks, where it will be subjected to the process of sedimentation under varying conditions.

Experiments will follow with the various possible processes of disposing of the residue and with the purification of the separated liquids. It then will be possible for the bacteriologists to state how much dilution of the liquids is required to eliminate disease bearing germs. It will be the liquid remaining after the separation of the solids that the drainage canal of the future will be called upon to carry away.

It is probable that five years at least will be consumed in the tests of all the known methods of sewage disposal. Perhaps the sanitary district experts may invent a completely new method to answer the needs of Chicago's peculiar conditions.

"The move to establish an experimental station merely is a step toward preparation for a crisis that is bound to come," said President McCormick.

"If anybody contends that such a crisis will not be reached he must assume that Chicago is not a growing city. But all observers recognize that the present generation will see the doubling, perhaps the trebling, of its present population of 2,000,000.

"Without preparation the city might experience a crisis of several years' duration that would be menacing to its own health and health of other municipalities.

"The sanitary officials purpose to be prepared for this crisis. If this policy is followed to its logical conclusion a sewage disposal plant will be in operation when the drainage canal reaches the limit of its capacity."

Canal Never to Be Obsolete.

Mr. McCormick was asked if the canal would become obsolete as a means of sewage removal.

"No, never, in my opinion," he replied. "There merely is a limit to the amount of sewage it can carry and dilute adequately under present conditions. With the solid removed from the waste the canal easily can carry off and dilute the remainder.

The engineering committee also is studying a method of preventing deposits of sand in Bubbly creek from the Thirty-ninth street tunnel. A system of breakwaters may be built to protect the intake.

DIVORCED FROM COLLEGE DEAN

Wife of Prof. J. W. Thompson Gets Decree for Cruelty.

HUSBAND SAILS FOR EUROPE.

Daughter of Mrs. H. M. Wilmarth Tells of Domestic Infelicity.

Mrs. Anna H. Wilmarth Thompson obtained a divorce yesterday from James Westfall Thompson, associate professor of European history at the University of Chicago. Mrs. Thompson, her maid, and Prof. Thompson's brother testified before Judge Honoré to various acts of cruelty. The court gave her the custody of her 10 year old boy and sole control of her property.

The Thompsons were married in London in 1897, when both were visiting there. Mrs. Thompson is a daughter of Mrs. H. M. Wilmarth, a wealthy widow who makes her home at the Congress hotel. Mrs. Wilmarth has made large financial contributions to the university, and her daughter is a graduate of that institution.

According to the testimony of Mrs. Thompson, who was represented in court by Attorney John M. Harlan, she lived with her husband for six years following their marriage. His cruelty to her, she said, began shortly after the birth of their child.

Tells of Acts of Cruelty.

She testified that the professor has an ungovernable temper, and at times he choked her, pinched her, handled her violently, and threatened her without any reason whatever.

She declared that he became so violent just before she left him that she was constantly in fear. She left the professor in 1908, but, she said, notwithstanding her protests he continued to live in the house at 7747 Washington avenue, which she owned, and she paid all the expenses of keeping up the household although she could not live there.

Anna Christensen, a domestic, testified that she had seen Prof. Thompson abuse his wife on several occasions. Wayne Thompson, the professor's brother, said he had witnessed several scenes between husband and wife, and had seen marks left upon Mrs. Thompson's wrists by the violent handling of the professor. In granting the decree of divorce Judge Honoré provided that Prof. Thompson shall have the right to see his son at intervals when arrangements have been made with Mrs. Thompson.

Husband Makes No Defense.

The professor, through his counsel, C. A. Burley, entered a denial of the charge of cruelty, but did not attempt to oppose his wife's testimony. He sailed from New York for Europe at the time the divorce was granted. He will not return to Chicago until late in the fall.

Prof. Thompson is dean in the junior college of philosophy. He is a member of the University, Literary, and Fortnightly clubs, and has written several books. His latest work is entitled "Religious Wars in France."

Mrs. Thompson will live with her mother when Mrs. Wilmarth returns from Europe, where she has been making an extended stay. Mrs. Wilmarth has been a patron of many of the charities and educational projects of Chicago. She has taken an active part in Hull house work, and is a member of the Jane club.

Alleges Attempt to Blackmail.

Charles J. Dannenbaum, broker, resident of the Congress hotel, in an answer to his wife's bill for divorce, denies her charges of unfaithfulness, and names an attorney who, he asserts, planned to extort $15,000 from the father of a young woman, named as corespondent in an earlier divorce suit by Mrs. Dannenbaum.

Judge Barnes, before whom the first suit was tried last December, refused to grant a decree to her, or to Dannenbaum, who had filed a cross bill. Recently Mrs. Dannenbaum filed another bill, alleging desertion and infidelity.

In his answer Dannenbaum says his wife was a shop girl when he married her, and that she is a shop girl still, and, "although her first husband lived with her eleven months, then took to the woods, this defendant lived with her fourteen years and submitted to her abuse rather than have a scandal in his family."

He says she is employed in a State street store at $20 a week, and has been since in May, 1908; that she lived at the Vincennes hotel, paying $10 a week for board; and that her allegations that she is without support or means of livelihood are unfounded. He asks the dismissal of her bill.

Ticket Broker Seeks Divorce.

Harry N. Waterfall, in a bill for divorce filed against Mamie B. Waterfall, asserts that C. R. Heap and Harry Batchelor have supplanted him in her affections. He says she was with Heap at Detroit Jan. 30, and since then has lavished her affections on Batchelor. They married Dec. 24, 1897, and lived together until Jan. 28. Waterfall is a theater ticket broker.

Mary Moore Manly-Power asks a divorce from George A. Manly-Power, 350 Dearborn avenue, who, she says, deserted her in September, 1906. They married Nov. 11, 1905, at Wilmington, Del.

'HOLDUP' STRIKES IN CHICAGO STOP.

Exposure and Conviction of "Skinny" Madden Produce Beneficial Effect.

OAK PARK CABMEN QUIT.

Union Electrical Workers in the Press Club's New Building Are Called Out.

There have been no sympathetic strikes "for revenue only" such as "Skinny" Madden and his coterie of "business agents" engineered since the alleged attempt by the gang to hold up the Chicago and Northwestern railroad company by a strike of laborers on the new Northwestern depot.

This was the substance of reports made yesterday by building contractors and members of the contractors' "secret committee" at a meeting held at the Tavern restaurant. Following the exposé of "Skinny" Madden and his extortion methods, which was the direct outgrowth of the Northwestern depot strike, and the subsequent conviction of Madden, M. J. Boyle, and Fred A. Pouchot, the contractors reported, Chicago and the building industry have been free from "holdup" strikes.

Prior to the Madden exposé from one to a dozen "sympathetic" strikes were recorded every week or two in the building industry, and they nearly always were traced to "Skinny" Madden and his gang.

Oak Park Cab Drivers Strike.

Union cab drivers in Oak Park went on strike during the day because G. H. Nelson, a driver employed by A. A. Knapp, a liveryman at 441 North boulevard, was discharged for refusing to beat carpets and clean house for his employer's wife. When Nelson was discharged nine other drivers employed in Knapp's barn walked out in sympathy and later Business Agent Larry Lynch called out all union drivers employed in the suburb.

Sixty slate and tile roofers went out on strike in an effort to enforce a demand for a raise in wages. The strikers ask for a two years' agreement at 60 cents an hour for the first year and 62½ cents an hour the second year. The present scale is 56¼ cents an hour. The employers offered to pay the present scale the first year and 60 cents an hour the second year.

Electricians Are Called Out.

Electricians employed in the old University club building, now being remodeled for the Press club, were called out on strike by M. J. Boyle because nonunion men employed by the Chicago Telephone company were putting in telephone connections.

AUGSBURG CONFESSION UPHELD

General Synod of Lutheran Church Takes Definite Stand on Difference with Council.

Richmond, Ind., June 8.—Probably the most important action taken by the general synod of the Lutheran church of the United States, in session here, was that when a thesis presented by Dr. L. S. Keyser of Canal Dover, O., bearing on the differences in confession basis between the general synod and the general council, was approved and adopted by a rising vote. In this way the synod defended its position on this important matter.

The resolution accompanying Dr. Keyser's exposition was as follows:

"Resolved, That inasmuch as the Augsburg confession in the original generic confession of the Lutheran church was accepted by Luther and his coadjutors and subscribed to by all Lutheran bodies the world over, we therefore deem it an adequate and sufficient standard of Lutheran doctrine.

"Resolved, That we herewith declare our adherence to the statement the bible is the word of God and reject the error implied in the statement the bible contains the word of God."

This is to be printed in all future editions of the Augsburg confession, whether in separate form or in the books of worship.

JUDICIAL RESULT MAYORALTY PILOT?

Honore's Showing Causes Talk of Candidacy, but Democrats Look Elsewhere.

REPUBLICANS BIDE TIME.

Politicians Smile at Talk of Lorimer-Deneen or Lorimer-Busse Alliances.

The politicians quickly scanned the returns from the judicial election yesterday and immediately swung into discussion of the mayoralty campaign of 1911, the next absorbing number on the political program.

There were all varieties of reasons, excuses, and suggestions as to why the judicial battle resulted just as it did, the theory advanced being dependent upon the personal feeling of the theorist. It was a day of political speculation, which, when it was boiled out, indicated the election generally was satisfactory to the citizenship at large. Neither party organization took great satisfaction out of the results. Each expected more than it got.

The first mayoralty suggestion evolved from the clearing smoke of battle carried the name of Judge Lockwood Honoré, who finished second in the list of Democratic candidates. This report was seriously discredited if not crippled when carried back to the Democratic leaders, who would know, if anybody does, that Judge Honoré is to be put in training for the Democratic nomination.

If Not Honore, Then Who?

Judge Honoré's name was first suggested as that of a mayoralty possibility before the judicial primaries, the talk emanating from the Twenty-first ward Democratic organization. Judge Honoré, it is learned from competent sources, said definitely he would not become a candidate under any circumstances. The talk continued, nevertheless, and was freshened perceptibly when Richard E. Burke made an ineffectual attempt to secure the pledges of the fourteen candidates that none of them would become a candidate for an elective office during his judicial term without resigning from the bench. Be that as it may, the men who are in a position to know said positively in the afternoon that Judge Honoré will not be a mayoral candidate.

The Democratic drift turned perceptibly toward Andrew J. Graham of the west side as the candidate of the dominant Democratic organization, and in due time it is probable there will be a well defined campaign in progress for Mr. Graham.

It is known this far in advance that there is to be a terrific Democratic primary fight if Carter H. Harrison's friends succeed in getting him into the mayoralty limelight.

Former Mayor Dunne is ready to start at a moment's notice, and Col. James Hamilton Lewis is likely to return from Europe with a mayoral boom. John E. Traeger has been a candidate for several months.

Talk in Republican Camp.

The Republicans have tabooed mayoralty politics until a county slate is manufactured and the primaries of next spring are out of the way. There is talk of a Lorimer-Deneen combination against Mayor Busse, which makes little noise to the old timers; talk of a Lorimer-Busse combination against Deneen, referring to the defeat of the Deneen candidates for judges on Monday, and the election of all the Busse candidates and all the Lorimer candidates, which, to the politicians, appears less tenable than the first proposition.

The aldermanic primaries come next February. Then, if the direct primary law stands the racket in the State Supreme court, there will be the big general primary in April at which the party committeemen will be elected, in addition to the nomination of a county ticket. Six Superior court judges are to be chosen in 1910, and the state, county, congressional, and legislative elections are in the following November.

United Societies Cheerful.

The United Societies hung out the flags and cheered up greatly over the judicial election figures. In a statement issued in the afternoon, and signed by George L. Pfeiffer, president; A. J. Cermak, secretary; W. R. Michaelis, chairman of the political action committee; and Matthias J. Huss, secretary of the campaign committee, this opinon was expressed:

"The United Societies for Local Self-Government have every reason to be well satisfied with the outcome of the judicial election. Twelve of the candidates recommended by them have been elected. Had it been a city election, we would have elected fourteen of the fifteen candidates indorsed by us. Judge Edward O. Brown and John P. McGoorty carried the city, but failed to receive proper support in the country towns.

"We wish to thank all the members of the United Societies for Local Self-Government, the members of the Liberty league, and all those papers who supported the candidates recommended by us."

The official canvass of the votes cast at the election will be started at 9 o'clock this morning in the office of the board of election commissioners, and on Friday in the office of County Clerk Joseph F. Haas.

Error Was in Loser's Favor.

Talk of a contest and a recount of the ballots was partly dissipated during the day by the announcement that there had been an error of 900 votes in the unofficial returns from the Eighteenth ward by which Judge Frank Baker was the beneficiary. Judge Baker was the fourteenth man in the list of those elected and on the face of the returns published yesterday morning led Judge Brown by 180 votes. The corrected figures from the Eighteenth ward increase that lead to 1,080 votes.

Judge Brown apparently is reserving judgment, however, until the official canvass shall have been completed.

TRICK ON HOSIERY PLAN OF ALDRICH?

until a separate vote has been had on the hosiery paragraph.

They are the persons who should be given the most attention by the women, because the members of the house are more or less tied up and few of them have independence enough to vote against their leaders. Besides that Mr. Boutell of Chicago is a member of the ways and means committee. Although he probably did not originally agree to this paragraph, he is more or less bound by the traditions of the house to follow the majority of his committee.

Damage Will Be Widespread.

This proposed increase on cotton stockings is a good deal more serious than most of the people imagine. There are three grades of lower priced stockings which are imported freely into the United States, the foreign competition preventing the American manufacturer from raising his prices. This foreign competition, however, is not sufficient by any manner of means to prevent the manufacture in this country under the present law, and the great bulk of our cheap stockings are made here.

The rates of duty already are high, and at the present time are far in excess of the basis of protection fixed by President Taft, which is the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad. The tariff at the present time is sufficient to protect every American manufacturer, and no one knows this better than Mr. Payne himself. The increase in the duty will not increase the wages, because there is at the present time an abundant supply of labor.

The retention of the Dingley rate will not decrease wages of itself, because the hosiery manufacturers are prospering today, and will continue to prosper, because the present tariff is so large that there can be importations only when the domestic price gets to be a little higher than the sum of the duty and the foreign price.

The American manufacturer simply wants to raise his prices without the fear of foreign competition. The only gainer would be the manufacturer, and the only loser would be the consumer, who, however, does not exist, according to Mr. Aldrich, Mr. Lodge, and the others, although, if that is so, it still is a mystery where the retail stores get the money to pay their rent.

Present Duties on Stockings.

At present the law fixes a duty of 50 cents a dozen and 15 per cent ad valorem in addition on all stockings for men and women, whether knit by machines or by hand, when they are valued in the foreign wholesale market at not more than $1 per dozen pairs. This enormous duty is assessed on stockings which heretofore cost at wholesale abroad 8½ cents at the outside.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, the importations of these stockings were valued at $2,342,844. The average value by dozen was a trifle less than 94 cents. On this basis the ad valorem equivalent to this compound duty was something less than 69 cents. Under the Payne bill it was proposed to increase this rate to 70 cents per dozen with 15 per cent additional. This made the new proposed rate over 89 per cent.

In other words, the duty was raised 20 per cent and more, so that if the same rate of importation kept up, and it will keep up if the American manufacturers raise their prices, it means a loss to the consumer on imported articles alone of over half a million dollars and on domestic articles of the same grade no one knows how much.

Poorest Grade Taxed Most.

Stockings valued at from $1 to $1.50 per dozen now pay 60 cents per dozen and 15 per cent, which the house raised to 85 cents per dozen and 15 per cent, an increase in ad valorem equivalent from 58 to 76 per cent or a net increase of 18 per cent.

On the third grade of stockings and half hose valued abroad at between $1.50 and $2 a dozen, the increase was from a trifle over 51 per cent up to nearly 67 per cent, or, to be more exact, an increase of about 15½ per cent. Stockings valued at between $2 and $3 were raised about 11 per cent.

It will be observed by every one who reads these figures that the biggest increase of over 20 per cent in the ad valorem rates was made on the lowest grade of stockings, worn by the poorest people. To accentuate the fantastic folly of the ways and means committee of the house and to point out the danger which threatens from the general belief that Mr. Aldrich has promised in advance to accept the house figures in conference when it will be too late for the people to protest, it is only necessary to call attention to the fact that under the Payne bill the lowest grade of cotton stockings, valued abroad at not over $1, will stagger under a duty of nearly 90 per cent, while stockings valued at $5 a dozen will be assessed at 55 per cent.

Committee Makeup Hurts People.

It is this discrimination against the poor man as compared with his richer neighbor which furnishes the political dynamite in the tariff bill against which the western senators have vainly warned the controlling element in the country.

Every conference is a question of give and take on the part of the conferees. Mr. Aldrich will represent the senate, and he has a lot of things of his own he wants to get into the tariff bill. The three conferees from the senate in all probability will be Aldrich of Rhode Island, Burrows of Michigan, and Penrose of Pennsylvania, if Mr. Burrows' health permits him to serve.

Mr. Aldrich is the high priest of protection, and Mr. Penrose the open champion of a high rate on hosiery. The temptation for these two men to yield on this schedule is such that if they do not surrender to the house they will be either more or less than human. If they do surrender the men and women of the country will pay the bill.

SENATE TAKES UP WOOLENS TARIFF.

Good Humored Debate Succeeds Heat of Talk as to the Cotton Rates.

DOLLIVER ASKS FOR CUT.

Smoot and Warren Defend the Schedules as Fixed by the Committee.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—There was much good humor and many pleasantries injected into the debate on the woolen tariff schedule in the senate today, Mr. Dolliver being the central figure. He offered several amendments, and announced his intention of presenting a number of others, appealing to the Republican members to vote with him because he said these amendments would justify the attitude of the Republican party in advocating a protective tariff.

Mr. Smoot, assisted by Mr. Warren, who is considered an expert on the woolen industry, defended the finance committee's recommendations. The various amendments proposed to the house bill by the finance committee are intended to restore the Dingley provisions of the woolen schedule, which, in some instances, provide higher duties than the Payne bill.

One of the interesting features of the day was a lecture on the woolen industry by Mr. Carter. He explained each step in the manufacture of woolen goods, and familiarized the senators with the uses of shoddy, waste, noils, tops, and the various other grades.

Mr. Dolliver proposed an amendment which would assess the duties on woolens on an ad valorem basis, according to the shrinkage of the wool. He became involved in an argument with Mr. Smoot as to the feasibility of such an arrangement of the woolen duties, the latter contending that it would be impossible to collect the duties on that basis because the American manufacturers want their wool in the grease, and hardly any two of them use the same methods of scouring the wool.

Warren Uses Suit as Proof.

Much amusement was afforded when Mr. Dolliver and Mr. Warren became involved in a colloquy, during which they stood within a few feet of each other, and each endeavored to convince the other of the soundness of his opinion regarding the advisability of assessing the woolen duty on the value of the wool in the cloth. Mr. Dolliver said he would propose amendments which would carry out this proposition, but Mr. Warren, in order to illustrate the small proportion of the entire cost of a woolen garment which is dutiable, asked Mr. Dolliver to examine the suit which he was wearing.

Mr. Dolliver said it appeared to him to be a good suit, whereupon Mr. Warren explained that the cloth in the suit cost only $4, while the making and the trimmings cost $42, showing that the duty on the $4 worth of cloth was trifling compared with the entire cost of the suit.

Senator Dolliver was the first speaker. Taking up the first amendment proposed by the committee on finance he opposed the increase over the house rates, which proposed a return to the Dingley rates on top waste, roving waste, etc., or an increase of from 20 to 30 cents per pound.

Warren Denies Being Shepherd.

Senator Warren explained the propriety of maintaining the Dingley duties. Referring to the fact that the Wyoming senator generally is reputed to be the owner of a great many sheep, Senator Dolliver replied that he was "the greatest shepherd since Abraham." Warren disavowed personal ownership of a single sheep, cow, or horse, except a horse he keeps for his personal use.

Senators Warren and Smoot maintained that the admission of top waste and kindred wools supplanted just that amount of American wool. Mr. Warren insisted that rags and shoddy would come into the United States under the lower duty advocated by the senator from Iowa.

"So long," responded Mr. Dolliver, "as many people are obliged to go without woolen clothing in cold weather it is better to have the old and short wool obtained from such rags to make their clothing than to have no woolen clothing at all."

Meeting the statement of Mr. Dolliver concerning the closing down of woolen mills because of the high duty on these forms of wool consumed by them, Mr. Smoot declared that, as a former manufacturer of woolen goods, he knew the industry had expired because of a change of fashion from woolen clothing.

Carter Gives Object Lesson.

Senator Carter then began his explanation of various forms of wool in the process of manufacture. A large chest provided ample samples. Many of the senators gathered about the samples, and designations such as "top waste," "slubbing waste," "noils," etc., became well known terms when the senator from Montana had concluded.

Mr. Dolliver suggested the grading of duties on wool according to its shrinkage. Saying this plan would be better than the present system, Senator Carter objected to it because such amendments would open the entire wool schedule to consideration in conference. Mr. Smoot declared that Mr. Dolliver's amendment was impossible, contending that the manufacturers want their wool in the grease and that no two manufacturers scour their wool by the same process.

Mr. Nelson argued that the ad valorem equivalent in the woolen schedule was higher than that of any other schedule. He claimed the entire woolen schedule should be readjusted because it discriminated against the wool grower of the Mississippi valley and in favor of the mountain sheep raiser.

Declaring against the assessing of the woolen duty on the entire cloth, Mr. Dolliver said he would propose a duty on the value of the wool in the cloth. Meeting this proposition, Mr. Warren illustrated the small duty on a suit of clothes by the garments in which he was attired, declaring that the cloth in them cost only $4, while the making cost $30 and the trimmings $12. The duty on that $4 worth of cloth, he said, was trifling compared with the value of the suit.

Dolliver "Prepares for Fight."

Declaring that he would ask the senator from Wyoming to join him in voting for a provision that no duty in the pending bill should be over 100 per cent, Senator Dolliver said he wanted to "make ready for the fight that is coming against the Republican party and our tariff system."

Senator Smoot, interposing, said that while such a provision might appear reasonable it had happened in the wool industry that the raw product had dropped to 5 and 6 cents a pound. In such a case a duty of 100 per cent would have flooded the country with foreign wool and would have been inadequate to protect the industry.

Mr. McCumber spoke strongly in favor of the duties recommended by the committee. He reviewed conditions in North Dakota when under the Wilson bill wool was admitted free of duty. He declared that the duties provided by the bill were not too high.

When a motion for the adjournment was made by Mr. Aldrich Senator Clay of Georgia earnestly insisted that the senate should proceed with its night session, and as his repeated efforts to discuss that proposition were declared to be out of order he addressed himself to the presiding officer, Senator Keene of New Jersey, saying that his refusal to order the yeas and nays on the motion was grossly in violation of parliamentary law and that he would discuss that matter tomorrow.

SENATE COMMITTEE TO HEAR PLEAS FOR FREE PAPER PULP.

Representatives of Publishers Will Ask That Duty Be Taken from Ground Wood Product.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—Representatives of newspaper publishers, headed by John Norris, will be given a hearing tomorrow by the senate finance committee. The committee has taken no action on the question of wood pulp and print paper, and the differences of opinion in the senate have been so great that the outcome of a vote could not be foretold.

The action of the house is regarded as the equivalent of free wood pulp and free paper. Paper manufacturers have insisted they would be driven out of business by the house provision and have demanded the continuance of the protection. Some senators were inclined to fix a rate of $4 a ton on print paper, which is a $2 decrease from the present rate. When communicated to the members of the Newspaper Publishers' association this rate was declared unsatisfactory.

On the questions of wood pulp and print paper, coal, oil, and hides the senate committee has determined to canvass the sentiment of the senate before taking recommendations.

The amendments to the zinc paragraph are not satisfactory to the smelting concerns, and another change may be made. A hearing will be given also to the manufacturers of plate glass.

LORIMER TO KEEP PLACE IN HOUSE?

May Conclude That His Vote on Tariff Bill Is Needed in Lower Body.

CAN CLAIM EITHER SEAT.

Illinois Man Says Decision Depends on Needs of Republican Party.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—[Special.]—Senator-elect William Lorimer has reached Washington and is preparing to solve the problem of whether he should present his credentials to the senate at once and be sworn in or remain a member of the house until the tariff legislation is out of the way.

Mr. Lorimer claims to have arrived at no decision in the matter. He came to town too late to discuss things with the leaders today, but says he will see Speaker Cannon and others tomorrow and talk over his status for the remainder of the special session.

"If I find that the Republican party needs my vote more in the house than it does in the senate," said Mr. Lorimer, "I shall remain in the house until the tariff bill has been passed. From what I have heard, I would not be surprised to find that the Republican majority in the house is narrower than it is in the senate."

Silent on Hides Tax.

Mr. Lorimer made no mention of the fact that he differs with Senator Cullom in regard to a tax on hides as something of a deterrent from entering the senatorial arena at present, nor did he dilate on the prospective fight of the small contingent in the house which voted for a tax on oil. He was a member of the immortal forty which voted against free oil in the house and no doubt will find pressure exerted on him to aid that force in attempting to reverse the house's judgment during the remaining hours of the tariff struggle.

After visiting his living quarters at the Young Men's Christian association he joined some Chicago friends in a fish dinner at one of the local hotels and bothered himself no more during the evening about his coming senatorial career.

Confident of Downward Revision.

Mr. Lorimer said he was confident the Republican party would carry out its pledge in regard to a downward revision of the tariff.

"By a revision downward," said he, "I mean a reduction of duties without the sacrifice of a single industry. The bill will be shaped finally in conference, and when it goes to President Taft for his signature it will be a measure that will accomplish the ends intended. It will fulfill the party's pledges and will satisfy the people. The Republican party will have no difficulty in winning the nation's approval of its work next year."

TAFT LAYS PLANS TO CURB RAILWAYS

Wants Interstate Commerce Commission to Be More of a Judicial Body.

HITS AT ONE MAN POWER.

Not Against Legitimate Capitalizations, but Seeks Square Deal for People.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—[Special.]—President Taft has begun the consideration of the railroad situation of the country with a view of formulating recommendations that he will make to congress for the amendment of the interstate commerce act. If his recommendations are adopted a substantial advance will be made in the governmental supervision of interstate carriers beyond a point reached by President Roosevelt. He will endeavor to obtain:

Authority for the interstate commerce commission to classify merchandise for transportation.

Supervision by the interstate commerce commission over the issues of stocks and bonds by railroad companies.

Prohibition of the purchase of stock in a competing line by a railroad.

Prohibition against the service of the same men upon the boards of directors of competing lines.

An improvement of the machinery now existing for the ascertainment of the physical value of the railroad property.

An extension of the so-called "commodities clause" so as to forbid railroads from having any connection with coal or other producing corporations—in other words, to confine carriers solely to the business of transportation.

Authority under which, with the approval of the interstate commerce commission, interstate railroads may make mutual traffic agreements.

This legislation will be additional to that which the president and his advisers have been considering with reference to the rearrangement of the duties of the interstate commerce commission, the bureau of corporations, and the department of justice.

Wants Exclusive Judicial Power.

As has heretofore been said, the president believes the commission should be relieved of its jurisdiction as an executive and directing body and that its functions should be limited to a quast judicial investigation of complaints filed by individuals and made by a department of the government charged with the executive business of supervising the operation of railroads.

The president has been made aware by shippers throughout the middle and far west of the intense importance to them of the further extension of the so-called Hepburn act. Today he was informed by a delegation from the state of Washington that, in its judgment, one amendment which ought to be adopted should authorize an appeal to the courts by shippers dissatisfied with the rate fixed by the commission. The railroads have such a right.

The Washington delegation also urged that the interstate commerce commissioners be distributed about the country instead of remaining in Washington. The advantage of such a policy, of course, would be to put the commissioners in closer touch with local conditions and enable a quicker and more satisfactory settlement of questions arising between shippers and carriers. A plan of this character was submitted to the commission several years ago by B. F. Yoakum of the Rock Island and Frisco railroads, and it has recently been revived in connection with the reorganization of the commission's work which the president has had in mind.

President Has Not Changed Mind.

The president will give consideration to the proposals of the Washington delegation, but he has pretty well made up his mind as to what recommendations he will submit to congress.

During the campaign which he made for the nomination and his election Mr. Taft spoke frequently in regard to the railroad situation and gave the country a pretty good idea of what his policy would be. It is understood that reflection has not changed his views. He is firmly of the opinion that the making of a rate classification of merchandise for transportation is most important. If a railroad is dissatisfied with an order made by the commission it is an easy matter for it to transfer the article affected to another class and thus change the rate. It also is easy for discrimination between shippers to be practiced in this way.

What the president wants is power lodged in the commission to classify freight and to prescribe rules for a uniform classification by railroads. He does not believe the physical valuation of railroads would settle the railroad problem, but it is clear in his mind that it would constitute the element in fixing a reasonable rate. The interstate commerce commission now has the power to ascertain the physical value of a railroad property, but the machinery is not adequate, and Mr. Taft consequently wants it improved.

Little Railroad Opposition Expected.

It is not likely that the above recommendations will meet with much opposition from the railroads. It is confidently anticipated that congress will enact a measure setting forth these principles. The Republican party is pledged to provide for government control over the future issues of railroad securities by the platform adopted at the last Republican convention.

President Taft fully realizes that in order to determine whether the stocks and bonds to be issued have proper security behind them the interstate commerce commission must first be informed as to the full value of a railroad, including all of its tangible property. Consequently both of these propositions will have to be considered together.

The president is emphatically against the idea of a one man control of the railroad situation of the United States. He has no objection to combinations of capital, but he is opposed to a condition which puts the prosperity of millions of people in the hands of one man. If his recommendations are adopted it will be necessary for the Harriman and Union Pacific interests to divest themselves of stock they hold in the Southern Pacific and other competing lines. The same policy will have to be pursued by the New York Central, Pennsylvania, and other properties which have been pursuing the same course as Mr. Harriman.

MAC VEAGH NOT TAFT SPEAKER.

President Had Not Read the Address Which the Secretary Gave Recently in Chicago.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—It was learned today that President Taft had not read the Chicago speech of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh before the secretary left Washington for Chicago and that the president was not aware of the character of the speech to be made.

This does not mean that the president finds fault with Mr. MacVeagh's utterances, but merely answers the report that it was an official view of the tariff situation and that it expressed Mr. Taft's opinion.

It is usual, it was stated today, for a member of the cabinet to submit his speeches to the president. President Taft never has required the members of his cabinet to do this, and therefore responsibility for their utterances cannot be charged to him.

Republican leaders were inclined today to assign to political inexperience Secretary MacVeagh's failure to consider that any speech delivered by him likely would be taken as the view of the administration. Many of the leaders point to the fact that the speech was delivered to an audience which sympathized entirely with demands for revision downward, but at the same time they assert that a careful reading of the speech would indicate that it had been misconstrued in many quarters.

DOUBLE HONEYMOON IN AUTO

Son-in-Law and Daughter of Groom in Party to Europe.

Brides and grooms usually make their plans for future together, but in the matter of joint planning Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bode have established a precedent.

Mrs. Bode was Miss Esther Ellen Simpson, who until the announcement of her engagement a few months ago was manager of one of the departments for the firm of which Mr. Bode is president. Yesterday she became his bride, and one of the gifts bestowed upon her by Mr. Bode a few days before their marriage is a lot of 50x170 feet frontage at Fifty-ninth street and Washington avenue.

Upon this wedding gift land Mrs. Bode herself expects to erect a handsome building of three apartments from which she is to derive the independent income. The building, it is said, is to cost in the neighborhood of $60,000 and is to be one of the most complete modern apartment arrangements on the south side. The land lies just north of the two story frame residence of Mr. Bode at 5827 Washington avenue.

The marriage, which followed this arrangement by a few days—the transfer of the lot was made early in the month—was a quiet family affair, celebrated at the residence of the bride's father, B. S. Simpson, 1545 Sheridan road, at noon, the Rev. Hugh Kerr officiating. The bride was married in her traveling dress of wisteria poplin and carried lilies of the valley.

Immediately after the service Mr. and Mrs. Bode left for New York, where they will meet Mr. Bode's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Weary (Ida Bode), who were married on Saturday. Together the four will sail for Europe tomorrow.

OBJECT TO WABASH AV. CHURCH

"Unsuitable" for Conference, Say Rockford District Pastors.

TOO LATE NOW TO CHANGE?

Removal of Bible Institute from Chicago Brings Objections.

Rockford, Ill., June 8.—[Special.]—Protest against the district superintendent's selection of the Wabash Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Chicago, as the meeting place of the Rock River conference for next September was made here today by pastors of the Rockford district.

The pastors were practically unanimous in their objection to Wabash Avenue church, although several suggested it was probably too late to bring about a change. A resolution was adopted declaring Wabash Avenue church "a very unsuitable location for holding the conference" and requesting the district superintendents to secure a more convenient and suitable location in one of the other large churches of Chicago, or in one of the other cities of the conference.

Another resolution unanimously adopted requested the Rev. Frank Sheets and the official board to invite the conference to hold its next session in Court Street church, Rockford, on the self-entertaining basis.

Omaha and Minneapolis are bidding for the Swedish Free Church Bible institute, at present located in Chicago.

It was made known at the meeting of the Ministerial association today that Omaha's delegation is ready to pledge $10,000 toward the maintenance of the institution if it is moved to that city. Minnesota pastors have selected provisionally a site between Minneapolis and St. Paul and will urge their claims strongly.

It is understood that a large number of pastors desire that the institution remain in Chicago and it is aimed to enlarge and improve the school. The Ministerial association of the church, which has been in session since yesterday, elected the following officers:

President—E. Thorell, Greeley, Colo.
Secretary—Irving Halleen, Holdredge, Neb.
Treasurer—Fred Elmer, Ludington, Mich.

RIVAL CONQUEROR OF SUGAR TRUST.

Suit Under Sherman Law Is Settled by Offer to Turn Over $10,250,000.

SECOND BLOW TO COMBINE

Government Recently Forced the Payment of $2,000,000 in Back Customs Duty.

New York, June 8.—[Special.]—Two million dollars in cash, the return of $7,000,000 par value of securities held as collateral, and the cancellation of a loan of $1,250,000 more was the price which the American Sugar Refining company agreed tonight to pay in settlement of the suit brought against it by the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company under the Sherman anti-trust act.

The suit was brought to recover $30,000,000, being the triple damages allowed by the statute on the charge that the sugar trust, its counsel, John E. Parsons, and Gustav Kissel, a broker, had conspired to wreck the Pennsylvania company through the medium of a well concealed loan deal. The case has been on trial before Judge Holt in the United States district court for two weeks, but was stopped suddenly today, when the lawyers got together for a final settlement of negotiations, which, it was learned, had been on for some time.

This settlement of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company's suit comes immediately on top of the payment by the sugar trust to the United States government of $2,000,000 in cash as the amount out of which the United States had been cheated through the use of fraudulent scales in the sugar weighing piers in Brooklyn.

Compromise Offered Long Ago.

It appears now that negotiations for a settlement have been going on during nearly the entire pendency of the trial before Judge Holt. The defense, which summoned to its rescue John G. Johnson of Philadelphia, John G. Milburn, Henry W. Taft, William D. Guthrie, and H. B. Closson, among other legal talent, began some time ago with an offer to return the securities which went up as collateral to the loan, thus restoring the plant to its own security holders, and to pay in addition $750,000, besides canceling the loan itself.

This offer was refused because the cash consideration was deemed far too small and because it carried with it a stipulation that a suit which the Real Estate trust had brought against Kissel individually also should be included in the settlement. The figure remained at $750,000 until Judge Holt, following the close of the presentation of testimony today, denied a motion to dismiss the complaint and declared that the evidence which stood uncontradicted must go before the jury.

This left the defense in a dangerous position, for the jury, under the Sherman act, might fix the damages at any sum it chose up to the maximum of $10,000,000 claimed, and then the sugar trust would be mulcted three times the amount so fixed under the triple penalty clause in the act.

Kissel Settlement Comes Later.

So the conferences again were taken up and early in the evening the terms of the settlement were reached on the understanding that the matter relating to Mr. Kissel personally will be taken up later and negotiated in connection with the final adjustment.

It was learned last night that the controlling interests in the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company will make plans to place the plant in operation, acquiring from the sugar trust itself $2,000,000 working capital with which to start competition with the trust. The first step to this end will be the unseating of Kissel and his four dummy directors in the board of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company, and the election of men to succeed them who will represent the stockholders of the concern.

CALLS IOWA SENATOR UNFAIR

Trinity College President Scores Action of Mr. Dolliver.

BILLED TO BE SPEAKER.

At Eleventh Hour Westerner Says He Can't Go to Durham, N. C.

Durham, N. C., June 8.—Incensed at Senator Dolliver of Iowa because he canceled at the last moment an engagement to deliver the annual address at the Trinity college commencement tomorrow, President Kilgo tonight from the rostrum accused the senator of unfair treatment.

"Trinity college has always tried to be fair to audiences," said Dr. Kilgo, "and this is the first time any man has treated us unfairly. Senator Dolliver has had ten days to make this announcement, and he waits until the last moment to embarrass us."

Likens Senators to Bootblacks.

Then, after announcing that the Rev. Hugh Black of New York would deliver the address instead and stating that Senator Dolliver in the telegram he had sent this afternoon gave physical exhaustion and tariff duties as his reasons for declining, stepped from the rostrum and declared, it is alleged, to a group of friends who surrounded him:

"I would as soon look to a bootblack for wisdom or character as a United States senator. I wouldn't trust some to cultivate a peanut patch."

Senator Works Hard During Day.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—When the news reached Washington that Senator Dolliver's failure to keep his engagement at Trinity college had been bitterly discussed by the president of the college the senator had retired for the night.

During the last ten days Mr. Dolliver has taken a leading part in the debate on the tariff bill in the senate, and he consumed most of today in addressing the body during the discussion of the woolen schedule and is said to have been exhausted by the day's work.

PENAL REFORMERS PLAN GREAT WORK

American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology Formed in Chicago.

NATIONAL IN ITS SCOPE.

Many Changes in Methods of Dealing with Social Offenders Are Mapped Out.

The American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology was organized yesterday as an outgrowth of the crime conference called by the Northwestern University Law school. It will direct its efforts toward immediate revision and alteration of the criminal jurisprudence of the United Statese.

Prior to adjournment last night the institute directed that a committee be appointed to appeal at once to congress for the establishment of a bureau to collect criminal statistics and a commission was selected to investigate criminal laws of Great Britain and other European countries with a view to recommending imitation in the proposed revision of the American code where deemed feasible and advisable.

Together with these recommendations sixteen topics in connection with the treatment of crime and the study of the criminal were suggested for investigation and research during the coming year. These matters were turned over to various committees, chairmen of which were appointed by the conference president, with instructions that they conduct the necessary investigation at once with a view of making a report at the next annual meeting.

Important Changes Suggested.

Changes advocated by the conference are declared by criminal law practitioners and criminologists of the city to mean an almost complete reorganization and rehabilitation of the criminal jurisprudence of the country.

The conference was in session in the morning and afternoon and closed with a banquet given at the University club at night by the Northwestern University Law school.

Prior to the adjournment of the general conference in the assembly room of the Northwestern University Law school the resolutions committee reported six resolutions which were adopted unanimously. They provided for:

1. A permanent organization to be known as the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology.
2. Publication of the deliberations of the conference in the form of a treatise on criminology to be widely circulated.
3. Appointment of a committee to establish affiliations with other organizations devoted to the study of crime.
4. Appointment of a committee to obtain funds to advance the work of the institute.
5. Publication of an official organ.
6. Appointment of a committee to urge congress to establish a bureau of crime statistics.

Work for the Committees.

Three sections of the conference made reports of topics suggested for committee investigation during the coming year. These topics were culled from 134 submitted to the conference for consideration at its opening session. The sixteen considered of the greatest immediate importance are;

FIRST SECTION.

1. Investigation of the complex factors combining to encourage and establish the persistent offender, particularly with reference to hereditary taint and disability.
2. Investigation of influences attaching to the traffic in drugs and intoxicants as a widespread excitant to instability, in turn provocative of crime.
3. Investigation of an effective system for recording the physical and moral status, and the hereditary and environmental conditions of delinquents; the same to contemplate in complex urban conditions, the guidance of a consulting expert.
4. Evils of imprisonment, particularly the indiscriminate mingling in jails and other institutions of persons of different ages and of varying degrees of delinquency.
5. Results and most advisable methods of adult probation.
6. Extension and regulation of the parole system, the indeterminate sentence, and the modification and suspension of sentence.
7. Monetary and other indemnification of persons acquitted of criminal charges.

For Unification of Courts.

SECOND SECTION.

1. Committee to be appointed to consider the qualifications and training of members of boards of pardon and boards of parole, and the correlation of such boards with one another and with the courts.
2. Committee to be appointed to consider whether, in view of the notorious abuses of expert testimony, it be practicable to establish commissions of specialists which may be drawn upon for impartial expert testimony.
3. Unifications of courts so as to do away with the burdensome cost of transcripts, bills of exceptions, writs of error, and so forth, allowing the appellate tribunal to pass upon and use the same papers and the original evidence and comments used at the trial, and to take further evidence on formal matters or matters not controvertible for the purpose of upholding judgments.
4. Wherever there are several trial judges of coördinate jurisdiction, one or more of them should be assigned permanently to the trial of criminal causes and retained in such work exclusively during the whole term of office.

THIRD SECTION.

Subjects for investigation by committees:

1. Fair and speedy trials.
2. Impartial but prompt selection of intelligent jurors.
3. Appeals and reversals.
4. Expert testimony and the best method of trying the issue of insanity.
5. The simplification and amendment of pleadings.

Wigmore Chosen for President.

Attorney James Hagerman of St. Louis, Mo., who was elected chairman of the conference, appointed committee chairmen as follows:

Permanent organization committee—William E. Mikell, professor of criminal law in the University of Pennsylvania.

Periodical committee—Adolf Meyer of New York, criminologist.

Affiliations committee—Joseph P. Byers of New York.

Statistics bureau—John Korne of the United States census bureau.

John H. Wigmore, dean of the Northwestern university law school, was elected president of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology and Edwin R. Keedy, professor of criminal law in the University of Indiana, was made secretary.

Banquet Closes Conference.

Supreme Court Judge Orrin N. Carter presided as toastmaster at the evening banquet. E. G. McDermott, assistant attorney general of Kentucky, responding to a toast, declared the future greatness of the country depended upon the righteous administration of justice. Prof. Joseph Jastrow of the University of Wisconsin urged a closer union of the theorists and the practitioners.

George A. Beecher, dean of Trinity cathedral, Omaha, Neb., asserted that the church of today was accomplishing little in the way of savings the falling and should cease forthwith to be a Sunday club. Prof. W. E. Higgins of the University of Kansas and Prof. J. E. Garner of the University of Illinois also spoke.

ADDS TO SHERMAN HOUSE SITE.

Proprietor Leases Property of Fidelity Safe Deposit Company, Which Went Through Chicago Fire.

The new Sherman house, to be erected this fall, will occupy a frontage on Randolph street from Clark street to Powers' theater, lease to the intervening space of 90½ feet between the present hotel and the theater having been obtained yesterday by Joseph Beifeld for ninety-nine years from Edward A. Shedd.

For the first five years the rental will be $14,000; for the second five years, $16,000, and for the following eighty-nine years, $18,000 a year, the lessee to pay all taxes and insurance.

This will wipe out the building of the Fidelity Safe Deposit company, which went through the Chicago fire.

HORSES OF MOORE SCORE IN LONDON.

American Fancier Adds Nine Awards to Long List of Prizes.

HANDLES OWN ENTRIES.

King and Queen Visit Big Show; Morris & Co.'s Team of Clydesdales Makes Big Hit.

LONDON, June 8.—W. H. Moore continues to be one of the most prominent figures at the horse show, adding nine awards today to his already long list of prizes. He drives all of his entries, and is almost constantly in the ring.

A. G. Vanderbilt and Walter Winans also increased their string of ribbons during the day.

Olympia was packed to its fullest capacity during the afternoon for the gala performance of the show, given in honor of the visit of their majesties the king and queen.

The building was beautifully decorated with flowers, and had the appearance of a huge conservatory. The arena represented an old English garden.

All of the foreign officers who were present were lined up in the reception hall and saluted their majesties as they entered the building. Ambassador Whitelaw Reid and Mrs. Reid and practically all of the other ambassadors and ministers in London were present, accompanied by their wives and daughters.

King's Cup Contest a Big Event.

The event of greatest interest on the program was the jumping competition for the king's cup, a trophy valued at $2,500, in which teams representing Argentina, Belgium, Canada, Great Britain, France, and Italy took part. In this competition teams composed of three officers of the same nationality, in uniform, riding either their own or government horses, covered the entire course and took a number of hurdles. This cup is to be held for one year by the winning nation, and to be returned to the International Horse Show by June 1 of 1910.

The cup was won by the French team, the Italian team was second, and the English team third.

The awards in class 35, single harness horses, exceeding sixteen hands high, in which eighteen animals were judged, included: Fourth, Walter Winans' Forest Girl; sixth, Mr. Moore's Bismarck; reserve, Mr. Moore's Abigail.

Mr. Moore's Hildegarde and Leonidas captured first in class 65, pairs of harness horses, any height, shown to a brougham, victoria, or barouche. Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Tonawanda and Wanda captured third money in this class. In class 26, sixteen novice pairs of harness horses, exceeding fifteen hands, Walter Winans' Crack Shot and Newton Sportsman won second, and Mr. Moore's Hildegarde and Leonidas third.

Mr. Moore's Brougham Driver First.

In the competition for a horse exceeding 15.2 hands, to be shown to a brougham, the first prize of $150 was given to Mr. Moore's Marie. Mr. Moore also took fourth prize with Sylvanus. C. W. Watson's Moonshine was given second honors and the cash prize of $100.

American exhibiters also got first and second honors in class 60, pair of horses to be driven by women and shown in phaeton with rumble. C. W. Watson was awarded first prize, $200, with Norena and Kitty Grey, while Mr. Moore got second money, $125, with Phyllis and Mendila.

King Admires Morris & Co. Team.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra paid a semi-state visit to the stalls in which are quartered the champion six horse team of the world which Morris & Co., the Chicago packers, are exhibiting at the show. His majesty was particularly interested in Angus, an Illinois bred horse which was awarded the championship of America at the Chicago International show last December, and Drew, which won the championship of the united kingdom in 1906. Drew has twenty-four blue ribbons to his credit.

Frank Housley's wonderful handling of the horses made the Morris entry one of the pets of the show.

BALK BY CHICAGO SHRINERS

Medinah Temple Refuses to Join Great Parade at Louisville.

HOTEL ROOM CUT THE CAUSE.

James Boyle of Utica Created Member Emeritus ad Vitem.

Louisville, Ky., June 8.—One incident occurred to mar the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Mystic Shriners tonight when Medinah temple of Chicago, the largest chapter of the organization in America, refused to take part in the great parade. The refusal followed displeasure when it was found that the temple's hotel allotment had been cut to ten rooms. Potentate Lampert says that he will make sure of early reservation at the next convention.

What with drilling all day and marching all night in heat relieved but little by a rain at dusk, those nobles of the Mystic Shrine who went to bed at all tonight were good and tired. Politics was also a feature. Tomorrow there will be settled these questions:

"Will the imperial divan—the cabinet of the order—be 'pegged up,' as is the custom, one officer succeeding another and leaving a vacancy of imperial outer guard, or will this custom be changed?

"Who will be elected imperial outer guard?

"Will New Orleans, Toledo, or Atlantic City win the fight to entertain the shrine in 1910?"

Five Share Unusual Honor.

The imperial council amid the spectacular features of today managed to meet and hold an important session, at which James Wemmington Boyle, potentate of Ziyira temple, Utica, N. Y., was made a member emeritus ad vitem, an honor which has been conferred on but four other men in the history of the shrine.

Drills all afternoon in the First Regiment armory by the various patrols, dressed in oriental finery that defies description, provided an excellent quality of entertainment for thousands massed in the great building.

Tonight, despite an early rain and the promise of more, the most remarkable pageant in the history of shrinedom was held.

This parade consumed almost an hour to pass a given point, and there was no passing through the streets while its several miles of length were anywhere in view.

Iowa Has 5,214 Foresters.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., June 8.—[Special.]—Two hundred delegates to the tenth state convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters attended solemn high mass in the morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The business session in the afternoon was followed by auto rides tonight. The convention ends tomorrow.

The report of the chief ranger showed that since the last meeting at Des Moines, when there was a deficit of $1,350, there is now a surplus of $1,660. The net increase in membership was 340, the total being now 5,214. Over 800 new members were initiated, but death and lapses caused a loss of nearly 500.

The chief ranger suggests that the international convention to be held at Montreal appoint paid deputies to the work of soliciting new members.

Foresters Parade in Quincy.

Quincy, Ill., June 8.—[Special.]—The ninth annual convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters opened here today with 400 delegates present.

The Chicago delegation came down in a special train, and, with others picked up along the line, numbered 300. They were met at the depot by a brass band and paraded to headquarters.

The proceedings opened this morning with a special high mass at St. Peter's church. The delegates then proceeded to Turner hall, where the sessions are held. The chief ranger is W. F. Ryan of Chicago, alderman of the Thirty-fourth ward, who presides. Reports show that there are 42,000 members of the order in Illinois, nearly 27,000 being in Chicago.

CHICAGO BOOMERS SEE SALMON POTS.

Visitors Watch Fish Go All the Way from Water to the Canning Plant.

SAWMILLS OF INTEREST.

Stop at Everett Followed by Start for Short Trip to Tacoma, Wash.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Everett, Wash., June 8.—[Special.]—Inspection of Puget Sound's salmon industry at Bellingham and the saw and shingle mills at Everett made a pleasing diversion from the stereotyped receptions and banquets for the Chicago Association of Commerce trade boomers today.

The tourists were routed out of bed at 6 o'clock this morning at Bellingham and a visit was made in two tugs furnished by Bellingham business men to the salmon traps several miles out in the sound. The quadrilateral piles, which are driven sixty-five feet in the water and the stout dip nets known as "pots" were interesting to the visitors when they were told that one trap was sold for $115,000 a week ago. The trap claims are granted by the government and located in a similar manner to mining stakes.

Only one trap was working today, and in honor of the visitors the net was raised. Hubert F. Miller, Edwin Sherman, and Hugo Hartman risked falling into the net to get a picture of the hundred salmon which were swishing the water into a thick foam in an effort to escape.

Many See First Seals.

Many in the party saw seals for the first time today, two being trapped. They were first shot by a guard who protects the trapped fish from piratical men as well as seals and sea lions.

The cannery of the Pacific American Fisheries company was next visited, completing the inspection of the salmon industries from the trap to the cans. The visitors were impressed with the dexterity of the Chinese laborers, who are used almost exclusively.

An auto tour of the city followed, and at noon a special left for Everett, which was founded seventeen years ago on the capital of John D. Rockefeller and Everett Colby of New Jersey. A statue of Rockefeller adorns the beginning of Rockefeller street.

Visit Great Lumber Plant.

The special was met at the depot by members of the Everett chamber of commerce and the Cascade club, and the Canyon Lumber company mill, one of the largest in the northwest, was visited. All were spell bound by the rapidity with which logs twelve feet in diameter and forty feet long were reduced to lumber strips.

A tour of the city in autos and a reception and banquet in the Cascade club in the evening followed. For Chicago Robert McDougal, Edwin Sherman, and V. H. Mashek spoke and won applause by their unselfish praise of Everett and their failure to mention Chicago.

ASKS AID TO CITY 'CLEANING HOUSE'

E. C. Wentworth Suggests a Semi-Official Board on Alleys and Streets Work.

BRANCH IN EVERY WARD.

Scores Supt. Doherty as an "Unprogressive Jobholder Who Lacks Ideals."

A new scheme for furthering the work of cleaning and beautifying Chicago's streets and public grounds was presented to Mayor Busse and Commissioner of Public Works Hanberg yesterday. The plan provides for a semi-official municipal commission representing every ward which shall cooperate with the city administration in cleaning streets and alleys and in improving the physical appearance of the city generally.

The idea was conceived by E. C. Wentworth, a real estate dealer who long has been interested in the work of the neighborhood improvement associations. He presented his ideas to the city administration in a letter to Commissioner Hanberg.

Mr. Wentworth was moved to make his appeal because of the inability of the city to clean even a fraction of the streets and alleys thoroughly. The city, always pleading the lack of sufficient funds, appropriates about $350,000 a year for street cleaning, in comparison with the $2,000,000 spent by New York on a smaller area. In Chicago private citizens contribute $150,000 annually for street cleaning by private agencies.

Explains Plan; Scores Doherty.

In the course of an interview explaining his proposition Mr. Wentworth severely scored Michael Doherty, superintendent of the street bureau, on the grounds of general incapacity and an inveterate antagonism to the assistance given the city by the improvement associations. Mr. Wentworth outlined his plan in the following written statement:

"A possible scheme of coöperation between the municipal government and an improvement association, suggested by the lack of revenue necessary to adequately provide for the maintenance of the street department.

"Suggestion 1. Organization of a metropolitan improvement association through appointment by the mayor of a commission consisting of one representative from each ward.

"Suggestion 2. This organization to complete local organizations in each ward by section of two delegates from each election precinct.

"Suggestion 3. The local organization to coöperate with city officials and provide such extra financial assistance as may be necessary to accomplish the work of street cleaning where practicable.

"Suggestion 4. The central organization to call conferences of specialists to discuss subjects coming before the common council which affect physical conditions.

"Suggestion 5. Each delegate to pay an annual fee of $2 to the local treasurer and the central body to be supported by the local body. A paid secretary with an office to be kept by central body and a monthly publication issued giving full details of work accomplished and general news of civic development throughout the country and elsewhere."

Says City Needs Private Aid.

Mr. Wentworth was the first president of the County League of Improvement Associations, an organization which accomplished much along educational lines. He believes, however, that an organization that is semi-official can achieve more tangible results. He is a member of the Second Ward Improvement association.

"After years of wrestling with this problem we all must admit the city is unable to handle the problem of cleaning the streets adequately," said Mr. Wentworth. "Consequently wherever street cleaning is done adequately it is necessary for private citizens to contribute.

"It is regrettable the work of cleaning Chicago streets is committed to an official of the type of Doherty. He merely is a politician, holding a job from which it appears hopeless to oust him. He is unprogressive, he lacks ideals, and altogether is a ludicrous figure compared with the men to whom such duties are assigned in other cities. Doherty always has been antagonistic to the work of the improvement associations.

"If Gov. Deneen signs the bond bills the city will have $16,000,000 for permanent improvements. Whether that will mean that more of the city's current income can be used for street cleaning remains to be seen."

Savings Department.

Savings accounts can be opened by married women and remain under their control.—The Merchants Loan and Trust Company, a bank for savings, 135 Adams street.—Adv.

IF you have any painting to do, we're sure of one thing: you want to do it at the least possible cost of doing it well.

That means Devoe Lead-and-Zinc paint; not because it costs less per gallon than other paints—it doesn't—but because it takes fewer gallons.

A house at 1117 Norton Ave., Kansas City, was painted two coats with seven gallons Devoe Lead-and-Zinc; good job. At 1119 Norton Ave., house same size, started to paint with a leading brand of mixed paint; used three gallons without making more than a beginning; looks as though it would take twenty gallons to finish.

The more gallons you put on, the greater the cost of the job.

CITY LODGINGS FOR WOMEN

Law and Order League Will Take Plan Up with Mayor.

PROPOSAL MADE BY PASTOR.

Committee Appointed to Confer with Busse and Aldermen.

The Rev. J. Y. Montague, pastor of the La Salle Avenue Baptist church, started a movement for a municipal lodging house for women yesterday in a speech before the Chicago Law and Order league at the Grand Pacific hotel. He suggested that it be conducted along the lines of the institution maintained for men by the city. His proposition was so well liked by the members of the league that Arthur Burrage Farwell, the president, appointed a committee to take it up with Mayor Busse and members of the council.

"If these lodging houses are established for girls and women," said Mr. Farwell, "it will go a long way toward solving the social problems.

Lodgings Would Save Girls.

"I think the establishment of these houses would result in putting the so-called "red light" districts out of business completely. Girls and women, having no homes or place to lay their heads, drift into lives of immorality, whereas if there was a place where they could be sheltered they would be saved.

"If we can get the city council and Mayor Busse to have lodging houses established a great act will have been done for the city and a moral good will have been accomplished."

There was considerable discussion and the question of expense was raised, but it was decided that the cost of maintaining women's lodging houses would be small and they would prove even more beneficial than the men's lodging house.

Committee to See Mayor.

President Farwell appointed the following committee to investigate and report as to the details of the plan and also to confer with the mayor and members of the council. The Rev. J. Y. Montague, Mrs. W. H. C. Keough, and Miss May McMullin.

The election of officers of the league has been postponed until the next meeting, the first Tuesday in September. Those elected to membership in the league were the Rev. Abel M. White, the Rev. J. Y. Montague, Donald MacLaurin, and the Rev. W. S. Braddan, R. G. Bell, and J. W. Russell of the Neighborhood Civic league of Chicago.

WOMEN CHECK HATS IN CHURCH

Elgin Pastor at Baptist Missionary Meeting Provides Special Room for Headgear.

Following out his ultimatum against women wearing hats in his church, the Rev. A. F. Purkiss, pastor of the First Baptist church of Elgin, provided a special checkroom for the women of the Baptist Missionary Union of Illinois, which convened yesterday in the church, to leave their broad brimmed hats in. Those unfamiliar with the provision were astonished, but they refrained from making any protest. Six hundred were present. A special train from Chicago over the third rail conveyed 800 members, among whom were twenty-four young women graduates of the Baptist Missionary Training school. In the evening the party was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Topping.

KEEPS BRIDGES OPEN LONGER

Council Extends Evening Hours from 6:30 to 7.

ONLY FOR PASSENGER BOATS.

Ordinance Recommended Providing Fine for Blocking Streets.

Half an hour's extension of "open bridge" hours was granted to the passenger boat lines yesterday by the council committee on harbors, wharves, and bridges.

By a vote of 5 to 2—the objectors being Ald. Zimmer and Lewis D. Sitts—the committee agreed to recommend for passage by the council an amendment to the bridge rules making the afternoon "closed hours" from 5 to 6:30 instead of until 7 o'clock, as they have been for nearly twenty years.

This change will apply only to passenger boats, will cover only the Rush, State, Dearborn, and Clark street bridges, and will be for this season only, as a thorough experiment. The change was opposed by Edward Nockels, secretary of the Federation of Labor, and C. A. Livingston, a representative of the Chicago Railways company.

Fine for Blocking Street.

The judiciary committee recommended for passage an ordinance drafted by Ald. Arthur B. McCoid, aimed to facilitate the clearing of street blockades and to cover the fault of the present ordinance, which requires for conviction of an offending blockader proof that his obstruction was intentional.

The provisions of the ordinance read in part:

"Whenever from any cause any street or alley shall be obstructed the mayor or any alderman or police officer may give such directions in regard to the movement of pedestrians, vehicles, and street cars as may be required.

"Any person or persons refusing or neglecting to obey such directions shall be fined not less than $1 nor more than $25."

The same committee, after hearing protests, agreed to amend the ordinance forbidding awnings lower than eight feet above the sidewalk to require that their lowest height shall be six and one-half feet.

Track Disputes Held Over.

The question of the right of the Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul railroad to maintain its main tracks in the Bloomingdale road from Western avenue to Sawyer avenue was sent to the corporation counsel for an opinion.

The local industries committee was prepared to settle the question whether the three roads using West Water street—the Northwestern, the St. Paul, and the Pennsylvania—should be asked to pay compensation on all or part of the tracks leading into the Union depot from the north.

John R. Dickinson and Edward M. Hyzer, representing the St. Paul and the Northwestern, respectively, denied that Frank J. Loesch, counsel for the Pennsylvania, had been authorized to offer $3,000 a year for eleven of the tracks, and the subject was dismissed until Mr. Loesch could state the reasons for his offer.

State Charities Delegates Named.

The county board selected delegates yesterday to attend the state conference of charities to be held at Peoria in October. The delegates are Dr. O. C. Willihite, superintendent of the county institutions at Dunning, and George K. Schmidt, member of the county board. The date of the conference has not been selected.

Here is a book that will live through the generations.

A MAN WITHOUT PRINCIPLE?

Unconventional Fascinating Intensely Human

By RETSEL TERREVE

¶ The thrilling and dramatic story of a criminal who, after conquering the prejudices of our modern society, was called upon to rule it ¶ In a wonderful series of word pictures the reader is carried from the slums to the aristocratic homes and gambling resorts of the American metropolis; then to the heart of London's great financial centre, and through the intricate mazes of English company promotion; then back to America and across the continent to the humanizing, inspiring atmosphere of the great and virgin West. And through it all, directed by a merciless, but master hand, one runs the entire gamut of human emotions; of all the controlling passions of mankind as found in society of the present day. It is a book that will set the blood on fire; that will impress a moral on the mind of every one who reads.

¶ The Baltimore American says: "The author has produced a work that will mark an epoch in virile character delineation and resourceful fertility of plot. Strong and blood-stirring in every chapter, it carries, by the force of its climax, the reader to the crest of billows. It possesses interest for the man of sedate mind and the girl who has romantic fancies. It has a moral for the moralist and a touch of human artistry for the humanist. Victor Hugo stood alone, yet this author has entered into his heritage."

¶ Edwin Markham in the Chicago Examiner, says: "This novel possesses simple and enduring qualities. It is a story earnest and inspiring in principle, swift in action and interesting in detail. The purpose of the story is so strong, the characterization, whether moral or immoral, is so true, and the scenes of the constantly shifting life so natural, that the book immediately appeals to the attention and approval of the reader. It is stirring, appealing, convincing, and so, as a novel with a lofty purpose, it engages and holds attention on its merits."

The Regally Beautiful French Gowns, Coats, Capes, Waists, the Beguiling Real Laces and Hand-Made Embroideries Forfeited to the U. S. for Violation of the Custom Laws are ready for you to choose from here, today, at the most astonishingly low prices ever quoted. Of course you've read about them in the papers recently. Here are lots from the Steamship Gothland and Steamship New York, sold to us by the United States Marshal at auction in New York last week; the garments and laces from the foremost style creators of Paris, names synonymous with the highest expressions of exclusive styles—the fashion arbiters of the world. A Paquin (Paris) $400 Gown of richest crepe de meteor, new gold moyenage effect hand embroidery, $125, that's almost too dainty for description; a Callot-Soeurs (Paris) $500 Gown of real cut jet and shimmering spangles, in new tunic skirt effect, over sage green silk, that's strikingly handsome, at $145; a Beer (Paris) $450 Gown of crepe Electra, in old ash of roses, exquisitely embroidered and braid trimmed, at $139, that's as winsome a masterpiece as you've ever seen. And so the story might continue to fill the entire page and still the real glory of the merchandise would not be properly extolled, for every garment tells a story of harmonious style beauty such as Paris alone can produce, which you must see to catch the full import of; a collection of French Gowns, Coats, Capes and Waists full of elegance, gracefulness, beauty, made to meet the exacting requirements of style-loving women. Very few of the many are itemized. Come, and you'll most likely find what you want and at prices that average 20c to 35c on the dollar. And the Real Laces, the Hand-Made Embroideries and Trimmings; how, indeed, can we accentuate the importance of the values included, carefully considering their wonderful beauty, the fascinating flimsiness of some, or the superb heavy sorts. One is really at a loss to do them justice in description. All in all, this is a collection far more beautiful than you can possibly anticipate, one you certainly will not fail to see, and priced

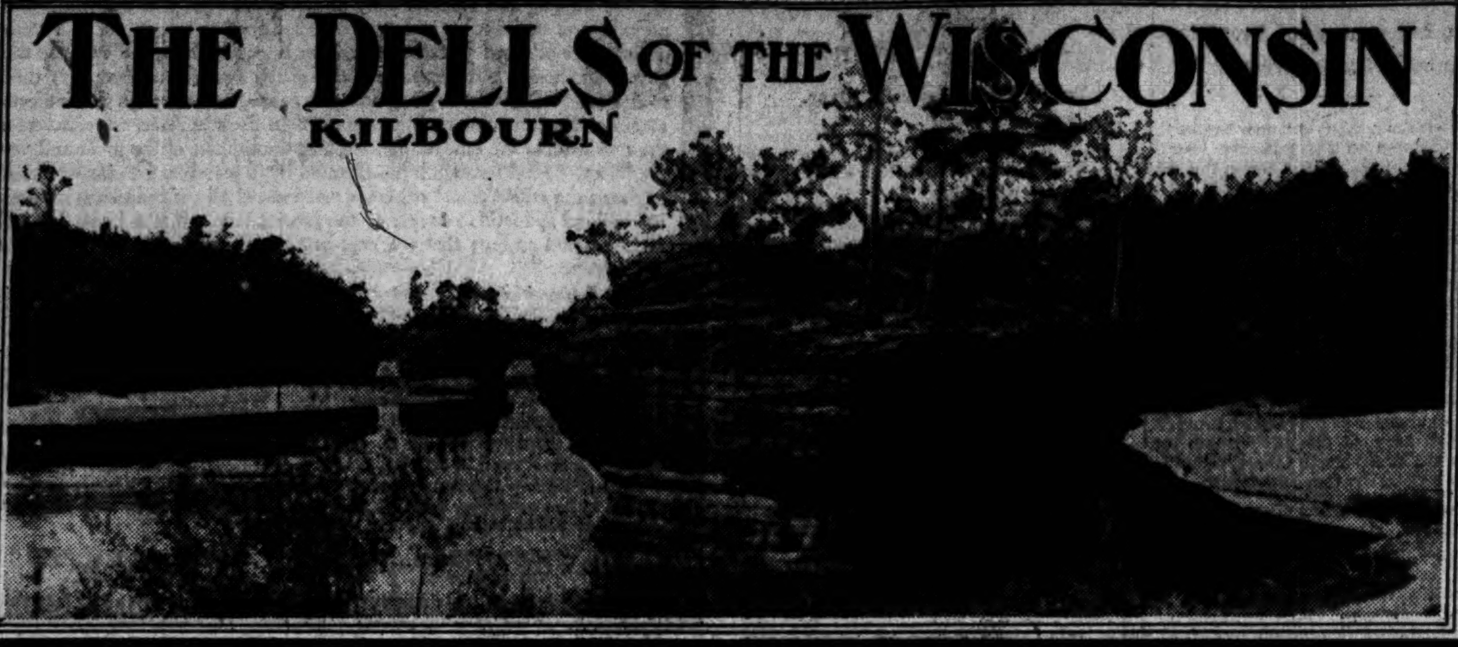
THE DELLS OF THE WISCONSIN

KILBOURN



IT has been truly said that there is no more attractive feature in nature than the Dells of the Wisconsin. Their fame is world-wide and they are always included in the itinerary of parties visiting the scenic attractions of America. It is not necessary to go to Switzerland, Niagara or Yellowstone Park to gratify one's taste for nature's beauties. Here, within six hours' ride from Chicago, is to be found a region that abounds with scenery that, for rugged grandeur, is second to none. For nine miles the Wisconsin River winds its way between high, towering walls of fantastically colored rocks, caves, grottoes, etc. The rocks assume various shapes and forms and the Navy Yard, Stand Rock, the Jaws, Witches' Gulch and innumerable other spots are now world famous. A million dollar dam and power plant, a wonder of mechanical genius, has been constructed, and by raising the level of the water in the Upper Dells has given access to miles of beautiful scenery, which until now has been seen only with great difficulty. The present quiet state of the water makes boating, bathing and fishing not only possible but delightful.

Kilbourn is a modern city located at the Dells, on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

Every convenience to make your vacation enjoyable will be found here.

The services of thoroughly competent guides, with finely equipped launches, are at your disposal.

ANTI-SMOKE FIGHT TO BE CONTINUED.

Women Not Discouraged by Mayor's Refusal to Prosecute Illinois Central.

WILL WAGE OWN BATTLE.

One Speaker Tells Busse That the "City Lies in Grasp of Hundred Headed Hydra."

Instead of being discouraged by the failure of their conference with Mayor Busse to open an official fight against the Illinois Central railroad, a score of south side women representing the Anti-Smoke league left the city hall yesterday determined to push the campaign for immediate relief along lines laid down by themselves.

The mayor explained to them that the city had failed to obtain the legislation to enable it to force local railroads to electrification; and he refused to select the lake front road as the only object of legal attack. He said that another conference of department heads would be held in a short time to determine what action shall be taken.

This statement was not satisfactory to the delegation and assertions were made that warrants would be sworn out for the trainmen in charge of the smoke producing locomotives until the road consents to give way to the league's demands.

"Desolate and Despairing City."

One of the most picturesque statements of the women was the written opinion of Miss B. L. Deane, which she submitted for publication.

Her "preamble" follows:

"Desolate and despairing lies the fair city. The Queen of the Plains lies in the grasp of a hundred headed hydra, each of whose gaping mouths vomits forth venomous gases and strangling smoke. Her fair countenance and her beauteous vesture are besmirched, while time and labor which should be spent for her advancement are wasted in a vain endeavor to present a decent appearance in the concourse of sister cities.

"Mother Nature does her best to help by sending to her assistance her strong lunged servant Boreas; but not all the winds of all the world could save the situation."

The delegation was headed by Mrs. George M. Shirk, secretary of the league, who, because of the absence of its president, Mrs. Charles L. Sergel, has taken the lead in its affairs. She introduced Mrs. Mary H. Knowles, the vice president, who stated the object of the visit to the mayor.

Anxious to Push Campaign.

After speaking of the history of the campaign she said in part:

"Four months have elapsed and as yet we have had no definite information, but have learned through THE TRIBUNE that Mr. Fritch is engaged in making plans and tearing them up.

"We know that the electrification of the Illinois Central is a reform to which you have given much time and thought. We beg your honor to authorize us to pursue our work, which has been neglected since the 21st of last October, and we ask you as a special favor to recommend to the smoke inspector to concentrate his attention for a time at least on the offending engines of the Illinois Central."

In reply Mayor Busse said that he would not recommend any prosecution. "The smoke commission, of which Mr. Donnelley is president and of which Smoke Inspector Bird is a member, is the one which should advise you on this policy," he said.

Robert D. Martin, attorney for the league, announced that a plan was under consideration for the arrest of the crew of every train drawn by a smoking locomotive. Others who spoke were the Rev. William White Wilson, rector of St. Marks' church, and Harry De Costa, president of the South Side Business Men's association.

WASHINGTON DOESN'T KNOW THE NASHVILLE IS HERE.

Red Tape Mixup Over Notifying Navigation Bureau of Warship's Arrival at Chicago.

Has the warship Nashville arrived at Chicago?

The newspapers of last Sunday printed photographs of the boat steaming into this port, but in Washington the bureau of navigation is insisting that the Nashville still is on its journey from Atlantic water to Chicago, manned by Capt. Warren F. Purdy and his gallants of the Illinois Naval reserve.

The bureau of navigation sent a telegram yesterday to Capt. Purdy asking about the Nashville. In Washington it was said that the captain had overlooked the formality of notifying the bureau that the ship had completed its cruise. Constructively, according to the Washington view, the ship is on the way here.

When inquiry was made at the headquarters of the Illinois Naval reserve last night it was said that Capt. Purdy had gone to Springfield. "I think Capt. Purdy compiled with the formalities, so far as he was concerned," said the informant. "He notified Gov. Deneen of the arrival of the Nashville, and I consider that it is up to the governor to send the formal notification to Washington." Gov. Deneen says the notification will be sent to Washington tomorrow.

The company expects to have 200 cabs in service by Aug. 1. It is establishing substations throughout the city.

FIGHT CHILD ACTRESS CASE.

Parent's Attorney Demands Jury Trial When Motion to Quash Information Is Denied.

State Factory Inspector Edgar T. Davies made a fourth attempt yesterday to secure a conviction under the child labor law in the appearance of Gretchen Hartman in the play "Mary Jane's Pa."

Mrs. Agnes Hartman, mother of the girl, who is under 16 years of age, was arraigned before Judge Fry in the afternoon.

A motion by Mrs. Hartman's attorney to quash the information on the ground the girl is a partner in the production was denied, whereupon a jury trial was demanded. The trial was continued till today.

DOCTOR'S HORSE SHIES AT AUTO

Woman Physician Narrowly Escapes Death in Runaway in Evanston Street.

Dr. Sarah H. Dr. Brayton alighted from the buggy unscratched. The automobile is the property of the Evanston Pantitorium, and was in front of the store at 1610 Sherman avenue when the horse shied at it. Dr. Brayton, who is 40 years old, lives at 1637 Chicago avenue, Evanston.

AGED SCOTS TO HAVE HOME

St. Andrew's Society Decides to Purchase Site at Riverside.

NEED $100,000 FOR PROJECT.

Building Operations, It Is Expected, Will Start Within Few Weeks.

The Illinois St. Andrew's society at a meeting held last night at the Great Northern hotel decided to purchase a five acre tract of land at Riverside as a site for a Scotch old people's home. The site committee, of which John Buchanan is chairman, was empowered to close the deal today for the price asked, $2,500, which sum was appropriated.

The work of raising a building and endowment fund of $100,000 will be started at once. John Williamson, president of the society, appointed a committee of seven members to raise the money. After he had made the announcement of the personnel of the committee Mr. Williamson presented a check for $1,000 to the society to be applied to the fund. The donation was received with cheers and applause.

Committee to Raise Fund.

Those appointed on the committee to raise the fund are James B. Forgan, David R. Forgan, John G. Keith, D. R. Cameron, Daniel Campbell, Alexander Robertson, and John Crerar. It is probable that the fund will be large enough within five or six weeks to start building operations.

The tract was reported by the committee to be an ideal site for an old people's home. It is situated on a ridge 1,000 feet east of the Desplaines river, is well wooded and has flourishing apple trees as an attraction. An option on the property until June 12 was obtained from the owner, Mary V. Hughes.

To Ask Ratification of Project.

The action of the society will be reported to the United Scottish societies for ratification at a meeting to be held at the Brevoort house June 17. Mr. Williamson said the action undoubtedly would receive the indorsement of the central organization of Scottish societies.

Every Scotchman in business or working in Chicago will be asked to donate one day's pay or work to aid the building fund.

A picnic and automobile ride to Garfield park will be given the sixteen inmates of the present Scotch old people's home at 43 Bryant avenue today by the Daughters of Scotia. Mrs. Robert Ballantine, president of the organization, will be in charge of the outing.

GUARDS AT JOLIET STOP OUTBREAK.

Supposed Plot for Wholesale Mutiny Revealed in Convict's Dash.

FAIL TO BE TRAPPED.

Attendants Before Following Fleeing Man Care for Other Prisoners.

Joliet, Ill., June 8.—[Special.]—A supposed conspiracy on the part of a large number of convicts at the state penitentiary here to make a break for liberty just after the noon hour today was frustrated by the guards, who refused to fall into the trap arranged. August Vatter, one of the convicts belonging to the quarry gang, is believed to have been one of the leaders.

Just as the long double line of 150 men had left the prison gates on the east side of the Lockport road and was marching across to the state stone quarry, two electric cars, one going north and the other south, came along. Vatter suddenly dashed from the line in front of the south bound car and got into a direct line with it, so that the guards could not shoot without taking a chance of hitting the passengers.

Eludes Guards, but Is Captured.

The gang was in charge of ten guards and Vatter evidently expected several of these to start after him. Instead they marched the prisoners to the quarry and got them inside before beginning the pursuit. The fleeing convict had a good start by this time and made for the woods northeast of the penitentiary.

A rain of lead from the rifles of the guards was sent after him, but the only bullet that took effect was one through his right hand. A posse of men started in pursuit, but Vatter succeeded in getting out of sight. He kept on toward Lockport and tried to hide near the Pinch farm, where he was discovered and captured two hours after he had made the break for liberty.

Vatter Believed to Have Been Tool.

Vatter is supposed to have been made a tool by more cunning prisoners. From a route taken toward the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad it is evident that he expected to get out of town on a train.

SENIORS IN "AS YOU LIKE IT"

The Girton senior girls will present "As You Like It," as given two weeks ago at Gads Hill, in the natural amphitheater in the college grounds. The players are Jeannette Kraus, Lillian Phillipson, Laura Bangs, Florence Carpenter, Rhea Kimball, Floriene Odenheimer, Geneva Hanna, Genevieve Turner, Sabra Hart, Laura Kennedy, Florence Bangs, Frances Bogert, Frances Sullivan, Dorothy Sargent, Adelaide Nelison, Ruth Jaffray, Helen Chapin, Darcey Orde, Helen Sullivan, Marjorie Pike, and Virginia Sullivan.

Meetings and Entertainments.

THE CHOIR OF ST. LUKE'S CHURCH, Evanston, will present the opera "Pinafore" at Ravinia theater tonight. Sir Joseph Porter's feminine relatives will be represented by boys. The proceeds will go toward the choir encampment fund. Ernest Sumner will be the musical director.

THE DEBORAH SENIORS AND JUNIORS will bring their season to a close today with a luncheon and theater party at Sans Souci park. Six hundred members are expected to be present.

THE AUSTIN WOMAN'S CLUB will celebrate its thirteenth anniversary with a reception at the residence of Mrs. W. O. Smith tomorrow afternoon. The club will then adjourn till fall.

"THE FOOL TAXPAYER" will be the subject of a lecture by Frank S. Regan, former representative from the Tenth senatorial district of Illinois, who will speak at the Rogers Park Congregational church Friday evening.

THE ROGERS PARK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH WOMAN'S SOCIETY will give a rose breakfast tomorrow. The proceeds will go to the local charities.

THE ELECTRIC CLUB will hear an address by Francis T. Simmons, president of the Lincoln park commissioners, on "Lincoln Park, Its Ambitions, Its Progress, and Its Effect Upon the City" today noon at the Automobile club.

THE FOSTER SCHOOL'S exhibit of handiwork opened yesterday and will close this evening.

A Mighty Ruler, He

Who wisely rules himself.

Curious what a scrap you have now and then (maybe two or three "nows" and several "thens") with what the old Scotchman called the "deevelish part" of your make-up.

* * *

It's safe to say "you" and not miss the mark, for we all belong to the same lodge, and it seems to be a part of some great plan to try us out and see if we can thus earn the right to rule greater things.

* * *

Most every day some one of the many "warriors of the enemy" comes across your pathway and puts up a scrap to see if he can rule.

* * *

You must be well trained and alert or he will make you bend the knee or, perhaps, break a leg or permanently cripple you.

* * *

There are several of these "enemies" which can be named over, but for the purpose of this article let us speak of the narcotics, the family which includes morphine, whisky, coffee, cocaine, tea, tobacco, etc., all the same family, each member having a different degree of strength.

* * *

Now, coffee is perhaps one of the most plausible and deceitful of them all.

* * *

It has many friends, but coolly and cunningly knifes them, and they don't know where the blow comes from.

* * *

Many and many a poor, nervous wreck with weak heart, suffers by day and lies sleepless at night without suspecting that his "dear old friend," Mr. Coffee, is quietly pushing him along towards the silent city. No, coffee don't hurt everyone by any manner of means, but it does pick out the highly organized individuals and wrecks them by the score.

* * *

Perhaps the victim realizes it, but has fallen time and again in the battle and been whipped so often that he has given up and bowed the head to the chain of his master.

* * *

"I simply cannot give up my coffee," is the wail, and so day by day he grovels and the master stretches him a few turns tighter on the rack of suffering.

* * *

Make sure of one thing. Once you become conscious of the fact that a fight is on, suffering follows steadily until you are able to rule.

* * *

Then comes the reward—comfort, health and happiness for the victor.

* * *

It is good work to stand right up and smash away with a "mailed fist" but it's much more comfortable to whip Mr. Coffee by throwing him "right over the side of the mountain" and give his place to Postum.

* * *

A steaming, fragrant cup of this famous beverage has the clear seal-brown color which changes to a rich golden brown under cream.

* * *

Oft times, remarkable changes quickly follow the victory of one's better self over a known enemy. Peaceful sleep, balanced nerves, stronger heart, and all the joy which comes after the removal of a drug and its replacement with natural food elements which old Dame Nature is only too glad to seize upon for the building material so badly needed and so long denied.

* * *

Well, here's best wishes to you, reader. Hope you don't get "licked" too often, it's weakening.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1909.

THOSE wild marcel waves have receded.

IT prints like a nonpartisan lot of judges.

FEAR reigns along the banks of the Wabash river, far away.

BY all means give the west siders ready access to the lake front, where they can watch the Illinois Central's smoke.

LET us hope King Edward does not wear his trousers creased at the sides for the reason—painful thought!—that he is slightly bow legged.

SOMEWHERE in your collection haven't you a picture of President Taft signing a tariff bill that makes rates higher than the Dingley tariff?

WHEN Miss Laura Drinkwine and Mr. Louis Champagne were married one day last week in New Haven, Conn., they yielded to manifest destiny.

YOU can't smoke 'em in Missouri, according to the new law, unless you are under 10 or over 18. Most Missourians, it will be seen, are exempt from its operation.

IF Anarchist Goldman is forbidden to use the public halls in East Orange she will speak in barns. By this means she will get into trouble with the fire insurance companies.

SOME of our prudent and economical citizens are conserving their last year's straw hats.

REPORTS from the various centers of population show that the prophet who predicted a general snow storm for last Sunday got his dates mixed.

ONE of the most objectionable features of Pittsburg is a certain person named Wagner.

WE cannot deny that one of the busiest and most congested spots in Chicago is the intersection of Dearborn and Madison streets.

IT has been discovered in Washington that Mrs. Taft is no unimportant part of this administration.

DON'T be deceived by Johnny's look of seraphic innocence. See if he has not a toy pistol hidden away somewhere.

THERE may be no carnival of crime in Chicago, but there is crime enough to keep the police force a little busier, perhaps, than it is.

THE per capita circulation, having been figured out carefully, is found to be $35.01. Got your share?

SOME of the able editors are withholding their criticisms as to Mr. Roosevelt's conduct in shooting monkeys until they can be sure there really are monkeys in Africa.

SEVERAL Democratic senators who have grown tired of Mr. Bryan's strictures are asking him to let them alone and mind his own business. They are wasting their time. Mr. Bryan will do nothing of the kind.

CHANCELLOR DAY'S loyalty to the interests herewith meets its reward. Mr. Archbold has just given $300,000 to Syracuse university.

THE case of Prof. George B. Foster affords a warning. As everybody will hasten to point it out, however, we refrain.

FULL returns indicate that the Hon. Tommy Morgan has not been elected a judge of the Superior court. But he came within 154,000 votes of winning.

AT irregular intervals you will hear of more shooting in Breathitt county, Kentucky.

WE hope Mr. Weston finds the walking growing better.

JUSTICE HAND RE-ELECTED.

The whole state was interested in the election held day before yesterday in the Fifth Supreme court district, and it has reason to rejoice at the result of the election. The voters of the district could have weakened, by placing an inferior man in it, a court to which all Illinoisans look for the just interpretation of their laws. They refused to do it and retained the services of a man of proved ability. They gave Justice Hand a majority which was a compliment to him and an evidence of their own discernment.

His majority was all the larger because of the character of the campaign which was conducted against him. His judicial ability was questioned openly by no one, but he was assailed in anonymous circulars because he had united with four other members of the Supreme court in a particular decision. This was an attack not merely upon him, but upon the court, and the voters of the district resented it. A quiet attempt was made to array the saloon element against him and the voters resented that.

They have given Justice Hand nine years more of judicial life. The people will get an ample return. He is not quite 59. His natural force is not abated. He will be as hard a worker during his second term as during his first. The Fifth Supreme court district has discharged its full duty to the rest of the state.

COTTON HOSIERY.

The senate agreed without much ado to the finance committee amendment restoring the Dingley law duties on cotton hosiery, which were increased by the house. But it is said in the Washington dispatches that "it is admitted by many senators that the house tariff will be restored in conference." Their reason for thinking so probably is that the senators who are the particular representatives of the American cotton hosiery manufacturers did not make a bitter and protracted fight against the amendment. The inference might fairly be drawn from their action that they looked for better luck in the conference committee.

It may be that Senators Penrose and Gallinger have hopes, but it is difficult to believe that the senate would recede from its amendment even if its conferees were to recommend that it do so. Indeed, if the house has learned anything since it passed the Payne bill it will keep this cotton hosiery matter out of conference by accepting the senate amendment. There have been enough demonstrations of popular sentiment regarding the outrageous attempt to tax the wearers of hosiery for the benefit of a few well to do manufacturers to make even the most hardened "standpatter" in the house pause and reflect.

It is a matter of indifference to Senators Penrose and Gallinger what the political complexion of the next house of representatives may be as long as they can get excessive protection for some local industries. There should be sufficient political sagacity in the Republican party in congress to prevent the enactment of a tariff law containing some particularly offensive provision calculated to bring down on the law and the party that enacted it the full force of popular indignation. Higher duties on cotton hosiery, affecting as they would millions of consumers, would mean party disaster. It would be useless for Republican stump speakers to invite voters to rejoice because the duties on lumber and steel had been reduced. The constant question put to them would be: "Why were those on stockings raised?" Nearly every woman in the United States would be continually reminding her men folks of that expensive fact.

HERESY HUNTING.

The Baptist church, so called, is a poor place for heresy hunters. There is no such thing as "the Baptist church." In organizations of that denomination the separatist principle is carried out to its last analysis. Each body of believers is sufficient unto itself. No other one can call its acts in question. There is no general convention to determine creed or swing nonconformists into line. There is no creed to which every member must subscribe. Instead there is absolute freedom and religious liberty in the broadest meaning of that term.

There can be no judgment, therefore, where there is no provision for judges. The individual Baptist belongs to a given "church." It is for that body and for none other to say whether he is to remain in good standing or not. As long as its members believe in the individual as an honest and sincere seeker after truth who lives his life as an upright citizen, and in his daily walk commends himself as a faithful man among men, his place in the local body is secure. Whatever strength the Baptists as a people have been able to gain among the great company of Protestants has largely come from their adherence to the ideas of religious liberty for which the founders of the denomination fought and suffered.

The University of Chicago is not a Baptist institution. Its charter expressly declares that no test or particular religious profession shall be held as requisite to election to the faculty, to admission to the student body, or to the reception of any honors it may have to bestow. Only as to its president and to a certain proportion of its trustees is there a limitation. Founded upon this broad basis of religious liberty it has grown strong in an era when "academic freedom" has become the slogan everywhere. Its teachers and the widening constituency which sends its sons and daughters, 5,000 a year, to the institution have learned to esteem this freedom as a thing to be cherished and encouraged.

Few courses of study are required. The elective principle obtains except for fundamental courses in mathematics, in languages, in science. No one is forced to sit at the feet of any instructor. Each of the men in the faculty tries to present the truth as it appeals to him. If his conception of truth is correct it will survive attack. If it is wrong it will quickly pass from view. No demand from outside that a professor be removed is likely to find supporters under such circumstances. The University of Chicago, like "the Baptist church," is a poor field for the heresy hunter.

GIVEN A HEARING.

Chicago is to have a hearing. The war department has made a ruling insuring publicity for permits affecting it. Final decision in the matter of piers will be reserved until the city's side is presented. Entirely apart from the present local conditions, the action of the secretary of war is just and proper. There are larger interests than those of an individual or a company, and where these may possibly be affected it is right that those who represent them should be permitted to state their case.

Chicago has been studying its harbor problem with a good deal of care. It has had a commission composed of earnest and energetic men hard at work for a long time. Under the encouragement of this commission specialists have made exhaustive reports upon the needs of the present and the greater future. Different ideas have been developed. The experience of the old world has been investigated with a view to obtaining light for Chicago. The outcome is as yet uncertain. But the impression gained from the reports of the specialists and from the utterances of interested public men is that the harbor question is one of vast importance and that it should not be settled without mature deliberation.

There was ground for expostulation, therefore, when it was discovered that the Washington authorities had made grants to companies and individuals that might, possibly, present serious obstacles to the carrying out of large plans for the "greater Chicago" that is to be. The health needs of the city had led to suggestions of recreation piers in connection with provision for business. This gave a new interest to the general discussion and enlisted the attention of thousands who care comparatively little for the requirements of present or prospective trade.

There are a large number of citizens, therefore, to whom the news of the ruling of the war department will come as welcome tidings. The tentative grants that have been made, three in number, may or may not interfere with the plans now being studied. The city may have no effective arguments to bring forward for the permanent recall of these permits. Again, it may be able to show that the private and corporate privileges menace the success of its own projects for the good of the greater number. It is entitled to a hearing. Chicago is gratified at the action of the war department making this possible.

THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

Said Secretary MacVeagh to the Commercial club: "There is every reason to hope that these present years will see the hitherto almost hopeless settlement of the banking and currency questions an accomplished fact." The administration, we are assured, is hospitable to any plan which may seem to cure the defects and evils of existing financial conditions, but "no makeshift proposals and no inadequate systems will be acceptable." In other words, there is to be no more patchwork legislation like that of the last congress. There must be real reform or nothing.

Although the need of comprehensive legislation has been apparent for many years there would be no hope of it during these present years if it had not been for several startling features of the panic of 1907. They opened the eyes of business men who had hitherto taken comparatively little interest in the question to the fact that something ought to be done. They had previously taken only a languid interest in the discussions of bankers and other men who were eloquent about the currency. Now they are convinced that something is wrong and ask that it be set right before the time shall come for another panic. So they look to this congress or the next one for remedial legislation.

Probably little can be expected of this congress. It will not take up the subject until it shall have received the report of the monetary commission. There is hope that it will elaborate a plan which will commend itself to the business and banking interests of the country. No sensible plan which it could submit would fail to meet the unreasoning opposition of those who believe or say they believe that the financial system which has grown up in the United States is the best the wit of man could devise. Nor can the commission frame a measure that will command the support of all who are or who profess to be financial experts. The best that can be hoped for is the approval of a decided majority of them. Such a measure will be supported by the business interests of the country, which will not forget the tribulations of 1907. That will insure its ultimate adoption by congress.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Not Yet, but Sometime.

Man from the City—"You intend to keep bees, I suppose."

Suburbanite—"Some day, perhaps. At present we are devoting our entire energies to keeping a cook."

Discordant Note.

"Mr. Meekun, don't you think a woman should receive a man's pay when she does a man's work?"

"Why—er—look at the other side of the question a moment, will you? Think how many men are doing women's work and not getting a cent for it!"

Putting It Up to Her.

Self-Possessed Young Woman—"Geoffrey, you have been coming to see me for more than a year. Don't you think it's time to tell me what your intentions are?"

Bashful Youth—"Why, Miriam, I was in hopes you'd suspect what my intentions are by this time."

Boyhood of Great Men.—No. XXI.

"Papa," said little Eddie, "I gotta have another pair o' shoes. These is all wore out."

"That makes seven pairs this year!" groaned the unhappy parent.

This incident took place more than sixty years ago. That boy has become an old man. His name is Edward Payson Weston, and he wears out shoes faster than ever.

Disapproves.

"I always had a high opinion of Mr. Roosevelt," said Mrs. Lapsling, "until he went to Africa to kill animals. I don't like that one bit, even if he does call himself a fawning naturalist!"

The Fan.

Daily he reads
These words with pain:
"No game today—
Wet grounds, and rain."

Not by That Name.

Shoe Salesman (to tall, bony customer)—"I'm afraid these shoes will pinch you a trifle, madam. I suggest that you try what we call our—h'm—our contracted No. 6."

Customer—"No, sir; I won't wear a 6. Have you an expanded No. 5?"

His Experience.

Curious Bystander—"When you are once up in the air I presume you can keep going as long as your gas holds out."

Balloonist—"N—no; not exactly. I can keep going as long as the gas holds in."

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1909: By the Brentwood company, all rights reserved.]

IT is not alone among the diplomats of high and low degree in active service that consternation has been created by the knowledge that the voluminous confidential papers, account books, and letter files of ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid have been seized by the new Ottoman government but also among those on the retired list. Indeed, all sorts of influences are at work to prevent the publication of these papers, and the revelation of their contents.

The fallen padishah was wont to subject each foreign diplomat, from the moment of his arrival at Constantinople, to the most searching espionage by his secret police, male and female. Ambassadors and ministers plenipotentiary, of course, received the largest share of attention. But even the greenest attaché and the humblest dragoman and chancellerie clerk were subjected to investigation. By these means the sultan was quickly able to ascertain the weaknesses of all the members of the diplomatic corps accredited to the sublime porte.

Those who were susceptible to the fascinations of the fair sex were inveigled into feminine intrigues, and afterwards confronted with threats of revelation. Those who gambled were encouraged to play for big stakes, and subjected in due course to losses heavier than they could afford to pay. Financial embarrassments were speedily brought to the knowledge of the sultan, and were by one means and another rendered more acute, so that the victims became ripe for offers of assistance from the imperial exchequer.

In fact, it required men of high principle, sterling integrity, exceptional discretion, and more than ordinary level headedness to steer clear of all the snares placed in their path by the sultan, with the sole object of getting them into his power and making them amenable to his wishes.

Two ambassadors of great powers who have just retired rather hurriedly and who have already left Stamboul are now known to have been drawing a regular allowance from the sultan to the tune of $10,000 a month apiece; that is to say, an amount considerably superior to the pay and emoluments which they received from their respective governments. It is not astonishing that under the circumstances the interests of the government and the people whom they represented were sacrificed in almost every instance to the sultan.

Another distinguished foreign ambassador refused with indignation any money bribe, although in straitened circumstances. But he made no secret of his passion for valuable bric-à-brac and curios. These were lavished upon him by the sultan and by the members of the latter's household with the most generous hand, and when at length he was transferred to a post of less importance, prior to superannuation, he sold all his collection for a sum which should render him comfortable in his retirement.

The smaller fry of the embassies were easier game, and only the chief permanent officials of the various foreign offices in foreign capitals could convey any idea of the large number of secretaries and attachés who have either had to be shelved because of dishonesty or else who have demanded and obtained a transfer in order to escape from a position rendered impossible by the conflict of their duties to their government on the one hand and on the other their pecuniary obligations to the padishah, or else the terrorism which he was able to exercise over them in connection with threats of revelation of indiscretions and shortcomings of one kind and another.

During the reign of Viceroy Said of Egypt and of his nephew and successor, Khedive Ismail, a similar condition of affairs existed at Cairo. In one instance the recipient of a handsome allowance from Khedive Ismail was not the representative in person of one of the European great powers but his wife. Another envoy of a great power had been dishonest enough to mortgage some property for a second time without intimating to the second mortgagee the existence of the first mortgage.

The second mortgagee was one of Khedive Ismail's agents, and naturally with this evidence of the envoy's dishonesty in his hands the minister and diplomatic agent was the humble servant of the effendina and blindly subservient to his wishes. Many a foreign diplomat was enriched in those days, sometimes directly and sometimes indirectly, by Khedive Ismail, and those who remained honest were looked upon as cranks and fools. The real fools, however, were those who placed themselves in the power of an unscrupulous oriental ruler, blind to the fact that sooner or later their lapses from the path of honor and duty were bound to become known.

In olden days even European monarchs were not above bribing the envoys to their courts, sometimes by money, sometimes by costly gifts, particularly of jewelry. If nowadays this practice has ceased it is partly, we may hope, because the general standard of honesty is somewhat higher, and no self-respecting sovereign or government could lend itself to such practices; and partly, too, because with the rapid means of communication, through telegraphy and fast mails, the power and importance of ambassadors and ministers plenipotentiary are immeasurably inferior to what they were in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries and the early part of the nineteenth.

While European governments have ceased to bribe, they are not, however, above subjecting the foreign diplomats stationed in their capitals to severe espionage, with the object of discovering their weaknesses, and of taking advantage thereof for use as a means of pressure. Lest it should sound invidious, I will refrain from giving here the name of that foreign ambassador in Paris who became the despair of the "mouchards" appointed to shadow him. For at the end of three weeks they reported that he was a hopeless case; that it was useless to continue to spy upon him any longer, since he had no discernible weaknesses, the report concerning him being to the effect that he was without vices—"pas des vices."

Possibly the United States government would not have been so quick in declining the invitation to participate in the forthcoming international exhibition at Brussels had it realized that the principal officer and dignitary of the enterprise was a nobleman who in addition to his title of duke of Ursel, which he habitually uses, is also duke of Hoboken, a name familiar to the ears of every one who has crossed the Hudson river at New York.

The founder of his family was Conrad van Schetz, baron of Hoboken, in Flanders, who was adopted by his mother's sister, Barbe d'Ursel, and inherited not only all her property but also her name and her armorial bearings. Emperor Charles VI. of Germany converted his barony of Hoboken into a dukedom, likewise creating him duke of Ursel, and as such he figures not only in the Belgian nobility but likewise in that of Germany and of the Netherlands. The late duke was president of the Belgian senate; and the present duke is one of the most popular members of the great world at Brussels. His dukedom of Hoboken dates from the 24th of April, 1717.

Here in America, as in every other civilized country, the authorities offer a pecuniary reward for the finding and recovery of a drowned person; a corpse therefore being of greater financial value to boatman than a rescue. On the initiative of Emperor William, the Prussian government is now inaugurating a scheme for providing monetary rewards for the saving of people from drowning, and the innovation is one which merits the consideration of people in this country, since to a man who has a starving family at home the temptation to allow a person to drown for the purpose of securing the reward granted for the finding of the corpse is so great that it may prove in some cases beyond the power of resistance.

The Adulteration of Drugs.

[National Magazine.]

The adulteration of crude drugs is a grave matter, rendering, as it does, the physician's prescription ineffective, with serious, perhaps fatal, results in a crisis. For example, digitalis is adulterated with stramonium, the addition of any amount of which would endanger the life of the patient when the remedy is depended on for prompt action in the case of heart failure; the strophanthus seed, which is also used in such cases, has been widely replaced by another variety of the same seed which has no effect whatever but costs only about one-fifth as much. Belladonna is often adulterated with pokeroot, which has an antagonistic effect, and ground olive pits have been used to the extent of hundreds of tons in such important remedies as ipecac and aconite.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Suggests Elections by Mail.

Chicago, June 8.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—I think it was in 1857 I read an article in your paper from a correspondent who suggested that we vote through the postoffice. In my more than forty-five years of study of our political conditions I have often thought of that article.

I think it could be improved if we had a federal constitution that would do away with state constitutions, so that the laws of this nation could be made universal throughout all our land. Our people are more cosmopolitan than the people of any one of the colonies were at the time of the adoption of our federal constitution.

I would suggest that it be made obligatory upon the electors, both male and female, to nominate through the postoffice their choice for given offices, for I maintain that the majority has no moral right to put into office any inefficient person.

If the new constitution was based upon the declaration of independence it would safeguard labor as well as capital.

We should create an exchequer that should have the sole power to raise revenue and expend the same and the sole power to control all municipal and private corporations. To give the officers time to study the various subject matters they should be elected for twenty one years and prohibited from engaging in any commercial business, either directly or indirectly, during that term.

Fears Aggression of Germany.

Chicago, June 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Never again will Germany possess the opportunity it now has of taking the place of England in the affairs of the world. If Germany should annex Denmark she would be a next door neighbor of the United States by virtue of possessing the "Danish West Indies islands."

If Germany annexes Holland she would get three large islands off the coast of Venezuela in South America, and also Dutch Guinea, bordering Brazil. Germany would then have a foothold in America, and the United States would have to fight to uphold the "Monroe doctrine." Germany would also acquire the Dutch East Indies by annexation of Holland.

Is it going to take place while Taft is president? Let the United States acquire by purchase from Denmark the Danish West Indies before Germany gets them, and also let us acquire by purchase those islands off the coast of Venezuela from Holland before they fall into possession of Germany. If we do not we will wake up when it is too late and then our boasted Monroe doctrine will be a thing of the past and go down in history as a political bugaboo that was used to get votes.

Juror Resents Judge's Censure.

Chicago, June 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—As one of the jurors in the Moore and Sullivan case in which Judge Willard M. McEwen saw fit to brand us as dishonest men, I wish to enter a protest. I am confident that every member of the jury in agreeing on the verdict was honest in his decision. We were instructed to take the evidence as we found it, and, if in doubt, to give a verdict in favor of the defendants, regardless of our personal impression of the accused, which we did. I care nothing about the day's pay which we were fined, but I do feel that Judge McEwen was unjust in stigmatizing us as dishonest.

Trolley Guide Books Needed.

Chicago, June 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I fully agree with E. H. G. that street car guide books should be provided for the use of strangers and others who want to take excursion rides throughout the city and suburbs.

This excursion business is worked up in other cities and would be something immense in Chicago if the managers of the various lines would give it attention.

As the city now gets a share of the profits the mayor could properly insist that the necessary information be provided.

OFF FOR DENMARK AND SWEDEN

500 Scandinavians to Attend Expositions in "Fatherlands"—July 4 Will Be Big Day.

Five hundred Chicago Swedes and Danes left on a special train last evening on the first stage of a journey to Sweden and Denmark, where they will attend expositions and celebrate in various ways during the summer. FRISCO INVITES NATIONS TO BIG SHOW IN OCTOBER.

Boomer of Function Known as "Portola" Arrives in Chicago—To Observe Quake Recovery.

San Francisco is getting ready to show to the world what an American city can do when it gets to going. This is what James Woods, "envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary" to everybody who might be interested, had to say last night at the congress.

The idea is that San Francisco has taken the earthquake of April 18, 1906, as merely an incident in passing, and, having washed her face and put on her Sunday clothes, is all set to receive company in the front parlor.

It is a "Portola" which San Francisco calls the entertainment to which the nations of the earth are summoned on Oct. 19 and continuing for a week thereafter. They get "Portola" from the name of the Spanish traveling gentleman who first heard of the Golden Gate. Gaspar de Portola is the full name of the adventurer and he arrived in San Francisco bay 140 years ago Oct. 19 next.

Envoy Woods is on a mission which has for its purpose the arrangements for a "hotel on wheels" across the continent, carrying representatives of each of the world famous hotels to the "Portola."

At the instant the "Portola" goes into action President Taft has promised to drink a toast to San Francisco, and the European commissioner is striving to get King Edward, the czar of Russia, Kaiser Wilhelm, and other distinguished citizens to drink a toast at the same instant.

PROGRESS FOR JAPAN'S WOMEN.

Baroness Uriu Tells Vassar Alumnæ Far East Gives More Chance to the Wives.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 8.—That Japanese women are making great strides in an educational way was the statement made by the Baroness Uriu in the course of an address at the Vassar Alumnæ banquet tonight. It was the first and only address the baroness will deliver during her visit to America. After commenting in a general way on the progress made by the college since her graduation, twenty-eight years ago, Mme. Uriu said:

"We, too, have changed. Japanese women have come forward and each year finds new and greater advances. There is no Vassar among us yet, but education for women and educational methods are progressing. And women are steadily advancing on lines different from yours, yet progressive. Many of your own women have good schools in Japan for our girls to help them to become good and influential women and wives."

On behalf of the Princess Oyama, wife of Field Marshal Oyama, who attended Vassar with her, the baroness extended greetings to the alumnæ.

Watertown, Conn., June 8.—Taft school was closed today for the school year owing to the reappearance in the school of diphtheria, which was epidemic recently.

Knight Cowles of Chicago has been taken ill with the malady.

WARNS DOCTORS OF NEW IDEA

Judge Cutting Addresses Graduates of Northwestern.

ALUMNI DAY AT UNIVERSITY.

Banquets, Play, and Meetings Inaugurate Commencement.

As a prelude to the commencement exercises of Northwestern university, the annual banquets of the alumni to the medical and dental graduates were held last evening in the Illinois Athletic club and the Palmer house.

Judge Charles S. Cutting addressed 600 medical students and alumni.

"There is a great movement in progress of what some call the new idea," he said. "To my mind it would be a bad thing if occult ideas or an insistence upon parts of religious faith should be allowed to supplant the science of medicine, and if persons imbued with these ideas should be permitted to supplant in the sick room the men who have been trained in the science of your profession."

Shailer Mathews, who responded to the toast, "The Idea," spoke in the same vein.

President Harris spoke at both banquets after having presided at several meetings in the day, which was alumni day. The university corporation met in the morning, and from that time until the banquets ended and the Glee club and Dramatic club presented their play, "Phormio," the students were constantly busy.

Patten a Vice President.

The corporation reëlected its officers and made James A. Patten third vice president. The trustees approved of the degrees and diplomas awarded to 592 students and the seven honorary degrees bestowed. President Harris in his report stated that the university this year has had 4,383 students and that the university property is valued at $7,356,085.

Changes announced in the faculty are:

George Albert Coe, honorary professor of the psychology and philosophy of religion, goes to Union Theological seminary, New York.

Philip Fox, Dearborn astronomer.

Curtis Hidden Page, professor of English literature.

Isaac Arthur Abt, professor of pediatrics.

George P. Costigan Jr., professor of law.

Edwin R. Keedy, professor of law.

William C. Bauer, professor of electrical engineering.

Day of Class Reunions.

There were class reunions and the Phi Beta Kappa society held its annual meeting and initiated many new members. A bronze tablet was dedicated in remembrance of Prof. George W. Hough. In Fisk hall Frank M. Elliott, president of the alumni association, presented a pipe organ to the university.

H. de Lagercrantz, minister of Sweden to the United States, is to receive the honorary degree of LL. D. today. This afternoon he will address the students at the Swedish Methodist Theological seminary, Evanston.

This morning the seniors will receive their diplomas at the fifty-first annual commencement exercises in the university gymnasium. Gov. Herbert Spencer Hadley will deliver the address.

Nine Nurses Get Diplomas.

Nine young women were graduated last evening from the German Hospital Training School for Nurses at the German Evangelical St. Paul's church, Orchard street and Kemper place. The address to the class was delivered by Dr. C. V. Bachelle.

Those who received diplomas were Tillie Stieter, Marie Wulf, Margaret Cornils, Anna and Amanda Rathje, Frances Post, Hannah Weland, Lilian Hankey, and Rose Appel.

DIVIDED OVER HONOR SYSTEM.

Upper Classes at U. of C. Indorse Examination Plan—"Freshies" and "Sophs" Object.

Upper class students indorsed the honor system at the University of Chicago yesterday. A constitution providing the system was favored by a vote of 143 to 45. The balloting among freshmen and sophomores was postponed until next fall on account of the opposition against the system in these classes.

It was estimated that nearly all the men opposed the plan, while the co-eds voted "yes." The men may defeat the scheme.

The constitution was framed by Miss Caroline Dickey, Lester Stern, and Robert B. Owen. The idea is to conduct examinations without the presence of the professor. At the end of each examination the student signs a pledge stating that he has neither received nor given aid in preparing the work.

NEWS OF THE SOCIETY WORLD

Mrs. Charles S. Deneen to Be Hostess at Saturday Luncheon.

JUNE BRIDAL LIST GROWS.

Interest in Weddings of Ethel Mae Green and Olive Colborne.

Mrs. Charles S. Deneen is to be hostess instead of guest of honor at the luncheon to be given at the Woman's Athletic club on Saturday. Mrs. Deneen is expecting to entertain the women of the party which accompanied herself and Gov. Deneen to Washington at the time of the inaugural ceremonies. This company as a matter of fact is continuing the festivities started on that occasion by a series of reunion dinners and luncheons. Later Miss Florence Deneen will give a luncheon at the Union League club for the same group of guests.

The marriage of Miss Ethel Mae Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian H. Green, 697 Indiana avenue, and Clarence Eugene Corwin of Atlanta, Ga., took place at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the family residence, the Rev. William P. Merrill performing the ceremony.

Mrs. Raymond Morley Winger (Pearl Lamberton) and Ernest C. Beaudry of Atlanta were the only attendants. The bride wore her traveling gown of gray broadcloth severely tailored. Her hat was a large gray chip trimmed with aigrettes and flowers. She carried lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore lavender broadcloth, with a large white hat trimmed with lavender flowers and carried sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Corwin will go south on their wedding trip and will be at home after July 1 at 244 Cortland street, Atlanta.

The wedding of Miss Olive Colborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Colborne, 611 Evanston avenue, and Dennis Wood Smith took place last night at 8 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents. The Rev. Frank M. Carson officiated. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Frank W. Church, as matron of honor, and Mr. Church served the groom as best man. Marion Carson and Harriett Booth stretched the ribbons. The decorations were in pink and white.

After a western trip the bride and groom will be at home at 1007 Bryn Mawr avenue, where they will receive after Sept. 1.

The marriage of Miss Grace A. Bogue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bogue, former Chicagoans, but now of Adrian, Mich., to Clifford A. Stewart of Adrian, interested Chicagoans yesterday. The young people were married in their own residence, Bishop Cheney going up to Adrian to perform the ceremony.

Mrs. James Ewing Bennett of Chicago, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor and Waldron Stewart of Hillsdale, Mich., was best man. Miss Minnie Tucker of Chicago sang the wedding music.

The bride wore white satin with rose point lace, the latter having been worn on her mother's wedding gown. Orange blossoms held her veil of tulle and she carried lilies of the valley. Mrs. Bennett wore white tulle and duchesse lace and carried pink sweet peas. A number of Chicagoans went to Michigan for the ceremony.

The marriage of Miss Susan Minnie Winans, daughter of Mrs. Martha M. Winans, until recently of Rockford, but now living at 267 Park avenue, and Dr. William August Buscho of Chicago will take place at noon today at the Park avenue residence. Dr. J. O. Randall, assisted by Dr. L. L. Hammitt, will perform the ceremony. The wedding is to be most informal, the bride to assist in receiving the guests. She will wear a gown of white satin and pearls and carry lilies of the valley. A breakfast will follow.

The wedding music will be given by Leon Louis Rice, tenor, and Mrs. George Nelson Holt at the piano. Judge Lincoln B. Smith of Washington and Prof. D. L. Musselman of Quincy, an uncle of the bride, are among the guests from out of town. The bride and groom will go to the northwest on their wedding trip and will be at home at the Park avenue address after Sept. 1.

Owing to the recent illness of Miss Emma Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Cole, who is to marry Tracy Luccock, son of the Rev. and Mrs. George N. Luccock, on Saturday evening, June 26, the bride-to-be is accepting only the most informal entertainments. Last night Miss Frances E. Jones, 832 North Oak Park avenue, gave a dinner to the bridal party at which Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Anderson (Maude Daniels) shared honors with the bridal couple-to-be. Covers were laid for twenty and the decorations were in pink and white. Tomorrow evening Richard Dearlove will give a stag dinner in honor of Mr. Luccock and G. B. Sandell, the engagement of the latter to Miss Mabel Dearlove having been announced recently.

Friday evening, June 25, Dr. and Mrs. Luccock will entertain the bridal party at dinner at their residence, 523 North Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park.

Miss Edith Seymour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Seymour, 120 Clinton avenue, Oak Park, announced her engagement to Lemuel Biglow of New York City at a reception and musical given in the afternoon. Assisting Miss Seymour were Mrs. Edith Ayers McCullough, Mrs. Marshall H. Jackson, Miss Ethel Hall, Miss Grace Selberling, and Miss Edith Osinga. The wedding will take place in the early fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Y. Freeman, 11 Scott street, entertained a small company of close friends at dinner complimentary to Miss Winifred Starr and Fletcher Dobyns, whose engagement has been a recent announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Vernon Booth have given up their residence at 17 Bellevue place and have gone to Oconomowoc for the summer. Mrs. Booth's sister, Mrs. P. A. Valentine, with Mr. Valentine and the sons, Philip and Lester Armour and small Anderson Valentine, hope to come on from New York the latter part of the month and go to their summer place, Danforth Lodge, Oconomowoc. The lodge was opened the first of May.

The senior class of Smith college presents "A Midsummer Night's Dream" tomorrow and the two succeeding days. Miss Margaret Tuthill of Chicago is on the cast.

Miss Laurenza Furst, who went to Washington to be a house party guest during the commencement exercises of her alma mater, National Park seminary, has joined her close friend, Miss Laura Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jones, who is a member of the year's Wellesley graduating class. Mrs. Jones also went on for the exercises, and with the two young women will go to the Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Bishop and son, Archibald, 2760 Sheridan road, have gone to Princeton, N. J., where another son, Harry, is a member of this year's graduating class from the university.

Ends Bachelor Vow of Club She Formed

Miss Elizabeth Seifried.

Miss Elizabeth Seifried, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Seifried of 1654 West Monroe street, will break her vows tonight to the Bachelor Girls' club, of which she was the organizer. She will wed Frederick Burling Hovey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hovey. The sixteen members of the club entertained lavishly for Miss Seifried, who made the acquaintance of her future husband at a Sunday school picnic. The engagement was announced after a courtship of six weeks, and it is said she has changed the views of other members, who soon are to be married.

STATE PAWNERS HOLD SALE

Knights of Pythias Pin Goes to Negro for Year's Savings.

CONTEST FOR WEDDING RING

Jewelry and Plate Valued at $12,000 Taken by Jobbers.

The auction sale of the State Pawners' society took place yesterday at the Williams, Barker & Severn company store, and some persons are in possession of unexpected articles today.

There was, for instance, a Knights of Pythias pin, highly ornamented in small gems, with a larger discolored diamond in the center. An elderly negro saw it as he stood far back on the fringe of the excited, jostling buyers, and it took his fancy from the first. His wife was with him and they were both grizzled, spectacled, and shabby. They had come to look at dining chairs until this later fancy distracted them, after which household economics were forgotten.

Year's Savings Buy Pin.

An agitated consultation took place, money was produced from unexpected receptacles, and the pin was narrowly rescued from an unsentimental jobber for the trifling amount of a year's savings, which was $8.75. No one present, however, could dispute that it was worth the sum. Pinned to a frayed lapel, it gave to that picturesque couple a touch to attract marked attention.

Then there is a wedding ring which shortly will go through the ceremony another time. It bears the inscription of an earlier occasion and is dented with a baby's tooth mark. A dealer started the bidding at 25 cents when the bridegroom-to-be "got into the game" and made it 30 cents, from which point the contest proceeded until the bridegroom got it.

Pays More than Market Value.

He paid what probably was quite a bit more than its market value, but he was of Swedish birth and had made up his mind to have it for his fair haired bride.

Other valuables and keepsakes did not come to so romantic a fate. Spoons marked in a foreign tongue, a punch ladle inscribed "For Ina, from grandpapa, on her wedding day," pins blazing with diamonds and in the designs made especially for the unhappy owners, all fell into the hands of dealers, who fought to get them for the lowest possible sums.

More than $12,000 worth of valuables was disposed of thus unsentimentally.

VISITING NURSES RETAINED DESPITE DEFICIT OF $3,000.

Association Hopes to Co-operate with United Charities and to Cover Loss with Donations.

The Visiting Nurse association of Chicago has undertaken to face a prospective deficit of $3,000 in carrying on its work on the present scale during the ensuing year. At the June meeting the directors decided not to cut down the staff.

In May the district nurses made 7,270 visits on 2,410 patients. The school nurses visited 5,602 schools and treated 79,180 pupils at school and at their homes.

"Our unusually low bank balance was accounted for by three obvious causes," said Eleanor F. Tenney yesterday. "First, a scale of nurses' salaries increasing according to length of service has been established. Second, two nurses supported by former residents of Chicago have been abandoned and are being supported from the general fund. Third, the administration of the school nurses done for the department of health has added largely to current expenses.

Miss Tenney declared the staff would be maintained to take advantage of the unusual opportunities for coöperation with the United Charities in a crusade against summer epidemics and with the hope of receiving donations.

Blue Island Seeks to Establish Park.

R. L. Jones, 241 York street, Blue Island, and several hundred voters of that town have petitioned Judge Rinaker, in the county court, to place before the voters in Blue Island the proposition of establishing a park district. Judge Rinaker said he would select a date for hearing arguments.

BY R. W. LARDNER.

In the presence of dark clouds, wet grounds, and a crowd that numbered about 1,500 the Cublets dropped yesterday's game to the Giants from New York, 3 to 2.

Conditions for play were less favorable than on Monday, but President John T. Brush objected so strongly when another postponement was suggested to him at 2 o'clock that the home club waived its prerogative of judgment on ground conditions and consented to the contest.

Of the 1,500 present two-thirds appeared to be pulling for a New York victory. They took it chiefly because the champions refused it and because Christopher Mathewson held us to two hits, one or both of which might not have been hits on dry land. Larry Doyle tried his worst to hand the Cubs the contest in the first inning, when his two kicks were turned into as many runs. These two were all the champions could land, however, and some loose fielding behind Mordecai Brown and some clean hitting off the same party netted the visitors enough to finish on top.

If Harry Steinfeldt could have delivered a safe one in the ninth, when there were two out and A. Hofman was on third base anxiously waiting to tally, the usual extra inning battle might have resulted. But Harry had driven in all the runs the Cubs did get when he landed for the first hit off Matty in the opening round. He was there in the first pinch, but fell before Christy's clever pitching when a hit would have meant a tied score and a twilight finish.

The worst of the defeat was that it came when the Pirates were pulling another game out of the fire. If Pittsburg could be prevailed on to lose once in a while it would not be so bad for the champions to do the same thing; but the leaders seem to have forgotten how to be trimmed. They now are out in front by a margin of three and a half games, which is quite a lead even at this stage of the season.

Hardly a Soul on Hand.

The scarcity of spectators may be attributed to two things—the dampness of the earth and the fact that Monday's scheduled game was postponed. Also the fact that it was announced downtown that there would be no contest might have had something to do with it. Few thought a ball game would be attempted under the conditions that prevailed yesterday, since there had been a postponement the afternoon before for less apparent causes. Anyhow it probably was the smallest assemblage that has seen New York play on the west side since McGraw was a boy.

But if the crowd was small it was select. One of the distinguished persons present was John T. Brush, president of the New York club. He was out at the yard early to see whether the grounds were wet by rain or a fire hose. That the latter was employed on Monday in making the diamond unfit for play was the testimony given by some of the Giants. The allegation was denied in vigorous terms by President Murphy and Manager Chance, both of whom asserted the postponement of Monday was the result of their unwillingness to take chances of having their valuable athletes sprained on the moist soil. Their evidence is more credible owing to the fact that it is neither customary nor beneficial for a club that is winning to order a postponement unless said postponement is absolutely necessary. Moreover, more human beings were turned away on Monday than paid their passage into the grounds yesterday, showing that fear of empty pews was not the cause of the Cub bosses' decision.

Hard to Lose, Lucky to Win.

The game was a hard one to lose. It would have been a lucky one to win, as victories do not come often on two hits. Big Christy had all his stuff working nicely, while Brownie was not as effective as usual against the men ordained by fate to be his victims. In seven of the nine innings only three men faced Matty to the inning. As has been stated, Doyle was the cause of all his trouble in the opening round, and with Larry's errors and one by Chief Meyers eliminated there would have been no opportunity for a Chicago score. Matty pitched shutout ball and deserved a shutout victory.

It was mostly Brown's own fault that the Giants scored on him in the third, and not his fault that the other two tallies came in. So we see that the count should have been 1 to 0 in favor of the invaders on the pitching alone. Christy helped his own cause materially by landing for two hits, both of which came in spots where they were needed.

The game looked to be all over at the end of the first round, for it is seldom the Giants can get as many as two runs off Brown. The lead looked good even after New York had cut it in two in the third. The seriousness of the case was realized only after Joe Tinker's first bad throw had been turned into another Giant run in the fifth. At that stage the few faithful began to think things over. The way Matty was going it didn't seem probable that the champions could score again. When the New Yorkers counted in the sixth as a result of Sheckard's muff, a hit, and the squeeze play, of which McGraw is said to disapprove, the thing looked hopeless, and so it proved, for no Cub ever came close to getting around after that until the ninth, when Chief Meyers' wild west throw enabled Hofman to reach third—alas, too late.

Charge Two to Doyle.

Doyle slipped up on the first ball hit to him and again on the second. Evers was saved by his bad throw and then he booted Sheckard's hard grounder, putting John on second and James on first, with none down. Hofman promptly and neatly sacrificed and, with the infield drawn in, Steinfeldt cracked one safely between Bridwell and Devlin into the lagoon in left. The two Js came across on this drive. Howard then fanned and O'Hara grabbed Schulte's long fly. The Cubs were through.

Moran scratched a hit past Doyle with one gone in the fifth. Brown lined to Bridwell, whose catch looked like a scoop, but which the umpires said was a catch pure and simple, and Pat was doubled before he could return to first. Evers walked to open the sixth and Sheckard hit into a double play, Matty to Bridwell to Tenney. Two out in the last hope, Hofman walked, stole second, and chased to third on Meyers' high throw. There he rested while Steiny struck out. In all the rounds except those mentioned Cublets were killed off as fast as they faced Matty's fire. They were popping his fast one into the air and missing his curve and fall away by feet.

Joe Tinker was the unluckiest of the local hitsmen. Jack Murray pulling off a catch on him in the fifth that would have discouraged a less stout hearted gentleman. Joe hit one in the direction he usually starts his over the fence homers. Jack dashed back almost to the fence, stuck up his gloved hand, stabbed the ball, and held on to it while he checked his flight by running right up the wall. If Joe's smash had dropped into a safe spot it would have netted the actor at least two bases, and as he was the first man up in the inning, something nice might have happened. But all the might haves were rendered useless by the fact that Murray caught the ball.

Giants Keep Plugging.

After appearing harmless for two rounds, the New Yorkers started their winning career in the third. Brown started wrong by passing Bridwell, the first man to face him. Meyers was thrown out by Brown, Al going to second. Mathewson shot a hard single to left, Bridwell stopping at third out of respect to Sheckard's arm. Tenney grounded to Tinker, whose throw to Evers forced Matty, but Frederick beat Johnny's relay to first and thus made Bridwell's run count.

Tinker's low throw made Devlin safe in the fifth. Bridwell poked a safe one to left and the big chief sacrificed. Again Mathewson singled, this time over second base, and Devlin scored, while Bridwell went to third. Tenney's push to Howard was the cause of Bridwell's death between third and home, and Doyle was easy for Evers and Del.

In the sixth Sheckard made a great try for McCormick's lift, but dropped it and Mac reached second before Jimmy could recover the ball. Sheckard caught Murray's long drive, but O'Hara's single sent McCormick to third, whence he scored on Devlin's bunt down the first base line, Del Howard just managing to field the ball to Evers, who was covering, in time to retire the bunter.

Two were down in the seventh when Tenney walked and Doyle, with two balls and nothing, singled over second. Pat Moran dropped McCormick's high foul, but it cost nothing, as Howard took care of Mac's roller over first base. Mathewson was safe on Tinker's second bad heave in the ninth, but two already were out and Hofman took Tenney's long fly. Score:

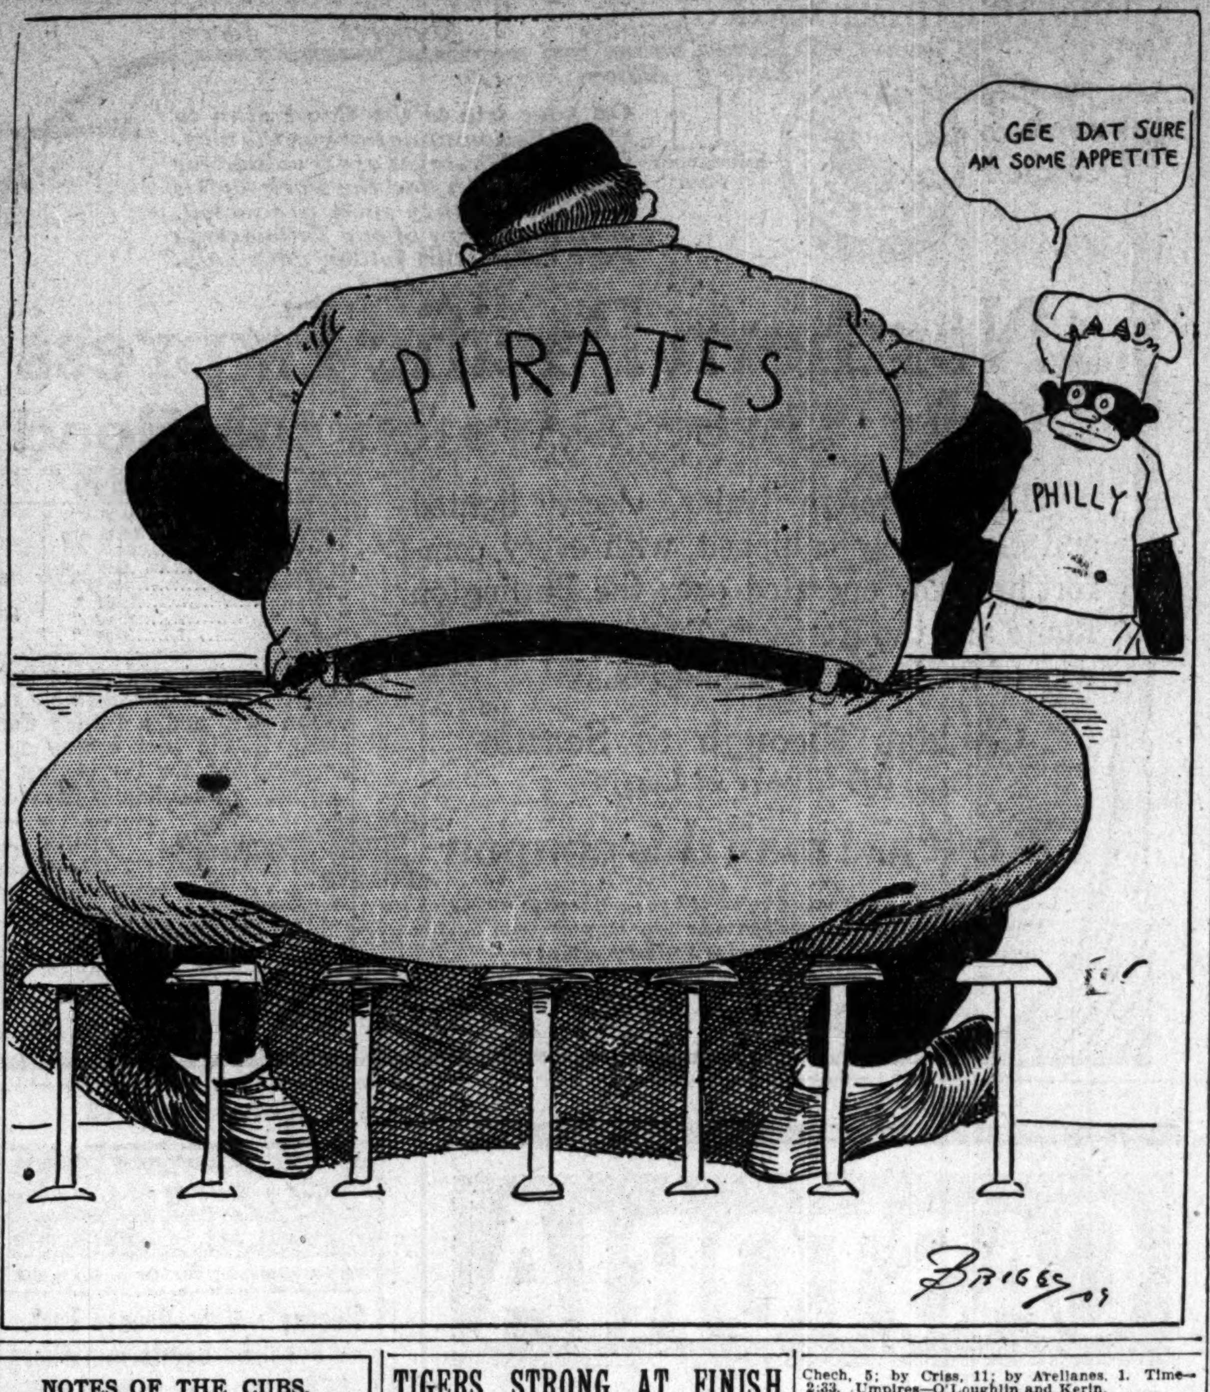
THE STANDING OF THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.



NOTES OF THE CUBS.

One of the left handers, Pfiester or Kroh, is carded to work against another of the same breed, Rube Marquard, this afternoon.

President Murphy's wife was reported better. A second operation for appendicitis was performed Monday morning and her condition was serious Monday night.

Brown's defeat was his third of the season, the other two being at the hands of the persistent Pirates. It was the first game he has lost this year in the regular time allotted, nine innings.

Utility man Herzog joined the New York club here yesterday. He was left at home on account of illness. He will be given the left field job if McCormick shows any signs of weakness.

Umpire Hank O'Day thought he heard uncivil words issuing forth from the lips of Catcher Snodgrass of the Giants and ordered the youngster off the bench and off the field during the sixth inning.

Manager McGraw and Coach Arlie Latham monopolized the first and third base coaching lines. The pair staged their latest skit entitled "Clouds and Sunshine." Muggsy impersonating the former.

Evers' spikes connected with Mathewson's hoof when the latter covered the bag on Johnny's roller to Tenney in the third. Matty hopped around painfully for a moment, then forgot it, and resumed his task.

One bug reported that some one had stationed himself at the Ogden avenue elevated station and was telling the arrivals that the game had been called off. Charley Williams hastened to the station to undeceive would-be patrons.

Steinfeldt and Howard combined forces in a pretty play on Devlin in the eighth. Harry made a sweet stab of Arthur's hard drive, but his throw was high. Del jumped into the air, hung on to it and landed on the bag ahead of the Giant.

Ted Sullivan was among the spectators. Ted is being congratulated on his discovery of Bill Purtell, who has been performing so well for the Sox. Ted persuaded Comiskey to sign Bill when other good judges of young ball players had passed the youngster up.

Phillies Fail to Stop Pittsburg's Wild Climb Toward Pennant—Buccaneers Win in Ninth, 4-3.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 8.—Pittsburg again defeated Philadelphia by making a great rally in the ninth inning, the score being the same as it was yesterday, 4 to 3. Three hits, two sacrifices, and Richie's error gave the locals two runs with only one man out. Hyatt started the rally today as he did yesterday, with a double. Brown was wild and was replaced in the fifth by Richie, who showed good control until the ninth. Phillippe was weak, but Camnitz was especially strong with men on bases. Score:

Lucky Hits and Passes Add to Excitement of Hard Contest.

New York, June 8.—Detroit defeated New York today in an exciting eleven inning game. The visitors were blanked until the seventh, when through three hits and two errors by Austin they made four runs. New York tied the score in the eighth on a base on balls and lucky hits by substituted batsmen—Demmitt and Hemphill. Bush scored the winning run in the eleventh on McConnell's only gift, Cobb's single, Engle's fumble, and Moriarty's infield out. Score:

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—[Special.]—More rain gave the White Sox more rest than they either want or need and added today's game with the Senators to an already formidable list of double headers in store for Comiskey's men later on in the season.

The off day also developed the fact that Manager Sullivan is likely to lose one of his pitchers when the team leaves here, the deserter from the ranks being none other than Bill Burns, the former Senator, secured in exchange for three White Sox.

Burns threatens to jump the Sox and cast his lot with the outlaw California State league, all on account of a dispute over a board bill here which Secretary Fredericks refuses to pay and which Burns says will terminate his career as a south side pitcher if he is compelled to pay it. He won't jump the board bill but will the club, he says.

When Burns left the Sox in Philadelphia to come here two days ahead of the rest of the team on account of a lame arm which made it impossible to use him against the Athletics he ducked the Arlington, which is the hostelry used by all visiting ball clubs, and put up at the Dewey, a residence hotel where Bill used to live when a Senator and where half a dozen of his former team mates reside during the ball season.

Burns Won't Join Sox.

That probably would have been all right, but when the rest of the Sox arrived Sunday night Burns declined to join them, but remained at the hotel of his choice. As ball clubs do not permit their hired men to select their boarding houses while on the road, but contract with certain hotels to provide for all their men, not part of them, with bed and board during their stay in each city, Burns ran foul of all precedent, and when asked by Manager Sullivan if he was not going to move over to the Sox hotel he was informed that the club would not pay his keep at the Dewey but would do so at the Arlington. Whereupon Burns allowed the club would pay his bill where he was stopping or he would remain there as long as it suited him at his own expense.

There the matter rests and if the pitcher sticks to his determination the Sox will leave for New York Thursday night without him. He already says he is in touch with the California league and would not at all mind going back to the glorious climate out there, which cannot be any worse than that encountered by the White Sox this year if all that is said by nonresidents of the native son state is true and then some.

The same rule relating to ball players on the road was responsible for Frank Smith's desertion of the Sox a year ago last spring. While out on a training trip the Pittsburg Sandow didn't like one of the hotels at which the Sox put up and quit the club on that account, but rejoined it in a couple of days and still is looking for his $7. While it would have been a bit unusual, Secretary Fredericks undoubtedly would have settled Burns' account at the Dewey for two days he was in this city in advance of the Sox, but after their arrival the player, he claims, belonged with his teammates, otherwise if exceptions were made, it would be but a short time before all the players would select their own quarters in each city and all club discipline would be disregarded.

Manager Sullivan planned to pitch Burns against Washington today, but will not use him tomorrow under the circumstances, as he would not be inclined to overexert himself while feeling grouchy toward the club owner and management.

Harry Sutor, another California southpaw, probably will be Sullivan's choice, although he may pick out Doc White. Sutor has not yet started a league game, but has finished several in good shape and is eager to get a real tryout.

May Play in Bridgeport.

A request was received by Manager Billy today by wire from Orator O'Rourke, owner of the Bridgeport, Conn., Valley league team asking the Sox to come to Bridgeport for an exhibition game next Sunday while they are loafing in New York. Sullivan wired back the team would play in Bridgeport for a $500 guarantee and is awaiting the reply. O'Rourke plays his Sunday games on an island near Bridgeport, which is a pleasure resort. It was there the Cubs played while a grand stand was burning down a couple of years ago, thereby outdoing Emperor Nero and his violin solo at the burning of Rome.

An invitation also has been received from the Pan Handle White Sox of Columbus for an exhibition game there on June 25, which is an open date, while the Sox are in Cleveland. The Pan Handlers have been asked for a guarantee and a game may be played if no postponement with the Naps prevents.

Today's is the fourteenth game the White Sox have had postponed or drawn this season and they have disposed of three of them, leaving eleven on the books to be worked off. The Sullivans have two hangovers to play off with the Browns, one in St. Louis and one in Chicago. They have two postponements with Cleveland, both of them in Chicago. Washington has a tie to work off in Chicago and New York has two games left over there. Detroit also has a tie to play off in Sox town.

On this trip the Sox have two postponements in Philadelphia and one here, with the chances of more to come. There will be need of an extended pitching staff if the weather ever permits getting busy with double headers, for on the next trip east the Sox will have to play eleven games in eight days here and in Philadelphia on returns up to date.

LANE ELIMINATES OAK PARK IN SEMI-FINAL "PREP" GAME.

Victory by 3 to 0 Score Places Technical School in Championship Contest—Faunt Proves a Power.

Lane "Tech" snuffed the championship aspirations of the Oak Park High baseball nine yesterday at De Paul field in one of the semi-final games for the Cook county title by defeating them, 3 to 0.

This result earns for Lane the right to meet the winner of the Crane-Austin game tomorrow at Artesian park in the final contest which will decide premier honors for the year. The date will be selected by the board of control.

Lane's victory was due largely to Pitcher Faunt, who proved a power both on the slab and with the bat. The youngster held the opposing scholastics to four lonely hits, fanned eight of them, and awarded but one walk on free transportation, while his two doubles proved a factor in the results. Behind him the Lane boys put a perfect fielding game, while the suburbanites erred three times. Score:

BIG MEET ENTRIES NUMBER 91 TEAMS

More Schools in Saturday's Interscholastic than Ever Before.

LOCAL LADS HOPE TO WIN.

Chicagoans Look to University High to Carry Off Honors and Medals.

Ten more "prep" schools yesterday entered Coach Stagg's prize interscholastic meet, to be held on Saturday at Marshall field, and boosted the total to ninety-one teams. This huge entry list outnumbers that of any previous year. Preliminary heats in several events will be run off on Friday, this being the first time the process of elimination has been necessary.

Another innovation will be the holding of two races in the 880 yard run, with medals for the winning three in each. Heretofore the quarter mile was the only race in which this was a feature. With the exception of the 100 yard dash, with sixty-four, the half mile has the largest number of entries, sixty-three.

Thirteen championship teams will try for honors on Saturday. Among the newcomers are Culver, winners of Lake Forest meet; Lake Forest, last year's title winners at Stagg's meet, and Kansas City Manual training, leaders in the Kansas state meet. The competing teams in the tennis tourney will start their matches tomorrow morning and will play for three days.

Illinois in the Lead.

Illinois is far in the lead among the twelve states, being represented by 37 schools and 271 athletes. Indiana is second with 10 schools and 73 competitors, and Iowa is next with 8 schools and 68 athletes. Six schools and 54 stars will come from Michigan, 9 schools and 34 athletes from Wisconsin, and 5 teams with 28 boys from Missouri.

Broadway High school of Seattle will have the largest squad outside of Chicago in the meet. Seventeen men will represent the champions of the northwest, who are confident of capturing the meet. The sudden entrance of four more athletes from Mercersburg academy, the sole representative from Pennsylvania, boosts the chances of the Quakers several notches. These boys took honors two years ago with the most sensational performances ever made by high school athletes on Marshall field. They have defeated all the eastern teams this year and are feared by the Chicago men. Other states represented are Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, and Kansas.

Coach Stagg classified the entries last night as follows: Sixty-four in the 100 yard dash, 61 in the 220, 56 in the 440, 63 in the 880, 51 in the mile, 27 in the 2 mile, 41 in the low hurdles, 29 in the high hurdles, 33 in the shot put, 43 in the pole vault, 33 in the broad jump, 37 in the high jump, and 30 in the hammer throw. Fifteen relay teams will compete.

Local Boys Complete Work.

Local high school boys have completed their hard training for the meet and after a light workout this afternoon will rest until called to the tape. Marshall field has never seen such activity on the part of the "prep" athletes, who, despite the bad weather, have appeared daily. The Chicago teams propose to make a desperate fight to keep the championship in Chicago and are relying upon University High to do the trick.

Two of the mainstays of West Des Moines High school, victors in the Iowa state meet, yesterday signified their intention of coming to Chicago for the meet. They are Hammit, a high hurdler, and Redfern in the distances.

"I am extremely gratified at the unprecedented interest shown in the meet," said Coach Stagg in commenting on the games. "I look to record breaking work and fierce competition. The number of first caliber men far exceeds that of any meet ever held under the auspices of the university."

NET STARS IN TENNIS EVENT.

Potter Beaten by Bull in Englewood Tourney—Behr, Little, and Fischer on Courts.

Englewood, N. J., June 8.—The feature of the Englewood Field club tennis today was the defeat of Thomas W. Potter by C. M. Bull Jr., 6-1, 6-2. R. D. Little defeated E. P. Fischer, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1 and W. H. Connell, 6-4, 6-3. Karl Behr won from W. V. Bennett, 9-7, 6-3. W. A. Larned appeared, but allowed his place in the singles to go to Potter, whom Bull defeated.

RETAIN MIXED TENNIS TITLE.

Miss Marion Fenno and George Wrenn Successfully Defend Honors in Eastern States Tourney.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 8.—Miss Marion Fenno and George L. Wrenn of Boston successfully defended their title to the championship in mixed doubles at the Pennsylvania and Eastern States tennis tournament at Haverford. They defeated Eleanora Sears of Boston and William J. Clothier of this city, 9-7, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

CHICAGO YACHT FIRST TO BERMUDA

Dr. Baum's Amorita Leads Fleet in Long Ocean Race from New York.

BREAKS SPEED RECORD.

Despite Brilliant Trip Local Boat Loses Cup Honors on Time Allowance.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 8.—Dr. William L. Baum's schooner yacht Amorita of Chicago was the first of the racing fleet to reach the finishing line off St. David's Head. It had sailed a wonderful race from New York, breaking all records and showing wonderful speed under conditions that were favorable to fast sailing.

Just 12 minutes and 57 seconds astern of Amorita was Margaret, owned by George S. Runk. Being a smaller boat, shorter on the water line, and having less sail area to drive it, it had done even better than Amorita. Amorita is 99 feet long and Margaret is 93 feet. On time allowance for this race Amorita allowed Margaret 4 hours and 30 minutes, making Margaret winner of the race.

Crusader II., owned by Edwin Palmer and sailed by Capt. Charles Barr, was third to finish. It was nearly 46 minutes astern Margaret, and, being allowed 1 hour and 30 minutes by Amorita, was placed second to Margaret.

Yachts Before Good Wind.

The race was a remarkable one. The yachts were in sight of one another for a long part of the 670 mile journey. They sailed most of the way in half a gale of wind, which blew from the northeast, sending the racers on their way so fast that the time they made is really wonderful. Amorita, according to her log, averaged 12 knots for more than seven hours, and in four hours it sailed fifty-four nautical miles, which is an average of 13.5 nautical miles an hour. This for a vessel only 70 feet long on the waterline is wonderfully fast sailing. The best daily run of twenty-four hours was made by Margaret, from noon on Sunday to noon on Monday it ran 257 miles. The Amorita has the next best record, 254 miles, and the Crusader II. ran 253.

It was about 2 o'clock when the lookout in the lighthouse on St. Davids' Head picked up two sailing craft to the northwest. They were heading toward the light, but it was a long time before the yachts could be made out. As they drew near their numbers could be distinguished. Amorita was the leading boat. Just astern of Amorita was Margaret and the third boat was Crusader II.

Amorita Crosses Line.

The second boat was slowly gaining on Amorita, and for a time it was thought she was to have the distinction of crossing the line first, but Amorita's skipper succeeded in keeping his boat in front, and at 4:19:15 it swept across the line and was saluted with cheers from every craft that had gathered at the finish and by guns. Margaret swept on toward the harbor and was barely clear of the line when Margaret crossed. This was at 4:21:12. Crusader II. crossed the line at 5:07. When the yachts reached their moorings committees from the local yacht club visited and made the crews welcome.

The yachtsmen told the story of the race when they reached the Royal Hamilton Yacht club, and the stories they told showed the race to be one of the most remarkable ever sailed.

Amorita took the lead, passing Crusader II. Saturday afternoon, but later in the day Crusader again took the lead, and during a hard blow Sunday Amorita could be seen astern the Crusader.

Battle All the Way.

Amorita and Margaret passed Crusader again late Monday and then held the lead to the finish, the two battling for every inch of water over which they sailed. On each yacht all was reported well. Although the amateurs were tired, they were delighted with their experiences.

Dr. William L. Baum of the Chicago Yacht club says his yacht carried its boom on the same side all through the race. In one hard puff it carried away the staysail, which was the only accident to the yacht. From noon Saturday to noon Sunday it raced 149 miles. From noon Sunday to noon Monday it ran 254 miles, and from noon Monday to noon today its run was 207 miles.

Summary of the race follows:

Course 670 miles. Start 10 a. m. June 5:

	Finish	Elapsed time	Corrected time
Yacht and owner.	June 8.
Margaret, G. S. Runk	4:21:12	78:21:12	73:51:12
Amorita, W. L. Baum	4:19:15	78:19:15	78:19:15
Crusader II., E. Palmer	5:07:00	79:07:00	77:37:00

The performance of Amorita sets a new record for this annual race. The Dervish until today held the record of 90 hours 25 minutes. Amorita's time, 78 hours 19 minutes and 15 seconds, lowers this time by 12 hours 6 minutes and 15 seconds.

While keen disappointment was expressed at the Chicago Yacht club last night over the failure of Dr. Baum's Amorita to win the Bermuda race, members of the organization found a good sized crumb of comfort in the fact that the C. Y. C. representative was the first boat to finish at the "dot in the sea."

Those about the clubhouse were particularly elated over the apparent fact that the Chicago crew had outmaneuvered and outsailed Charlie Barr of America cup fame, who acted as skipper of Crusader II., which finished third. News of the result came to the club in a cablegram from Dr. Baum which simply read:

"Amorita first to finish, but loses on time."

The local schooner was the largest entry in the long race and was obliged to concede the others to 2. second; Tom Holland, 111 [Walsh], 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:06 3-5. Frank Stagg, Rebel Queen, Orena, Craftsman, Busy Man, Jack Right, Pal, Etheldia, Zeola, Cassowary, Select, and Firehall ran.

RACE RESULTS AT MONTREAL.

Montreal, Que., June 8.—Track and weather conditions were perfect for the third day's spring meeting of the Montreal Jockey club at Blue Bonnets, but the attendance was small. In the Kindergarten stakes Flying Squirrel, the well played favorite, was defeated.

NEWS OF CHICAGO FROM AFAR.

Latonia Horsemen Again Hear Racing Will Be Attempted Here with Betting on the Nod.

Cincinnati, O., June 8.—[Special.]—T. W. Flynn, who formerly raced a string of horses around the Chicago tracks and now owns a theater in South Chicago, is the latest sponsor for the information that there will be racing in the Windy City with oral betting. According to Flynn a company in which he is interested will attempt to conduct a meeting in connection with a fall fair. Latonia horsemen pricked up their ears, but it all sounded too much like other Chicago stories of the same nature which failed to materialize to cause much commotion.

WORK ON MEXICAN RACETRACK.

Course at Juarez Being Placed in Shape—Promoters Given Concession by Officials.

El Paso, Tex., June 8.—[Special.]—Work has already been started on a big racetrack in Juarez, Mexico, for which Col. Matt J. Winn, J. G. Folansbee, Alberto Terrazas and others have the concession. It carries the tacit understanding that the lid will be off and that Juarez will be the Monte Carlo of Mexico, with roulette, monte, poker, faro, keno, and other games.

STAKE RACE TO FITZHERBERT

Favorite Captures Gravesend Feature by Two Lengths.

FALL MEETING IS PLANNED.

Owners Decide in Favor of Late Racing at New York Tracks.

New York, June 8.—Fitzherbert, the 1 to 3 favorite, easily won the Broadway stakes of $2,500 at Gravesend. The field against him was of only ordinary caliber.

Fashion Plate had a good lead on the backstretch and held his advantage to the turn, where Burns let down Fitzherbert, which went to the front and won by two lengths. In the six furlong dash King Kobalt beat De Mund.

Horse racing on the metropolitan tracks under the new anti-betting laws has been apparently successful for the track owners and unsuccessful for the horse owners.

In view of the gate money taken in at Belmont park and Brighton Beach, it will probably be decided to hold fall meetings at the local tracks. Even Jamaica and Aqueduct will open their gates for short sessions, so the sport may continue until the 1st of November. The horse owners are clamoring for at least four days if not five a week and say that unless the schedule is increased they will be compelled to ship their horses to the Canadian tracks, where racing is held every day. Summaries:

First race, 2 year olds, ¾ mile—Our Hannah, 103 [Butwell], 7 to 1, won; Zacatecas, 101 [Creevy], 3 to 1, second; Elizabethan, 103 [Dugan], 8 to 5, third. Time, 1:02. Cross Bun, Good Intent, Dixie Dixon, Edith Inez, Miss Loris, Misty, Black Annie, Badminster, and Semicolon ran.

EXPERTS PLAN NEW BUNKERS FOR IRVING PARK LINKS.

Course When Completed Will Be One of Hardest in Chicago District—Schedule Events for June.

Professional David McIntosh of Westward Ho is assisting Dave Jolly, the home expert, in bunkering the Irving Golf club course and when the two Scotchmen have finished their labors the already difficult course will be one of the hardest in the Chicago district.

June 16—Tom Morris Memorial trophy.
June 19—Team match, secretary vs. treasurer.
June 26—Qualifying round, F. J. Cushing handicap cup.

The Skokie Country club has arranged a large number of golf events for its women players. The main event on the program is the open tournament which will start on July 12 and last four days. Events for June are as follows:

L. Hecox, and F. J. Ketchell.

LOW SCORE TO MISS ADAMS.

Boston Player Leads Field in First Round of Eastern Women's Golf Championship at Baltusrol.

Short Hills, N. J., June 8.—A strong March wind sweeping over the Baltusrol links played havoc with the scores of the women golfers entered in the annual eastern championship today.

Of forty starters only two returned cards of less than 100 in the first half of the thirty-six holes medal competition. Miss Georgianna Bishop, former national champion, took eleven strokes on the first hole and tens were so frequent as to excite no comment. Miss Mary Adams of Boston was low score with 91. The score of Mrs. Charles T. Stout, former national champion, who returned to the sport after several years' absence, was 108, and that of Miss Mix, the new metropolitan champion, 113.

The scores of the twelve leaders in the first round follow:

	Out.	In	Total.
Miss Mary Adams, Boston	46	45	91
Mrs. Caleb Fox, Philadelphia	48	48	96
Miss Katherine Harley, Bala	47	53	100
Mrs. R. H. Barlow, Philadelphia	54	50	104
Miss Georgianna Bishop, Bridgeport	55	50	105
Miss Frances Griscom, Philadelphia	49	56	105
Miss Elizabeth Hussey, New York	59	46	105
Miss Elizabeth Porter, Boston	54	51	105
Miss Irene Richardson, Philadelphia	52	53	105
Mrs. M. D. Paterson, New York	47	60	107
Miss McNeley, Philadelphia	53	54	107
Mrs. Charles T. Stout, New York	53	55	108

At a meeting held this morning it was decided to hold the next contest at 72 holes, 18 each day.

The Griscom cup competition, which follows the championship, means that six days will be required to complete the meeting instead of four as at present.

KETCHEL WILL TRY TO STOP O'BRIEN.

Champion Middleweight Will Meet Clever Philadelphia Boxer Tonight.

SIX ROUNDS THE LIMIT.

Each Man Looks for Victory by Favorite Tactics; Weight, 160 Pounds at Noon.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 8. — [Special.]—Stanley Ketchel, middleweight champion of the world, will undertake the difficult task of trying to knock out Jack O'Brien in six rounds before the National Athletic club here tomorrow night. There is so much interest in the mill that 4,000 fight fans will be at the ringside. Of this number more than 200 will come from New York.

Wise individuals who make a practice of studying the pugilistic "dope" seem to think that Ketchel will be lucky if O'Brien does not outpoint him.

They figure that for six rounds O'Brien is the fastest boxer in the world. "Philadelphia Jack" made the negro, Jack Johnson, look like a second rater in that length of time, yet Johnson is admitted to be clever in the science of the ring.

Pair Have Met Before.

O'Brien and Ketchel met before the National Athletic club of New York several weeks ago, and it will be recalled that for six rounds Ketchel was carrying the bulk of the blows. O'Brien danced in and out, jabbing with his left and hooking with his right until Ketchel's nose was bleeding and he actually was staggering around the ring. The middleweight champion says that he is just on edge. He also predicts that he will stop O'Brien in quick time for the reason that he will be faster in his attack and will weigh more than in his previous mill.

O'Brien has eased up in his work. He declares that he never was in better shape and expects to outpoint Ketchel with ease. But Jack admits that he will not indulge in close range fighting, but will try to keep away from his opponent's wonderful blows as long as he has a pair of legs.

Boxing Plans of O'Brien.

In short, O'Brien intends to give his usual imitation of a dancing master with dazzling blows shooting out with great rapidity. Under such pressure six rounds will not be a task for the Philadelphian, whose footwork is not excelled by any man in the ring today. It can be realized, therefore, how difficult is Ketchel's task and how much credit he will be entitled to if he scores a knockout.

O'Brien and Ketchel will enter the ring about 10:15 o'clock with Jack McGuigan as referee. The men will weigh in at 160 pounds at 12 o'clock noon.

FLEMING LICKED BY CORBETT.

Former Lightweight Champion Has Slight Advantage Over Opponent in Six Rounds.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 8.—Young Corbett and Mike Fleming boxed six rounds tonight before the Douglas Athletic club. Corbett had a slight advantage over the local lightweight, but both men were pretty well cut up at the end of the bout.

BOXING BILL MAY BE VETOED.

Wisconsin Governor, Although He Believes in the Sport, Says Promoters Have Been Unfair.

Madison, Wis., June 8.—[Special.]—Word has come the executive office that the Brew boxing bill will be the subject of one of the most interesting veto messages of the session. The bill had comparatively easy sledding both in the assembly and senate, the younger members of both houses being in favor of the manly art.

Gov. Davidson agrees that boxing is a good sport, but he does not believe in prizefighting. He is quoted as having said that professional fight promoters have not played fair with him.

He says in past seasons he has permitted them to hold fights upon the understood condition that there were to be no violations of the law in letter or spirit. These promises, he says, have been violated.

TWO MAT BOUTS FOR CALUMET.

Adamson of Chicago and Beeman of Cleveland to Meet June 17—Ziehr and Rowett on Card.

Calumet, Mich., June 8.—[Special.]—Ed Adamson of Chicago and Pearl T. Beeman of Cleveland were matched here today to wrestle for the middleweight championship at catch-as-catch-can, the contest to take place here June 17. Joe Ziehr, the heavyweight Cornish style wrestler, and John Rowett of Bessemer will meet here next Saturday night. Kid Parker of Saginaw and Spider Kelly of Oshkosh, Wis., lightweights, will fight a ten round battle here Thursday night. McGoorty of Calumet and Allard of Lake Linden, middleweights, will meet the same night in a ten round go.

Frank Gotch Engaged? Not He!

Des Moines, Ia., June 8.—[Special.]—Champion Frank Gotch, wrestler, denies the interesting little press agent yarn from Chicago that he is engaged to an employé of a local theater there. Gotch's attention was directed to the story over the long distance phone. "Guess some one is trying to play a little joke on the young woman and myself," commented the champion.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS.

BY HEK.

THIS WRITES ITSELF, OF COURSE.

It would be a positive pleasure to the patient day watch to chop——

Ting-a-Ling—Is that the sporting department?
D. W.—Yes, madam.
Ting-a-Ling—Will there be a game on the west side this awfternoon?
D. W.—I do not know.
Ting-a-Ling—You don't?
D. W.—Honest, madam.
Ting-a-Ling—Why don't you find out? (Clatter of hanging up the receiver at the other end.)

——in the midst of a laboriously conceived thought that might furnish some enlightenment, some——

Ting-a-Ling—Hello, old chap, is that you? This is ——. How are you, anyway? I was thinking about going out and looking the Cubs over this afternoon. Will they——
D. W.—First rate. How about yourself?

——entertainment, or at least——

Ting-a-Ling—Is that "The Tribune"? Is Mr. Sanborn there?
D. W.—No, he is in Washington.
Ting-a-Ling—He is?
D. W.—Gaw's strewth.
Ting-a-Ling—Well, perhaps you can tell me. Will the——
D. W.—I do not know.

——some excuse for drawing pay to answer the polite inquiry——

Ting-a-Ling—A couple of us fellows have had an argument and we want you to settle it. A says it rained in Ravenswood yesterday morning and B says it didn't.
D. W.—Which of you lives in Ravenswood?
Ting-a-Ling—I do.
D. W.—You win.

——as to whether the pending baseball game——

Ting-a-Ling—Hello! Tried to get you a half hour ago, but they slipped me the busy signal.
D. W.—Don't blame 'em; that's all I've been getting.
Ting-a-Ling—Do you think they will cut loose on the west side this afternoon?
D. W.—Search me.

——was still pending or post——

Ting-a-Ling—Will there be a game this afternoon?
D. W.—Where?
Ting-a-Ling—On the west side, of course.
D. W.—At the Cubs' park?
Ting-a-Ling—Yes; isn't the Giants here?
D. W.—They is.
Ting-a-Ling—Then why don't you tell me what I want to know?
D. W.—Really, I can't.
Ting-a-Ling—Then why do you want to take up my time?
D. W.—I am simply stalling. The next one may not have as pleasant a voice as yours. I am trying to snatch a few minutes' rest. You don't mind, do you?

——poned, if we only were——

Ting-a-Ling—Will there——
D. W.—Can't tell.

——Joseph to the knowledge.

Ting-a-Ling—Hello, you goat. How long are you going to be there?
D. W.—A holy minute.
Ting-a-Ling—Where shall I meet you?
D. W.—Any place you say.
Ting-a-Ling—All right. I'll meet you there in a half hour.
D. W.—You're on.

Can it be that this deceitful weather man has sprung a new paradox upon us which makes Baseball parks, yards, or inclosures wetter when they are dry and dryer when they are wet?

A dispatch from St. Paul, whence comes a lot of our interesting local news, has it that Mr. Comiskey and Mr. Johnson are intent upon purchasing an island some place up there and establishing a game preserve.

Memphis informs us serenely that Mickey Shannon, the poet lariat of the brick barn, who is now first lord in waiting to George Walker, who is chief equerry to Count Wernberg in Germany, is interesting the king of England and the emperor of Germany in a project to pull off a match race in America between Minoru and a 3 year old from the emperor's stable. We don't see how you can improve on that for a wheeze.

They also grow good athletes out there in California.

This in answer to request for advice from an ambitious youth: It is twice as far from Seattle to State street as it is from State street to Seattle.

At the time of knocking off work the deal with Johnny Kling was still in abeyance and subject to a momentary change of complexion.

GILMORE CANCELS A BATTLE.

McFarland's Bout with Knight at Kansas City Not Satisfactory as to Terms Offered.

Manager Harry Gilmore Jr. has decided to call off Packey McFarland's match with Phil Knight at Kansas City on June 18. The Chicago boy and the Leavenworth lightweight were matched originally to meet on Friday at the Empire Athletic club, but Knight hurt his hand in training and asked for a postponement of one week, to which Gilmore consented. On receiving the new articles of agreement Gilmore found the club had cut out the guarantee agreed upon in the first instance and offered only a percentage. This arrangement was not satisfactory, so the Chicagoans rubbed the match off their slate.

Manager Gilmore received a letter from Promoter Coffroth yesterday, suggesting that McFarland meet the winner of the Leach Cross-Dick Hyland bout set for June 26 at San Francisco. Gilmore is willing to make the match if satisfactory terms are offered and has written to that effect. Coffroth also stated there was some chance of getting Battling Nelson to meet McFarland on Sept. 9.

In a recent meeting with Barney Lichtenstein, manager of "Cyclone Johnny" Thompson, Gilmore made tentative arrangements for a meeting between McFarland and the Sycamore fighter. If this match is consummated it may be fought at Pittsburg, Philadelphia, or New York.

Champion Bat Nelson has decided to take another little crack at the easy money route and will match with Ad Wolgast for a ten round bout at Los Angeles on July 13. For landing his distinguished name to the enterprise, the Dane, according to coast reports, will receive $5,500 for his end, win, lose, or draw.

DRIVERS CHOSEN FOR AUTO RACES.

Daredevils Named for Cobe Cup and Indiana Trophy Event.

DUNNELL TO GUIDE FORD.

Cyclist of "Wheel of Death" Fame Will Pilot Car in Big Speeding Contest.

Every driver for both road races of the Chicago Automobile club, set for June 18 and 19 over the Crown Point-Lowell course, has been named, the list being completed yesterday when Apperson, Corbin, Stoddard, Fal car, and Ford filled in the gaps in the entry list.

The new nominations assure the competition of several noted drivers, among them being Joe Seymour, named to drive the second Apperson Jack Rabbit. The addition of Seymour gives the Appersons two strong drivers, Herbert Lytle, the other pilot, being regarded as one of the greatest American stars.

Announcement was made by the Bird-Sykes company that the Corbin, already one of the favorites in the Indiana trophy, will be driven by Alvin J. Maisonville, from the factory at New Britain, Conn. This is to be Maisonville's first experience at long distance work, but he has established a good reputation as a driver in hill climbs and reliability runs.

The Fal car people have made a change in their drivers and on the two Chicago built cars will be A. H. Pierce and John Ruehl, the latter having been substituted for E. M. Harrison. Ruehl is an old time cyclist and his daring is well known, he having been the principal performer in the motorcycle "whirl of death."

Dunnell will drive the Ford in the Indiana trophy, while it is stated that the two Stoddard-Daytons in the light car race will be driven by Wiseman and Wright. Harry Tuttle was to have been one of the pilots, but during the last week there has been a change of plans.

The Stoddard-Dayton outfit will move to Crown Point tomorrow and take possession of its training camp. It is expected also that Denison and Bourque of the Knox team will arrive. Their cars were shipped direct to Crown Point. Robertson, Florida, Campbell, and Ethridge of the Locomobile team went to Crown Point yesterday and inside of two days it is expected nearly every contesting car and driver will be on the course.

AUTO RACERS AT KANSAS CITY.

Two Fords in New York-Seattle Trip Beat Acme and Shawmut an Hour —Italia in Ditch.

Kansas City, Mo., June 8.—The two Ford automobiles leading in the New York to Seattle race reached here at 5:35 tonight.

An hour later the Acme and Shawmut car arrived.

The Fords were only a few minutes ahead at Glasgow, Mo., but reached the Missouri river ferry first and the other cars were delayed in consequence. The racers will leave early in the morning.

A dispatch received here states that the Italia car, the fifth competitor in the race, is lying on its side near Litchfield, Ill., with a wheel gone. The car's drivers and aids in St. Louis, seeking repair material and consulting with the managers of the race.

CORNELL RE-ENGAGES COOGAN.

Ithacan Man Given Another Three Year Contract to Instruct Students in Art of Baseball.

Ithaca, N. Y., June 8.—[Special.]—Danny Coogan, the coach of the Cornell ball team, has been re-engaged for a term of three years. Coach Coogan has been connected with Cornell for three years. Coogan played baseball with Girard college and the University of Pennsylvania. He later caught for Washington and was a member of a number of minor league teams.

WHEAT ADVANCES IN ACTIVE MARKET

Low Estimate of Crop Conditions in Southwest Revives Movement After Decline.

WORLD'S SUPPLY DROPS.

Bears Hammer Down Corn Prices and Longs Come Out Freely in Oats Deals.

Wheat was active yesterday and substantial gains were scored at the opening following the upturns in other domestic and foreign markets Monday. Profit taking prior to the government report was heavy and prices sagged off sharply, only to recover nearly all the loss in the last fifteen minutes. Final prices for the day were ¼@1c higher than on Saturday. Unfavorable weather reports from abroad, the strong cables, and a scarcity of offerings early were the cause of the initial bulge, while the lowering of the winter wheat condition to 80.7 by the government reporters was responsible for the late rally. December and September were relatively stronger than the July. Bartlett-Patten were heavy sellers of the July during the greater part of the session. Lake, Marfield, Armour, and Hulburd-Warren-Chandler bought. Logan-Bryan sold September.

Trade of Nervous Character.

The trade was nervous throughout the session, fluctuation changing rapidly. The majority of traders were expecting a more bearish government report and covered promptly when the official figures were posted. While the winter wheat condition was lowered to 80.7, compared to 83.5 last month and 86 a year ago, the spring wheat condition was placed at 95.2 on an acreage of 18,391,000 acres, offsetting in a large measure the bullish winter wheat estimate. The yield of winter wheat was estimated at 389,000,000 bu and of spring 302,000,000 bu, making a total yield indicated of 691,000,000 bu, compared to a final yield at harvest last year of 664,000,000 bu. Traders had little time to digest the report before the close and paid more attention to the winter wheat condition than to the spring wheat figures.

Foreign Marts Are Higher.

Liverpool closed 1@1¼d higher than Saturday and there were gains of ⅝c at Antwerp, 3⅜c at Budapest, 1⅜c at Buenos Aires, and 1⅝c at Berlin. Paris was unchanged to 2⅜c up. Foreign markets were affected by the bullish drought reports from Argentina and unfavorable conditions on the continent. In this country weather conditions on the whole were not regarded as unfavorable, although some sections in the northwest are getting too much rain. Hot, forcing weather prevails in the southwest, and many reports indicated harvest would be earlier than expected, some points in Missouri asking for bids for shipment next week. Generally harvest will be from one to two weeks late. Receipts here were small at 8 cars, with 4 cars promised for today. Primary points had 436,000 bu for two days, compared to 331,000 bu for one day a year ago.

Corn Mart Has Heavy Tone.

Corn was heavy and closed ⅜@½c lower for the July and about ½c up for the deferred months. Opening prices were higher all around, but favorable weather reports a slump in the cash market, liberal receipts, and lack of outside support gave the bears an opportunity to again hammer prices. Receipts were 313 cars, with 601 estimated for today. The visible increased 42,000 bu, and the total now stands at 2,883,000 bu. Primary arrivals for two days at 1,283,000 bu, compared to 637,000 bu for one day a year ago. World's shipments were 4,876,000 bu, against 4,095,000 bu a year ago. Liverpool closed ⅛d off to ⅛d up. The cash market was heavy and ¼@¾c lower, with sales of 185,000 bu.

Oats Longs Take Profits.

Long oats came out freely all day prior to the government report, and prices were under pressure throughout the session. Outside support was light, and resting figures were ⅝c lower for July, ⅛c off for September, and ⅛c higher for December, and unchanged for May. The government report showed a condition of 88.7 on an acreage of 32,422,000 acres, indicating a crop of 1,036,000,000 bu, compared to a final yield last year of 807,000,000 bu. Crop advices were generally favorable. Receipts here were 175 cars, with 261 cars promised for today. Primary arrivals were 916,000 bu for two days, compared to 405,000 bu for one day last year. Cash prices were ¼@1c lower, and cash sales 130,000 bu.

Quiet Trade in Rye.

Rye was quiet and unchanged. July closed nominally at 83c and September 82c. No. 2 was quoted at 88@90c; No. 3, 84@86c, and No. 4, 79@83c. Receipts were 6 cars.

Barley was in good request and prices were unchanged to ½c higher. The government report shows an increase of 235,000 acres in acreage and makes the condition June 1 90.6. Malting was quoted 79½@81½c; mixing, 78½@80c, and screenings, 70@80c. Receipts were 41 cars.

Flaxseed advanced ½c. No. 1 northwestern closed at $1.69; No. 1 from the northwest, $1.67½, and No. 1 southwestern, $1.59. Receipts none.

Timothy seed was unchanged. September closed at $3.90 bid and $4.00 asked; country lots, $2.75@3.80.

Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary said: "United kingdom, France—Crop prospects are favorable. Germany—The weather continues dry and rain is badly wanted. The growth is backward. This country has commenced to buy foreign wheat, as stocks are practically nil. Russia—In the southeast and east the outlook is favorable, but holders are firm. In southwest the weather is too dry and rain is wanted. Roumania—Beneficial rains have fallen and more is expected. Supplies are small. Bulgaria, Turkey—Drought continues in parts. Hungary—The recent rains affected only a small improvement and more is wanted. Italy, North Africa, Spain, Portugal—The outlook for the crop is good. Australia—Further rains have fallen, which is beneficial for seeding and also for the growing crop. Argentina—Drought continues and rain is badly needed. Under these conditions the outlook for the wheat crop will soon become serious."

The demand for cash wheat was less active yesterday and sales were small. The leading holders reported a fair inquiry. Wires from Philadelphia said that No. 2 red winter was offered freely there at much less than it could be shipped from here east. Interior millers bought a few cars of No. 1 northern at Minneapolis at 4½c over the July, but the market was quoted at 3½@4c over for the general run of wheat. Farmers in southeast Missouri were reported to be asking for bids on No. 3 red or better for shipment next week, and said that new wheat would be moving by July 25. Local sales were 20,000 bu.

Reports from Louisiana indicate that state is destined to become a factor in the corn situation. A large crop is expected to be raised this year. Corn makes wonderful growth on the river bottom lands. A letter recently received said that corn planted about the 1st of April had made a growth of eight feet.

Two private Argentine cables were received yesterday. One to Slaughter from Rosario said the drought continued. Bartlett-Patten also had a cable from their Rasario correspondent saying light rains had fallen, but that the weather was cold and frosty.

Decrease during May, 20,149,000 bu, compared with a decrease of 33,741,000 bu during April and a decrease of 34,407,000 bu during May, 1908.

Winnipeg receipts of wheat were 62 cars, compared with 69 cars a week ago and 123 cars the corresponding day a year ago.

The directors yesterday elected David Davies, Arthur P. Ganong, and Edward J. Legge to membership on the board of trade.

Estimated receipts are: Wheat, 4 cars; corn, 601 cars; oats, 261 cars; rye, 4 cars; barley, 90 cars; hogs, 25,000.

Minneapolis stocks of wheat decreased 400,000 bu for three days.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CATTLE.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Light supplies failed to stimulate the demand for beef steers, and the trade continued in a rut, with prices tending steadily downward. Local packers had no urgent orders to fill, and the competition from outside killers was too indifferent to be of any material assistance to salesmen who were trying to check the declining tendency of values. Total receipts were estimated at 2,500 head, consisting largely of common grass fed butcher stock in from nearby feed lots and not wanted by any particular class of buyers. Included in this run were 17 loads of Texas steers, which cleared at from $5.50 to $5.90, and some distillers which topped the market at $6.90.

Dry fed cows and heifers cleared at practically unchanged prices, but butcher stock supplies consisted chiefly of thin grass cows, which were discriminated against by buyers and had to sell at unevenly lower figures, sales being at a level of prices largely 75c@$1.00 lower than prevailed two weeks ago. Calves met with a brisk inquiry and prime vealers cleared at firm to 25c higher figures, sales ranging up to $7.75@8.00. Quotations:

Beef steers, good to prime	$6.25@7.25

Cattle at six western markets, 23,800, against 25,700 a week ago, 16,800 a year ago, and 27,600 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 2,996,000, against 3,117,000 the same period in 1908.

HOGS.

Expecting a continuation of the energetic buying which featured the trade at the finish Monday, salesmen demanded higher prices for all classes of hogs. They were successful in attracting speculators and shippers at an appreciation, but the strength which characterized the early market was of an evanescent nature, and by the time packers were ready to operate prices were largely 5@10c lower than on the preceding day. Receipts were placed at 14,000 head and the quality was inferior. This lack of finish was instrumental in causing a reaction in prices, as it served to eliminate competition from eastern shippers and left salesmen depending on packers to furnish an outlet for their holdings.

During the early activities sales of prime butcher hogs were made at up to $7.82½, which was 2½c higher than the previous record price of the last six years. Packers bought their mixed hogs at from $7.35@7.50, and took prime heavy packing grades at from $7.50@7.70. Shippers paid $7.70@7.82½ for medium to heavy butcher hogs of choice quality and made up droves of prime light hogs at from $7.55@7.65. Quotations:

Bulk of sales	$7.35@7.60
Selected shippers	7.65@7.82½

SHEEP.

Live mutton values were higher than on the preceding day, and, although most of the traders placed the appreciation at 25c, instances of larger gains were not lacking. Stock of a quality which was almost unsalable late last week, found a ready outlet at greatly enhanced values, and, although the general quality of the offerings was far from desirable, a total clearance of the supply was effected at an early hour. Receipts were placed at 12,000 head, but nearly 8,000 of these came direct to packers and were not placed on sale.

Outside butchers paid $9.20@9.35, against $9.00 on Monday, for good handy weight spring lambs, while packers bought clippers at from $7.00@8.25, topping the market at 25c higher than on the preceding day and taking stock which had to sell to feeders a few days ago at the inside figure. Ewes sold at from $5.75@6.25 for good to choice handy weight lots, while 150 lb offerings, the kind that could not be sold last week, cleared at $5.50. Wethers made $6.00@6.50, and a string of 81 lb yearlings cleared at $7.50. Quotations:

Clipped wethers	$5.50@6.50
Clipped yearlings	6.50@7.50

Receipts for June 9 were estimated at 17,000 cattle, 28,000 hogs, and 16,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 18,062 cattle, 36,989 hogs, and 15,150 sheep for Wednesday, June 10, 1908.

STOCKYARDS GOSSIP.

Buyers for Armour & Co. paid up to $7.82½ for prime heavy butcher hogs, topping the market at the highest level of the year, and only 5c lower than the heaviest point reached since 1902. The average price for the day, however, stood at $7.52, or 5c lower than the high average of the year.

Three principal roads reported 609 cars in sight for Wednesday's trade, which traders took to indicate that receipts of cattle would aggregate around 16,000 to 17,000 head. A week ago arrivals were 19,296 head, which proved too much for the trade and started prices on their present downward course.

Prime fat lambs were quoted at $8.50, which was no higher than at the close last week, but there has been no prime stock here so far this week, and quotations for choice stock have remained stationary, while the price of intermediate and common grades have been raised as much as 50@75c. One buyer said he was paying close to $1.00 more for stock than on late days last week.

Receipts of hogs for two days showed an increase of only 6,000 over the arrivals for the corresponding days a week ago, while the shipments increased nearly 4,000 for the same time.

Hogs left over unsold from Monday's market were officially counted at 7,615 head.

ON THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Provisions scored further advances yesterday, but late profit taking caused a moderate reaction. The strength was mostly in lard and ribs, which were in demand by commission houses and brokers supposed to be acting for packers. Resting prices were unchanged to 2½c up for pork, 10@15c up for lard, and 7½@10c higher for ribs. Western hog receipts for two days were 168,600, compared to 142,000 a year ago for the same time. Exports for the week were lighter than a year ago of pork, lard, and meats. Receipts here were liberal at 54 cars, with shipments of 327 cars. Western packers were credited with selling on the advance, but the market had a decidedly firm undertone, reflecting the strong cash situation.

Chicago Horse Market.

Local ice and express companies had representatives on the market bidding for suitable horses, and there was a good inquiry for desirable drafters and expressers from eastern traders. This stimulated the competition in the auction and enabled salesmen to sustain values at a slight appreciation over the low level in force last week. Sales of draft horses were made at from $160.00@250.00, most of the prime stallfed offerings clearing at from $225.00@250.00, while the good commercial grades made $180.00@210.00. Expressers sold at from $160.00@200.00, with bulk moving at from $180.00@190.00. Drivers and saddlers cleared at from $150.00@350.00. Receipts were 50 head and the market was in good condition at the prices.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Buyers evinced little interest in outside advices concerning crops and visible supplies, and business in all branches of the wholesale grocery trade continued of moderate volume. Jobbers said that they had never seen retailers so indifferent towards future supplies, and although prices in all departments were rigidly maintained at a firm level the amount of advance business transacted was the smallest in recent years.

Sugar and Coffee.

Futures opened quiet at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points, in sympathy with the French market, which was unchanged to ¼c lower. Business was quiet, and the market showed little feature until near the close, when importers were buyers of the near months, and, finding little or no June offering for sale, bid that position up, the close being steady, net unchanged to 10 points higher. Sales were reported of 10,000 bags, including June at 6.85c, July at 6.50c, September at 6.05c, December at 5.85c, and April at 5.95c.

Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Advances in the price of wide sheetings for immediate delivery and in dress goods for fall, with prospects of further gains in leading lines of domestics, had a stimulating influence on the demand from retailers and led to more general advance buying by jobbers. Business activities in all branches of the cotton goods market were well sustained, and there was a more urgent inquiry for staple prints, laces, embroideries, summer dress goods, silks, and wool and worsted fabrics.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The cotton goods market continues strong. Print cloths advanced during the day to 3 7-16c from 3⅜c and substantial sales were made. The export trade is fair with miscellaneous countries but light with the far east, save with the Red sea ports, where about 2,000 bales of sheetings have been taken. Bleached goods and wide sheetings are advancing. In men's wear it is stated that the spring lines of fine worsteds will be opened at advanced figures.

NEW YORK, June 8.—COTTON—Spot closed quiet, ten points lower; middling uplands, 11.35c; middling gulf, 11.60c; no sales. The market opened steady at a decline of one point to an advance of one point, which was about in line with the cables. During the first few minutes the market sold two or three points above the closing figures of yesterday, but general buying was checked by the favorable weather reports, and after some irregularity the market became weak and unsettled under liquidation and bear pressure. Favorable crop accounts from the southwest were received late in the day and were probably a factor in the decline. Futures opened steady and closed steady. Quotations:

BUCKET SHOP CASE DECIDED.

Six Given Six Months in Jail and Fined $200 and Costs for Using the Mails to Defraud.

CINCINNATI, O., June 8.—Louis W. Foster, John M. Gorman, Walter Campbell, A. C. Baldwin, Edwin Heil, and J. M. Scott were each sentenced to a term of six months in jail and each to pay a fine of $200 and costs by Judge Thompson in the United States District court here this morning for using the United States mails to further schemes to defraud in conducting a bucket-shop.

Attorney Outcalt at once filed a motion for a stay of execution in order to appeal the case to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. In the meantime each of the defendants will be at liberty under $5,000 bond.

The defendants operated the bucketshop known at the O'Dell Brokerage company. William J. O'Dell came to Cincinnati from Savannah, Ga., with $10,000 cash and opened a bucketshop. He soon had branches in all the principal cities and towns in the west and south. When O'Dell died a few years ago he left an estate valued, it is said, at $2,000,000.

The defendants reorganized the O'Dell company with a capital of $250,000, of which only $19,000 was paid in, and the institution was always insolvent in their hands. Yet the gullible public furnished the defendants with more than $1,000,000, it is said, to divide among themselves.

A picture of the late Thomas A. Moran, judge of the Circuit court of Cook county, will be unveiled and dedicated to Cook county next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in the rom of Judge Marcus Kavanagh in the Superior court. It is from the brush of Mrs. Pauline Palmer.

The picture was purchased by subscriptions made by Judge Kavanagh and Attorneys Levy Mayer, John J. Herrick, A. S. Trude, William S. Hynes, John Barton Payne, Adolf Kraus, and the late Frederick S. Winston.

Former Judge John Barton Payne will present the picture to the local judiciary and it will be accepted by Judge Kavanagh.

BIG INDIANA COUNTY "DRY"; SALOONS WILL REMAIN OUT.

Local Option Election in Lagrange Defeat for Liquor Interests—Iowa Rum Men Rejoice.

Lagrange, Ind., June 8.—[Special.]—The official returns from twenty-four of the twenty-five precincts of Lagrange county give the drys a majority of about 200, with the missing precinct likely to be dry by a few votes.

About 70 per cent of the total vote of the county was cast. Some surprise was occasioned through the fact that the wets seemed to have a thorough organization in every precinct in the county, with plenty of money to use, while the drys appeared indifferent, assuming that the county having been without saloons for three years would return a large majority in favor of local option.

Lauds Defeat of Prohibition.

Clinton, Ia., June 8.—[Special.]—The Iowa State Liquor Dealers' association opened a two days' session. President Martin Ingerwersen of Clinton in his address said that though the Prohibitionists and Anti-Saloon league were working to put the legitimate liquor dealer out of business, recent elections in Iowa have proven that the people refuse to be led into the dismal swamp of prohibition.

The president congratulated the members on the defeat of the resubmission bill, the library bill, and the two year limit bill in the Iowa legislature, ascribing the victory to the activity of the legislative committee and their friends. The secretary's report showed there are 726 members of the association.

Want No "Horrible Examples."

Youngstown, O., June 8.—There will be no "horrible examples" in this city tomorrow if the local saloonkeepers can prevent it. The local option election in this county is to be held tomorrow. The "wets" have, they say, learned of a plot to flood the city streets with drunken men for its moral effect upon the voters. Anticipating this design, the saloonkeepers decided to close their places of business tonight and keep them closed until 5 o'clock Thursday morning.

The election to be held in Mahoning county tomorrow is the most important local option election to be held in Ohio since the beginning of the "dry" campaign a year ago.

TRESTLE FALLS WITH ENGINE, RESULT OF SWITCHING ERROR.

Two Men Severely Scalded and Thrown Into River Under Heaps of Coal at Blue Island.

Through an error on the part of a railroad employé a locomotive attached to a freight train of the Indiana Harbor Belt railroad was plunged into the Calumet river by the collapse of a trestle at Blue Island early yesterday morning. Fred Turner, fireman, and Andrew Brown, engineer, were seriously injured. The Blue Island police began an investigation to fix the responsibility.

The trestle was undergoing repairs, and the accident was caused by the failure of an employé to throw a switch which would direct the train over the adjoining trestle. The moment the locomotive's weight struck the abandoned trestle it collapsed.

Turner and Brown were partly buried under coal from the engine tender, and were severely scalded by steam. They were taken to St. Francis hospital.

SHERIFF IN SUPREME COURT.

Strassheim Explains Failure to Take Abner Smith to Joliet as Ordered by Mandate in April.

Sheriff Strassheim appeared before the Supreme court in Springfield and filed his answer yesterday in the citation to show why he should not be held in contempt for failure to take Abner Smith, president of the wrecked Bank of North America of Chicago, to the penitentiary at Joliet.

The sheriff said he considered the requests of the board of pardons and Gov. Deneen that he leave Smith at liberty pending action on his appeal as a reprieve.

He also set up the point of law that if he was in contempt of court it was in the Criminal court of Cook county and not the Supreme court. Francis W. Walker appeared as his lawyer. The Supreme court took the matter under advisement.

Smith is reprieved by an order issued after the Supreme court had cited Strassheim to appear before it until June 14. Before that time the governor and the board of pardons will reach its decision, but it is not likely to be announced until close to the expiration of the reprieve.

ALLEGED FAKE DOCTOR CAUGHT

Prisoner, Police Assert, Collected $3 Fee from Woman Whose Child Is Ill with Measles.

Edward Uinoe, 24 years old, 323 West Fourteenth street, who is charged by the police with having obtained money from foreigners on the northwest side by representing himself to be a physician, is a prisoner in the Rawson street police station.

He was arrested yesterday after Mrs. Anna Dornecka, 746 Dickinson street, had complained that she had been induced to pay him $3. The police says Uinoe made a practice of entering homes where he saw measles signs posted.

Uinoe, it is charged, told the woman that he was a physician and that he had been sent by the health department to examine the child.

Mrs. Dornecka says Uinoe collected a fee of $3.

BOY ARRESTED AS A WRECKER.

Indiana Lad Says He Tried to Ditch Grand Trunk Train for Revenge.

William Osborne, 16 years old, was arrested by detectives of the Grand Trunk railroad yesterday charged with attempting to wreck a fast passenger train two months ago. The boy was arrested while working on a farm near Lottaville, Ind., and was taken to Valparaiso. About two months ago a heavy tie which had been dragged across the tracks near Griffith was discovered by the engineer of an extra freight train running ahead of the Grand Trunk fast passenger train. The boy told the detectives that he tried to "get even" with the railroad company for burning two haystacks belonging to his father, James Osborne, a farmer living near Griffith, Ind.

VAN VLISSINGEN VICTIM SUES.

Emma Schumann, Purchaser of Forged Mortgages, Demands Damages from Rosenfeld, Rosenberg, and Others.

Maurice Rosenfeld, Bernhard Rosenberg, and their relatives were made defendants yesterday in another suit for damages based on the disclosures made by the convicted forger, Peter Van Vlissingen. The plaintiff is Emma Schumann, who asks $5,000 damages. Her lawyers say she purchased forged mortgages from Van Vlissingen after Rosenfeld and Rosenberg became aware of the forgeries.

BUREAU REPORTS CROPS BOUNTIFUL

Government Statistics for June Indicate Increases in All but Winter Wheat.

STILL ABOVE AVERAGE.

Estimates for Oats, Rye, and Barley Promise a Heavier Yield than a Year Ago.

Bountiful crops of the leading cereals are promised this year, if the conditions reported by the bureau of statistics at Washington in the regular June crop summary issued yesterday are maintained until harvest. The only bullish showing was in regard to winter wheat, in which there has been a lowering of condition since May, the reports on spring wheat, oats, rye, and barley giving promise of larger yields than a year ago.

In the grain trade the lower condition of winter wheat, which was estimated at 80.7, compared to 83.5 a month ago, and 86 a year ago, was the main consideration, and wheat values on the board rallied sharply after the official figures were posted at 1 o'clock, the time before the close of 'change being too short to permit of a thorough analysis.

The June report indicates a crop of approximately 389,000,000 bushels of winter wheat as compared with a promise of 403,000,000 bushels a month ago, and a final yield last year of 438,000,000 bushels. Unfavorable conditions in Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas and the Pacific coast states in the last month more than offset the improvement noted in conditions east of the Mississippi. The loss in condition in the Kansas crop was estimated at 12 points, due to the drought and hot winds.

Winter Wheat Over Acreage.

While the condition given of winter wheat was considered low, it is still a shade higher than the average for ten years. Since the June figures were made up, moreover, it is claimed there has been material improvement in the general crop promise. On the other hand, some of the leading crop experts maintain that the government is too high on its acreage, considerable of which has been plowed up since May 1.

Heavy Spring Wheat Gain.

A spring wheat crop of 301,000,000 bushels is indicated by the June figures, compared to an indicated yield last June of 286,000,000 bushels and a final crop of 226,000,000 bushels. The heavy indicated yield of spring wheat brings the total wheat yield estimated up to 691,000,000 bushels, compared to a final harvest in 1908 of 664,000,000 bushels.

The area sown to spring wheat was estimated at 18,391,000 acres, or 1,183,000 acres more than a year ago. The condition was estimated at 95.2, compared to 95 a year ago and 92.6, the June 1 average for ten years. Details for the important spring wheat states follow:

The condition of oats, which was reported at 88.7, was not so high as had been looked for by the trade, comparing with 92.9 a year ago. The oats acreage was estimated at 32,422,000 acres, or 78,000 acres more than the revised area last year, and the suggested crop is 1,036,000,000 bushels, compared to an indicated yield last June of 1,058,000,000 bushels. The final yield in 1908 was 807,000,000 bushels, the crop suffering severe damage between June 1 and harvest time.

Nearly all of the leading barley raising states, especially those in the northwest, showed substantial increases in acreage. The condition was placed at 90.6, compared to 89.7 a year ago and 90.6, the ten year average for June 1, and indicating a crop of 198,860,000 bushels, or about 32,000,000 bushels more than a year ago.

A rye crop of 30,960,000 bushels is estimated, compared to a final yield last year of 31,851,000 bushels. The condition was estimated at 89.6, compared to 91.8 a year ago. The condition of meadow hay was placed at 87.6, compared to 96.8 a year ago. The general average of pastures was estimated at 89.3, compared to 80.1 on May 1 and 97.7 a year ago.

THREE FACTORS IN TRADING

Southern Pacific Plan, Crop Report, and Bond Sale Felt.

ALL EXPECTED, HOWEVER.

Money Conditions in Wall Street Are Practically Unchanged.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—[Special.]—The stock market today was engaged in an effort to determine in advance the probable effects of at least three developments which it was known would come too late in the day for actual appraisement, and its efforts were not altogether successful. The announcement of the calling of the Southern Pacific preferred stock, the government's report on crop conditions, and the outcome of the offering of $40,000,000 of New York City 4 per cent bonds were expected.

When the Southern Pacific directors went into session in the morning Southern Pacific stocks, both common and preferred, began to advance, and by the time the road's board met again in the afternoon for final determination of various points in the proposed plan for retirement of the preferred the common had scored a maximum gain of nearly 5 points and the preferred of fully 5 points.

Plan Already Foreshadowed.

The plan itself already had been foreshadowed, and the only novelty was the offer of 4½ per cent bonds to preferred stockholders with a cash bonus as an alternative to the acceptance of 115 or conversion into common shares.

Union Pacific rose sympathetically, but the full effects of the announcement upon the securities concerned were perhaps not felt, since the announcement itself was made just as the gong was sounding for the closing of business. In the same way the government's report on crops and the announcement of bids for the city's bond offering were followed so quickly by the closing of the market as to render sober action upon them on the stock exchange practically impossible. It is doubtful, however, if the low price at which the bonds appear to have been sold, under 101, has any effect whatever, since the state of affairs with the city's finances has been a matter of common knowledge in the financial district, where no expectation of any rush for today's offerings was entertained.

Money Conditions Unchanged.

Money market conditions at home are unchanged, but abroad Paris checks on London advanced sharply; money was harder; the Bank of England bought gold freely, and exchange markets moved away from the gold export point. On a special transaction $250,000 gold was engaged for Argentine.

Money on call, easy, 1¾@2 per cent; ruling rate, 1¾, closing bid 1¾; offered at 2. Time loans, firm and quiet; 60 days, 2¼@2½ per cent; 90 days, 2½@2¾ per cent; 6 months, 3¼@3½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 3½@4 per cent. Sterling exchange, steady with actual business in bankers' bills at 485.70@485.80 for 60 day bills and at 487.70 for demand. Commercial bills, 485⅜@485⅝. Bar silver, 52⅜c. Mexican dollars, 44c. Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, irregular.

IN THE FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, June 8.—Money was in strong demand on the market today for settlement purposes, and discounts were firm. On the stock exchange another huge settlement has commenced in mines, in which the rates are stiff. New business in this department is restricted and prices were easy, with the exception of Chartereds, which were a feature at 38s. Consols and gilt edged securities were firm, but copper shares dropped with the metal and New York selling. Foreigners were quiet and irregular. American securities opened nominally within a fraction of parity. Later Southern Pacific and Canadian Pacific advanced, but the rest of the list eased off, and at noon the tone was uncertain, with prices ½ higher to ⅜ lower than yesterday's New York closing. Dullness prevailed in this section until the receipt of the Wall street opening, when fair buying raised values, especially of Southern Pacific, and the market closed firm. Baltimore and Ohio was a feature on reports that it would be introduced for quotation on the Paris bourse.

IN THE WORLD OF FINANCE

S. P. to Retire Preferred Stock with Big Bond Issue.

MARKET'S FAVOR ON PLAN.

State Bank of Chicago Stockholders Increase Capital.

One of the bull points in connection with the advance in the securities market became a fact yesterday when directors of the Southern Pacific voted to retire the $74,866,463 of preferred stock of the Southern Pacific company at $115 a share. To effect this the directors also authorized an issue of $100,000,000 of bonds.

The probable retirement of Southern Pacific preferred has been under consideration at times for more than two years. The present market for bonds and the upswing in the general securities list have proved to be so favorable in the minds of the directors that final action has been taken.

Southern Pacific preferred pays 7 per cent. The retirement of the issue with 4½ per cent bonds or the other alternative presented will put the common shares in a more favorable market position.

Announcement of Terms.

After the meeting of the board the following official announcement was made:

"The board of directors of the Southern Pacific company today called for the redemption of the preferred stock of the company at $115 per share on July 15, 1909. At the same time the board authorized an issue of not exceeding $100,000,000 4½ per cent 20 year gold bonds or debentures redeemable after 3 years at 105 and provided that any holder of preferred stock so desiring, shall be entitled to exchange this stock for such 4½ per cent bonds dollar for dollar and receive in addition $20 in cash for each share of stock so exchanged.

"Thus the holders of such preferred stock now and until and including July 15 will have three options:

"1, to exchange such stock for a like amount of said 4½ per cent bonds and $20 per share in cash.

"2, to convert such stock into the common stock of the company dollar for dollar.

"3, to surrender the said stock on July 15 and receive $115 per share therefore.

"A semi-annual dividend of $3.50 per share upon the preferred stock heretofore declared will be payable on July 15 to holders of such preferred stock of record as such June 30 and a quarterly dividend on common stock of $1.50 per share will be payable on July 1 to the holders of the dividend warrants appertaining to the common stock.

Adjustment of Dividends.

"To guard against the loss of the difference in dividends by those desiring to convert their stock prior to July 1, when both classes will be exdividend, the directors have provided that holders of preferred stock converting the same now and leaving an order will on July 15 be paid the difference in dividends amounting to $2 per share.

"Pending the engraving of the 4½ per cent bonds temporary certificates for such bonds will be issued to those desiring to avail of the privilege to exchange their preferred stock for bonds and cash. Bonds will be of the denomination of $1,000 and to effect exchange stock must be tendered in lots of 10 shares or multiples thereof."

The Union Pacific railroad, through control of the Oregon Short Line, owns $34,200,000 of Southern Pacific preferred.

Countiss Heads Stock Exchange.

Members of the Chicago stock exchange at their annual election during the day chose unanimously Fred D. Countiss to be president of the institution for the next year. The full list of officers and members of committees elected follows:

President—Fred D. Countiss.

Treasurer—David R. Forgan.

Governing committee (to serve three years)—William Coffeen, Theodore E. Cunningham, Samuel R. Jewett, Charles H. Schweppe, Henry D. Sturtevant, Frank W. Thomas.

Nominating committee (to serve one year)—Walter B. Smith, chairman; Edward S. Adams, Albert G. Lester, Henry Wise, Charles D. Townsend.

Mr. Countiss, the new president, has been one of the most active workers for the exchange. His administration is expected to be in harmony with his past efforts, and it is expected his incumbency of the office will see an enlargement of the activity and usefulness of the exchange.

State Bank Increases Capital.

Stockholders of the State Bank of Chicago at a special meeting in the afternoon voted to increase the capital stock from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. The additional $500,000 is to be sold to shareholders at par, to stock of record July 1. The shares must be paid for on or before July 8, when the new stock will be issued, giving the bank $1,500,000 capital and $1,500,000 surplus and undivided profits.

Bids were made at the bank during the day for the stock at $406 a share. Inasmuch as the shareholders get the new issue at $100 a share the juiciness of the "melon" can be readily figured.

The new stock issue is in accordance with the plans of the late President Helge A. Haugan.

Boston Banks Selling Bonds.

Announcement comes from Boston to the effect that during the last few weeks there has been a noticeable selling of bonds by national banks and trust companies. The present unloading is taken to reflect the disposition to take profits and to be ahead of the time when a general selling movement on the part of banks shall set in.

Consolidated Gas Dividend.

The Consolidated Gas company will pay a quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on June 15, the rate of payment which has obtained since June, 1906. The 80c gas rate has not been tested sufficiently long to form a fair comparison of earning under the new and old tariff, but an official of the company points out that it will require a great increase of consumption to make good the loss entailed by 20 per cent reduction in price.

ACQUIRES SITE FOR HOTEL

Mrs. R. Curran Plans $300,000 Building on South Side.

PURCHASES NEWSBOYS' HOME

Board of Trade Man Pays $100 Foot More Than Recent Buyer.

The construction of a large, high grade family hotel at the northwest corner of Grand boulevard and Fifty-first street, overlooking Washington park, is involved in the long term lease of a large plot of ground at that point closed yesterday. Jay Hubbard of Mankato, Minn., and Mrs. Henrietta N. Lausten of Chicago have leased through Willis & Frankenstein to Mrs. Isabella F. Curran, wife of Richard Curran, the builder, a plot fronting 300 feet on Grand boulevard and 150 feet on Fifty-first street. The lease is for ninety-nine years from June 1 at an annual rental of $5,000. This is 5 per cent on a valuatiton of $100,000, which is at the rate of $333 a front foot for the boulevard frontage. The lease contains an option of purchase within three years at $95,000.

The corner 150 feet is improved with a one story store building, and, while Mr. Curran has not completed his plans for the hotel building, it is expected to cost from $300,000 to $400,000.

Newsboys' Home Sold Again.

The Newsboys' home property at 1418 Wabash avenue, which was the subject of transfer about three weeks ago by Oliver & Co., has been sold again by that firm, and the transaction serves to indicate how values are advancing along that street. The property, which has a frontage of 29½ feet and a depth of 145 feet, with three story brick dwelling, was sold first at the rate of $1,000 a front foot. It has been sold to James Fitzhugh Taylor, a board of trade man, for $1,100 a foot, an advance of about $3,000 over the previous sale.

Oliver & Co. have just sold to Herbert E. Bucklen 1240-1244 Wabash at the rate of $1,200 a front foot for the 73x145 feet. The lot was purchased less than a month ago by a client of Oliver & Co. for $1,000 a front foot, his profit being $14,600.

Corner Added to Plant.

The Chicago House Wrecking company has purchased from the Chicago City railway company the northeast corner of Forty-ninth street and Oakley avenue, 548x265 feet, the consideration being withheld. The property is improved with a building formerly used as a power house by the railroad. The purchasing company probably will use the property for an addition to its plant at Thirty-fifth and Iron streets.

William J. Fortune has purchased from Frank P. Keough the property in West Adams street, 166 feet west of Jefferson street, 53x189 feet, with business improvements, and other property in Cicero for $35,000.

Record was made of the recent acquirement by Grace Laflin Whitehead of minor interests in 207-209 Randolph street, 40x180 feet, for $62,399, giving her control of the property, which was valued by the board of review at $110,020.

The Chicago Real Estate board will have its "house warming," incident to its removal to its new quarters at 118 Dearborn street on Monday at 12 o'clock. Beside the luncheon which is to be served, a unique program has been provided. The house warming committee consists of E. A. Cummings, William A. Bond, George Birkhoff, Jr., W. W. Baird and John H. Trumbull. The announcement being sent out to members is creating much amusement, because of pictures of the former presidents.

LEAVE TO URGE COAST RATES

Hill and Harriman Men to Attend Washington Hearing.

SHIPPERS FIGHT SCHEDULE.

St. Paul Road Begins Today to Replace Kinzie Street Bridge.

Executive and traffic officers of the Hill and Harriman railroads left Chicago for Washington yesterday to attend the hearing set for today before the interstate commerce commission on the new system of transcontinental freight rates from the eastern and central western territories to the inland Pacific coast commercial centers, which the roads propose to put into effect on July 5. The hearing also will be attended by committees representing the shipping interests of Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma, Salt Lake City, Portland and San Francisco, which are protesting against the proposed rates.

The proposed system provides for a reduction of approximately one-sixth in the rates to western cities, and is based on the principles laid down by the commission in the Spokane case. The commission has declined to approve the plans of the carriers without giving the shippers an opportunity to present their objections.

Chicago Shippers Keep Out.

The Chicago shippers are taking no part in the fight, because more of the rates are made to "break" at Chicago than formerly; that is, on commodities produced in this territory, the rates are made lower than from the east.

Spokane jobbers are protesting because the rates are still based on the water competitive conditions at the Pacific coast, which give the terminal cities a big advantage. The coast cities, like Seattle and San Francisco, are complaining because much of their former advantage is removed.

Razes Kinzie Street Bridge.

The engineering department of the Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul railway will begin today the work of tearing down its present Kinzie street bridge over the Chicago river, which is to be replaced with a new and much heavier steel structure costing about $60,000. This will allow the required 100 feet clear channel in the river.

Traffic will be suspended for about two weeks. In the meantime the few trains on the company's Evanston division to Dunning, Sheridan Park, and Cragin will leave from Illinois street instead of the Union station.

The St. Paul will use a "bobtail" swing bridge, having an outer arm 196½ feet long and an inner arm 89½ feet in length. The inner side will be balanced by a counterweight containing 845,000 cubic feet of concrete. The total weight of the bridge will be 2,200,000 pounds, and the length of the span 286 feet. The old bridge will be taken apart piece by piece and marked so that it can be reassembled for use elsewhere.

A circular has been issued by the interstate commerce commission, holding that the practice of one railroad carrying the mails of another without charge must be stopped.

NO CLASH AMONG HISTORIANS.

Cook County Society Will Not Conflict with Chicago Organization, Says J. Seymour Currey.

J. Seymour Currey, president of the Evanston Historical society, who has just organized the Cook County Historical society, said yesterday that his new organization would in no way conflict with the Chicago Historical society, but would coöperate with the old organization in every way.

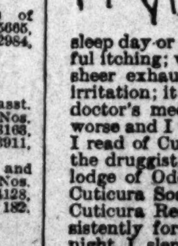
"The old society has done a splendid work, and its officers are aiding us in our effort to make special research into the history of the county. Many of the counties in this state have societies, and the people of the towns and villages take great interest in the work of such societies."

Frank W. Smith, cashier of the Corn Exchange National bank, said that he had at first opposed the idea of a new historical society, but became a director after ascertaining that the purpose of the new society is simply to coöperate and aid the work of the Chicago Historical society.

ECZEMA FROM HEAD TO FOOT

For Six Months his Suffering was Beyond Words—One Mass of Irritation and Itching was Dreadful—Slept Only from Sheer Exhaustion—Almost Out of His Mind—After 24 Hours' Use of Cuticura Slept Like an Infant and Then was

CURED IN ONE MONTH BY CUTICURA REMEDIES



"I am seventy-seven years old and one day, some years ago, I fell from a step-ladder, bruising my heel. In a few days I could not walk. I called in a doctor and inside of a week erysipelas set in. The doctor had not cured me of that when I was taken with eczema from head to foot. I was sick for six months and what I suffered tongue could not tell. I could not sleep day or night because of that dreadful itching; when I did sleep it was from sheer exhaustion. I was one mass of irritation; it was even in my scalp. The doctor's medicine seemed to make me worse and I was almost out of my mind. I read of Cuticura and sent my wife to the druggist, who was a member of my lodge of Odd Fellows, for a set of the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent. I used them persistently for twenty-four hours. That night I slept like an infant, the first solid night's sleep I had had for six months. I was not afraid to use plenty of Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap with hot water and in a week's time I was able to put on my clothes again. In a month I was cured. From that day to this I cannot praise the Cuticura Remedies too highly. I may add that I have a very heavy head of hair which I owe to Cuticura. W. Harrison Smith, R.F.D. 2, Mt. Kisco, N. Y., Feb. 3, '08."

A single set of the Cuticura Remedies is often sufficient for the treatment of the most torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, rashes and irritations, with loss of hair, from infancy to age, when all other remedies fail. Guaranteed absolutely pure and may be used from the hour of birth.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Ointment (50c.), Resolvent (50c.), and Chocolate Coated Pills (25c.), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

DARTS GLANCE FROM FOSTER

Hyde Park Baptist Church Unaffected by Conference's Shafts.

LIKELY TO IGNORE REQUEST.

Sentiment Among Members Favors Retention of the Theologian.

The recommendation of the Baptist ministers' conference that Prof. George B. Foster be dropped from membership in Hyde Park Baptist church will be a wasted effort, according to Dr. T. W. Goodspeed, registrar of the University of Chicago, who is prominent in the Hyde Park church.

"Prof. Foster is highly respected among the members of the church," said Dr. Goodspeed last night. "He is a good man. We don't accept his views, but we're not expelling valuable members on account of the opinions they hold.

"Dr. Foster is a man of exceptional character, and is beloved by his brothers in the church. It will do no good for the ministers' conference to adopt any such resolution, as there is no sentiment in the church favoring complying with the request."

Will Insist on Expulsion.

When the conference meeting opens next Monday morning the Rev. Johnston Myers of Immanuel church will be on hand to offer three resolutions. After reviewing the case he will propose that Prof. Foster be expelled from the Baptist conference; that he be requested to withdraw from the Baptist church; and that he be requested to discontinue preaching as a Baptist minister.

"Of these three resolutions the first is sure to be adopted," said Dr. Myers. "I am confident that all but five of the eighty-one ministers in the organization will vote for Prof. Foster's expulsion. Opposition to him is strong. Had it not been for the technicality in our constitution which provides that every motion not receiving a unanimous vote be held over for one week the resolution would have been adopted with acclaim. It merely needs a two-thirds vote. It is bound to get that. I have no definite promises. I don't need them. It is plain to see what the vote will be.

Considers Him No Baptist.

"The other two resolutions are just as strongly favored. Of course, they can have no practical effect. They are merely recommendations—one to the church to which Prof. Foster belongs and the other to Prof. Foster himself. The point of them all is to have the world understand that the conference considers Prof. Foster no Baptist and denies to him the right to pose as one upon any occasion. By ignoring the Deity of Jesus and declaring God a creation of man, he commits two unpardonable sins against the Baptist church. He may hold to his right to freedom of belief, but he should not call himself a Baptist when he oversteps the bounds of our faith."

Dr. Foster declared that the vote of the Baptists will have no effect on his relation with the Baptist ministry.

REMEMBER, we do nothing but superfluous hair work; that this is my 20th year in business; that I was the first lady to open an office in Chicago, and that I do the work myself, with two expert assistants.
REMEMBER, with our 5 to 10 NEEDLE METHOD only a few hours' time is sufficient to cure any case.
REMEMBER, we guarantee to kill every hair we treat, and should any return we will gladly remove them FREE OF CHARGE and thank you for the privilege of doing so.

To the small investor—the man or woman with a little surplus money—our proposition means a life income that is assured by 74 30-year contracts. Write or call and see me for full detailed particulars, working plans, etc.

BUSINESS PERSONALS.

KNOW THYSELF.
THE KEY TO SUCCESS.

The great questions of life are quickly solved, failure turned to success, sorrow to joy, and want to affluence by possessing and calling into use the power to know one's self.

Every one should ask one's self, is there a force or power within me which I have not properly developed and which I can and should make use of for my own good? This power or knowledge, whether intuitive or acquired, unfolds, reveals, opens, and illumines the path which, if followed, will surely lead its possessor into happiness, success, and full fruition of life's purpose.

REAL ESTATE—FRUIT LANDS.

BITTER ROOT VALLEY.

Would you be interested in buying an irrigated orchard in the famous Bitter Root Valley that will net you from $200 to $1,000 per acre each year, beginning with the fifth year, to say nothing about the rise in values, provided you did not have to bother with looking after the orchard until it began to bear? We will sell you the land, plant same with standard varieties of apples and do all the work of caring for same until the fall of the fifth year after planting, when your orchard begins to bear. After the fifth year we will do the work for 10 per cent of the net profits. You reap the return on your investment without the trouble of looking after it. Every one who has investigated the apple question will tell you that no other class of investment offers so many attractive features or so great a profit on a few thousand dollars. If you want a home, there is no finer place in the United States to live. Climate mild and delightful. Good railroad facilities, schools and churches. Fine hunting and fishing. Every stream full of rainbow trout. There are a thousand and one things you can raise besides fruit. Strawberries, properly cared for, yield $500 per acre. Potatoes, 200 to 600 bushels per acre and net from 75c to $1.50 per cwt. Everything else in proportion.
Our prices and terms are reasonable. Payments may be extended over a term of years. Join our June 15th excursion and see for yourself. We refund fare if you purchase. In the meantime, come in and see us or write for our illustrated booklet.

FOR SALE—
COLORADO FRUIT LANDS.
NUTSHELL ARGUMENTS.
XVIII.

My fruit lands are located on the western slope of Colorado, near Palisade, where developed orchards have sold up to $3,000 and $4,000 an acre, based on their productive returns. I consider my lands capable of just as high development.
The main line of the D. & R. G. Ry. crosses my property and a station will be established on it.
The Grand river flows through my front yard. It is the largest river in Colorado. My water filing has been made and my pump ordered. I shall have water on the lands in July.
The soil is a rich sandy loam, ideal for fruit; and the drainage, slope, and natural protection are all right.
I reside on the property and shall personally supervise its development.
An orchard increases in value about $200 an acre each year while growing, and it should return its cost every year when it comes into bearing.
There are advantages in prompt action.
C. M. PAINE, De Beque, Colo.

CHICAGO LOAN ASSOCIATION [UNINC.] Makes loans on your word of honor, simply requiring that you hold a permanent salaried position. You return the loan in payments to suit your convenience. The rates are the least possible consistent with HONEST METHODS, PRIVATE DEALINGS, LIBERAL EXTENSIONS, and STRAIGHTFORWARD BUSINESS. All this you are guaranteed to receive at

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands or incomes from other sources], who want large or small sums, confidentially, with or without security. My location [30 min. from Loop district] and my being the president of a large manufacturing, wholesale, vehicle establishment [Bradstreet's and other agencies show its standing], and not a professional money lender, assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings, where money lenders congregate. Professional lenders demand high rates, usually asking so much that the average straightforward citizen realizes that an exorbitant interest for any time is burdensome. My average rate, all charges positively included, is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, depending on risk and amount loaned. Individual waiting rooms. Ask for WILLCOXE, care The Englewood Co., 538-540 E. 63d-st., cor. Greenwood-av. Tel. Hyde Park 4333.

CAUGHT PASSING COCAINE IN JAIL.

Visitor Surprised by Guard and Fined $1 and Costs After Hearing.

DRUGS FOUND IN CELL.

Alleged Distributer Refuses to Reveal Source of Supply and Is Shut Up Alone.

A visitor who was caught smuggling cocaine into the county jail was fined $1 and costs yesterday, and in a resulting search of the cells a tobacco pouch of cocaine and twelve papers of morphine were found on a prisoner.

Roy Casey, 22 years old, called in the afternoon to see Frank Bartell, 19 years old, a friend who is serving a light sentence for assault. While they were talking at the visitors' cage Guard John Gay stepped out of sight, but returned unnoticed in time to see Casey slip a brass tube through the grating and blow through it several papers of cocaine.

Taken at Once Into Court.

Gay at once intervened and summoned Jailer Davies, who had Casey arraigned immediately before Municipal Judge Foster.

"I knew Bartell used the dope," said Casey in court, "and I wanted to help him out. We have been friends since we were boys. I never have done such a thing before and I never will do it again."

Jailer Davies said he did not want a heavy fine imposed and the judge let Casey off with a light punishment.

On his return to the jail Davies ordered the guards to search every prisoner.

Drugs Found on Prisoner.

Nothing was found until they reached the cell of Jenkins Parker, a negro, who is accused of killing Thomas Ford, another negro, in a "levee" brawl. The pouch of cocaine and the papers of morphine were taken from his pockets.

It is believed that some one has been smuggling the drugs to Parker and that he has been supplying the other prisoners who are victims of the habit.

When taken to the jailer's office, however, Parker refused to tell when or how he had received the drugs, and he was ordered to another cell in solitary confinement. He will be questioned again today.

FLORAL GIFT A JOKE OR NOT?

Stranger Orders Bouquet Sent to Woman and Pays for It with Worthless $5 Bill.

A swindler or a joker sent a bouquet to "Mrs. Ella Harvel, 739 Forty-third street," yesterday and paid for the flowers with a worthless $5 bill. Harvel is the maiden name of Mrs. Ella Fitzgerald, who lives in the building, but she refused to accept the bouquet.

A stranger entered the store of Aaron W. Morgan, 588 Forty-third street, ordered the bouquet, and told the florist to send it to "Miss Harvel" with change for $5. When a boy arrived at the apartment house a man met him in the hall, took the bouquet, gave him the worthless $5 bill, and received $3.50 in change.
